

FUTURE NURSES

The junior-senior members of the Future Nurses' Club, under the capable leadership of Elaine Pipe, president, and Mrs. Mildred Brown, adviser, has accomplished most of its goals this year.

Three successful food sales were held to raise money for two nursing scholars and to make a contribution to the Jimmy Fund. In May the girls were hostesses at a Tea at which the ladies from the Maria Hayes Home were guests.

Some of the members serve as aides at the Leonard Morse Hospital. Others help assemble Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners for needy families.

Since many of the members of the club enter schools of medicine or therapy as well as nursing schools, the club will be known from now on as the Medical Club of Natick High.

BUSINESS SERVICE CLUB

The Business Service Club, under the direction of Mr. Bayne Drown, has had a very active year. Many of the girls served as secretaries for the department heads, while others acted as clerical assistants to various members of the faculty.

The group participated in field trips earlier in the year and entertained at tea in May for Mrs. Daisy Wildbur Robinson who is retiring. A highlight of the affair was a birthday remembrance and a cake to celebrate this happy occasion.

STAGECRAFT CLUB

The Stagecraft Club is vested with the responsibility of preparing for activities on the stage. The club was started to provide a means for students interested in the workings of the stage to learn how to operate the various pieces of stage equipment. Typical apparatus operated by the members of the club are: the controlboard, amplifiers, spotlights, hoists, and other associated paraphernalia. Members of the club provide the sound, lighting and special effects, plus the scenery, for the musical events, plays, and assemblies. The stage is always busy weeks before plays or musicals while the "technicians" wire and aim lights and microphones. For special effects, tape recorders, record players, and extra speakers are set up.

Besides its stage activities, the club also provides the equipment for dances, athletic events, and civic groups. Club members also maintain the equipment that is used by the club.

Besides offering their talents to the school, Stagecraft Club members gain a great deal of worthwhile experience, and past members of the club have pursued careers in dramatics as a result of experience gained by operating the stage equipment.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

Under the leadership of the club sponsor, Mr. Harry L. Garnett, and the club officers, Arnold Bellefontaine (President), Nancy Gregg (Vice-president), and Nancy Hayes (Secretary), experimental techniques in modern theater were studied. Particular attention was paid to the utilization of multiple playing levels, lighting instead of scenery and sets, the use of sounds to help convey a background mood or heighten an emotion, and effective costuming.

The results of our studies were presented to an enthusiastic student body in the form of scenes from two tragedies.

PEP CLUB

This is the group that does so much to spread the great Natick High spirit and to encourage support of our sports teams. Its services this past year included selling programs at all home football games, running the soft drink concession at basketball games, and selling pins and megaphones to loyal Natick fans.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Leavitt and Barbara Levine the year was one of activity for the group. We are proud to have been able to present a scholarship to a worthy senior girl.

YEARBOOK LITERARY COMMITTEE

Early in December seniors who wished to work on the literary staff for the yearbook signed up in English classes. From the many who volunteered thirty-five were selected. Many of these people worked faithfully and met once a week to complete the individual write-ups.

SASSAMON '64

YEARBOOK TYPING COMMITTEE

Although the committee was small in size, the members worked diligently to keep up with the copy submitted weekly by the literary staff. Mention should also be made of those faithful juniors who gave of their time and talents to assist in typing labels, identifying pictures, and doing the many arduous tasks that go into building a yearbook.

YEARBOOK ART COMMITTEE

The yearbook art committee meeting twice a week, under the experienced direction of Miss Beverly Poulin, literally was in charge of putting the yearbook together.

Six girls including Dianah Gresty, Christine Langlois, Barbara Levine, Cecile Robicheau, Mary Anne Sheehan, and Diane Tassinari, were chosen at the end of the 1963 school year to make up this committee. At this time, the girls attended a yearbook conference at Boston University at which they learned just what it was to create and emass a high school yearbook.

For a single page out of 184 — a design must be created, if pictures are indicated they must be cropped, proportioned and identified. Next, a design for arranging pictures with the proper spacing for type must be obtained. If any art work is to appear, a separate sheet of white paper must be drawn upon with india ink. The exact lay out for each page is constructed on squared layout paper, indicating position, size, and color, f any. Then, the layout paper, the art work sheet, photos and type are sent to the printer.

Much appreciation is felt for Miss Poulin, for her inventive and firm guidance throughout the year in trying to make the 1964 Sassamon the best that it could possibly be.

L-R: C. Langlois, B. Levine, M. Sheeran, C. Robacheau, D. Tessinari.

Because of the untiring efforts of the Yearbook Subscription Committee, the Class of 1964 solicited and sold the greatest number of yearbooks of any previous class to graduate from Natick High School. This was made possible by the large number of dedicated seniors who worked so diligently on the committee visiting homerooms before school and taking time after school to make the returns for the day. Therefore, the committee certainly should be commended for work well done for the Class of 1964.

YEARBOOK SUBSCRIPTION COMMITTEE

The Natick High School Band is both a marching band and a concert band. In the early part of the school year the eighty-two members spent countless hours on Saturday mornings practicing the new formations for the weekly football games.

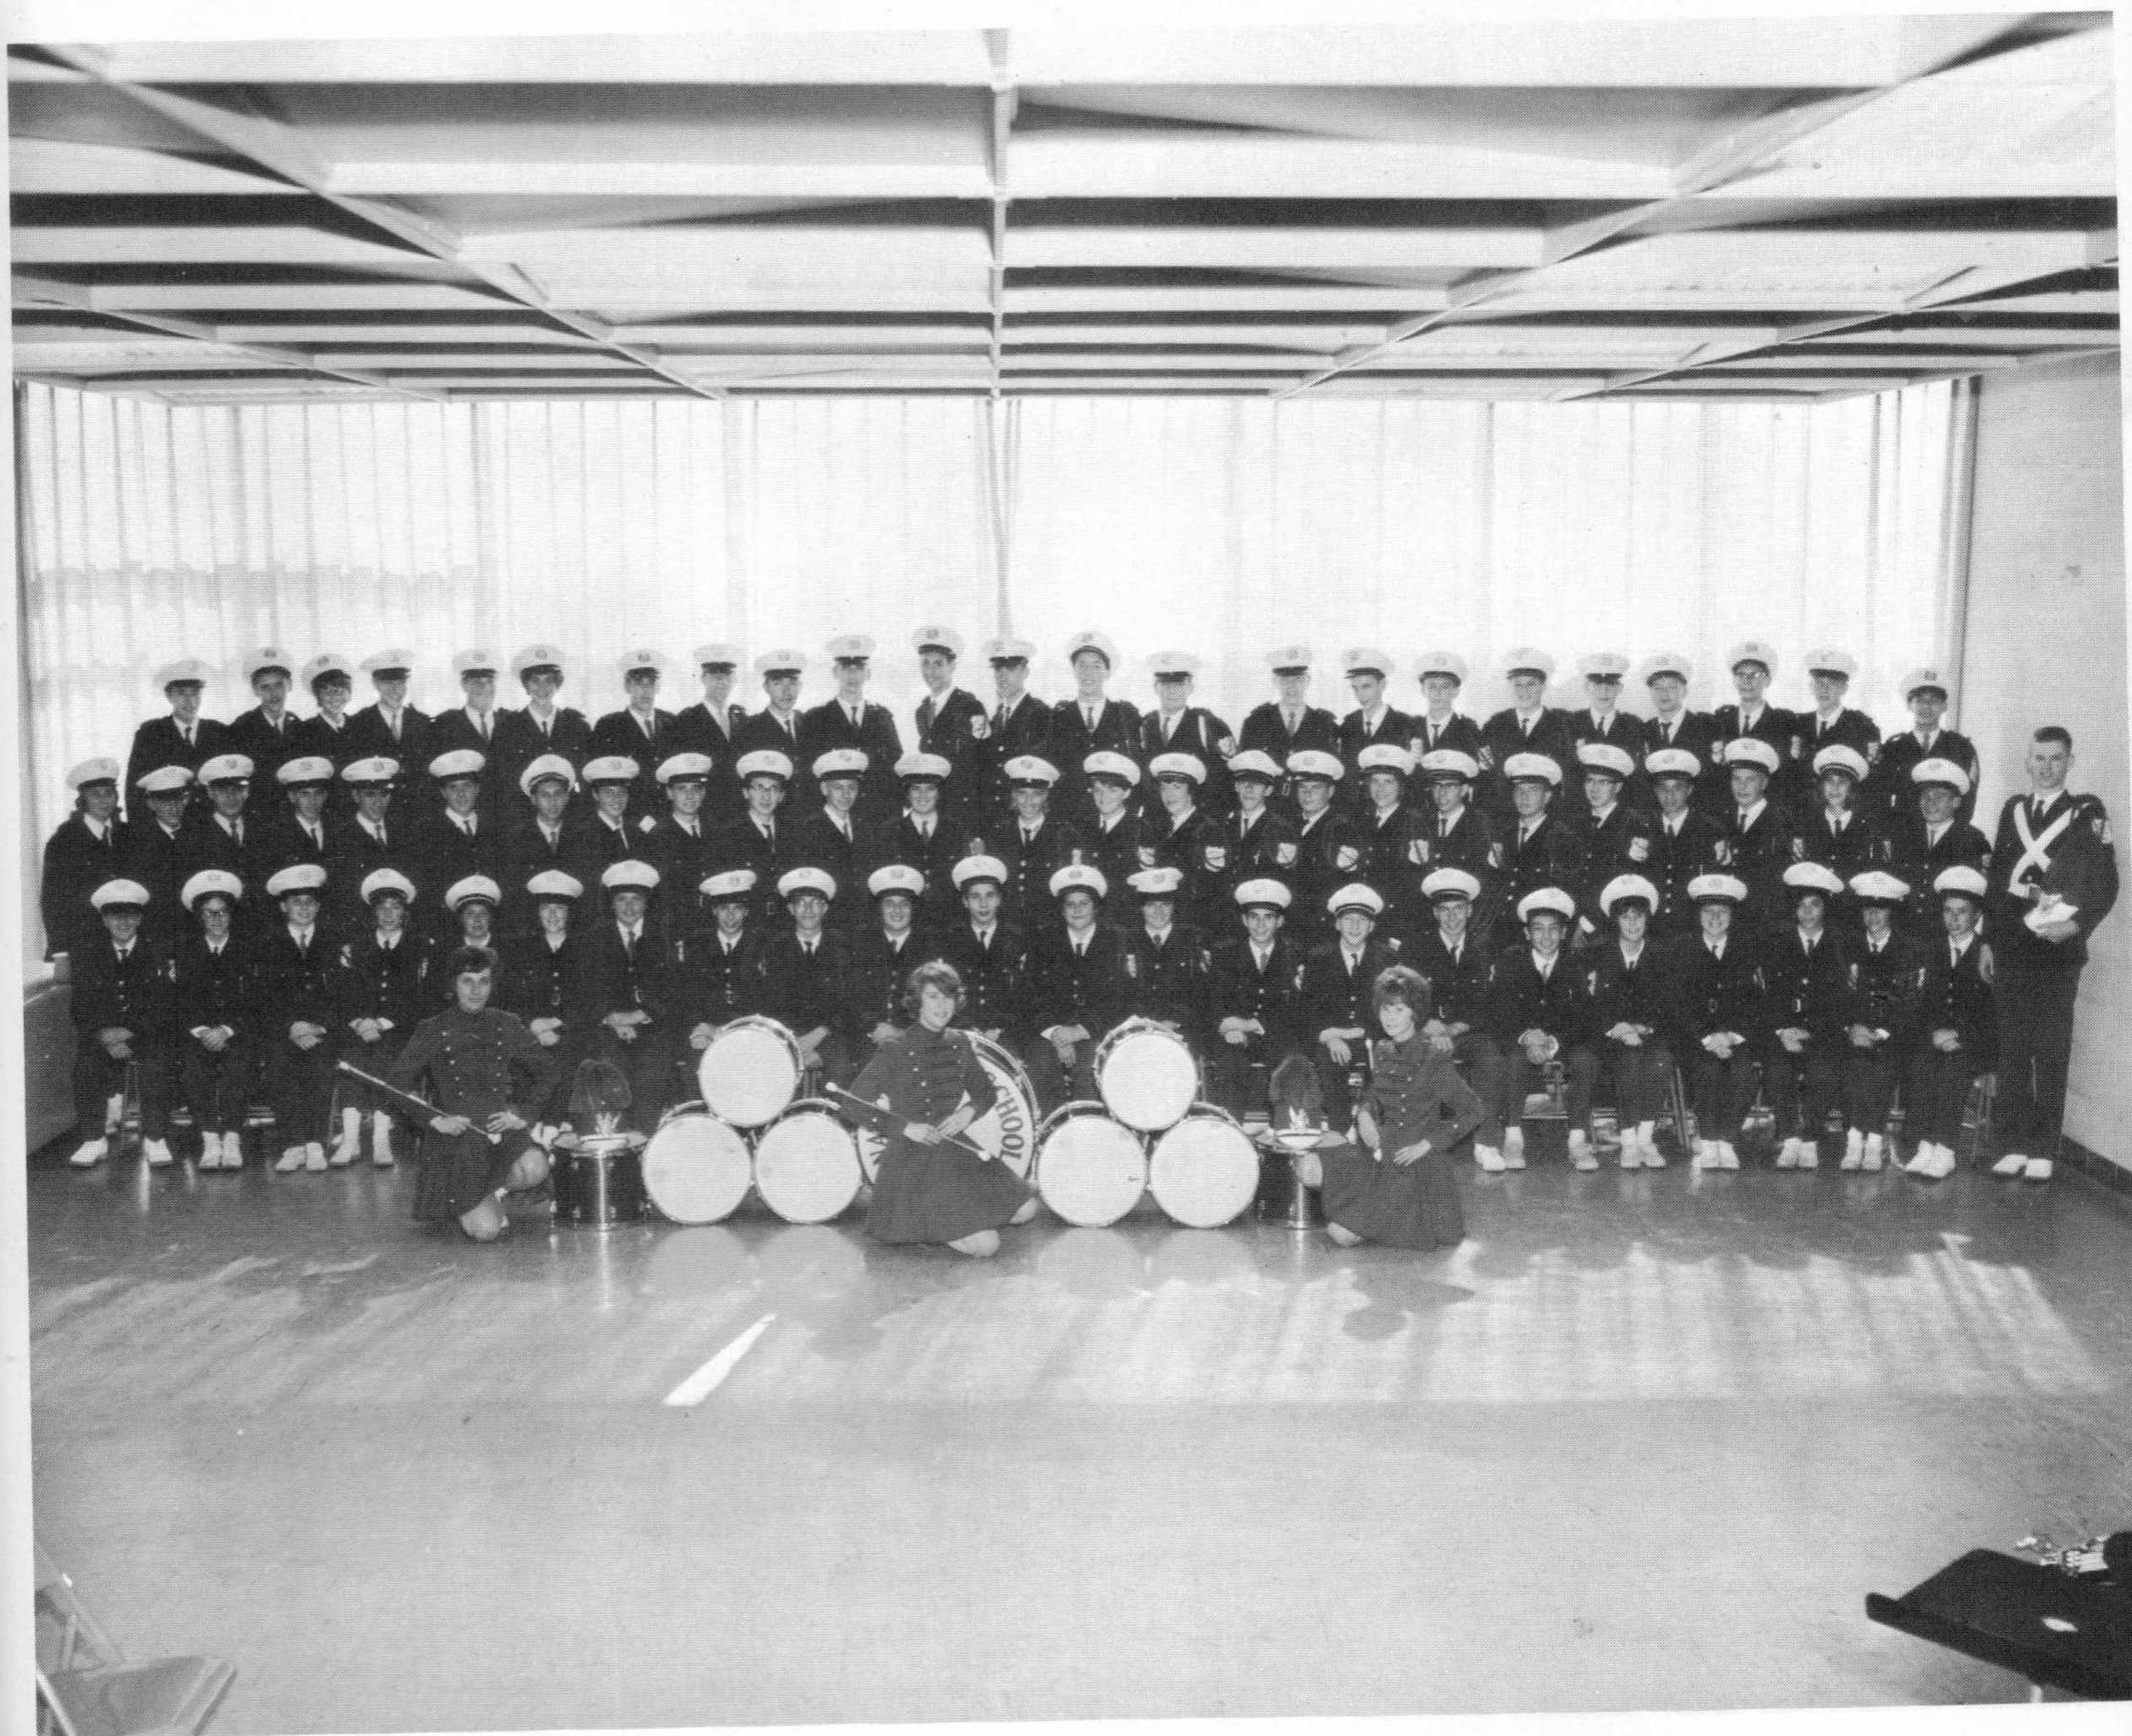

On Friday afternoons the band supported the cheerleaders at the successful football rallies. At the conclusion of the football season the three periods per week devoted to band were employed for the preparation of the music for the Christmas Assembly and the Winter Music Festival.

In February and March the band prepared for two annual concert tours to Coolidge Junior High and Franklin High.

In the spring the graduation music, the Memorial Parade music, the Honor Society Induction music and Class Day Music are diligently practiced by the band members.

The Natick High School Band is an organization which supports the school throughout the entire year in many diverse ways. It teaches the band member discipline and good sportsmanship. It produces good musicians who are willing to donate their time and talent to a worthwhile elective for the benefit of the entire school.

FUTURE TEACHERS' CLUB

The Future Teachers, under the leadership of Laura Hayes, President, and Miss Nancy Bonazzoli, Adviser, had a busy and profitable year. The girls sponsored a Food Sale to raise the money for a scholarship to be awarded at Class Day to a member of their group. They also gave a tea for the mothers in the Faculty Lounge during the month of May.

The purpose of a French Club is to provide a forum for those students who enjoy speaking French. The Cardinal rule of the club levies a fine on those caught speaking English; even officers have not always been known to escape the treasurer's wealth.

The officers are: President, Julie Korenberg; Vice President, Peter Kaufman; Secretary, Mary-Ann Sheehan; and Treasurer, Ellen Fishman.

The possible activities of the club are unlimited, including at times the almost traditional games of French "Scrabble" and "Password", trips to see French plays, French films, but for the most part eating French food . . . and for the more venturesome, performing a French Love Play. These activities vary from year to year as do the imaginations of its members.

This year the A Cappella Chorus appeared at many of the assemblies and other school functions. A varied program was presented to an enthusiastic audience at Christmas time. In February a delightful Music Festival and music assembly kept the members busy.

Early in March the group travelled to Franklin High School for an exchange program. Another appearance at the Transfer of Flag ceremonies in May and participation at the Class Day and Graduation exercises wound up a very full year. Mr. Bachini is to be congratulated.

The 1963-64 school year was a busy and profitable one for the Natick Chapter of the National Honor Society. The year opened with twenty-seven members who had been inducted in the spring of 1963. The election of officers was held with the following result: President, Philip Stevenson; Vice-president, Susan Kaufman; Secretary, Katherine Coolidge. The year ended with a total membership of forty-three seniors.

The annual Honor Society Tea was held in December in the Faculty Lounge. Under the chairmanship of Susan Kaufman the affair went off smoothly.

On February 1, 1964, the Natick Chapter was host of a convention of the Eastern Massachusetts Association of the National Honor Society Chapters. Through the efforts of the general chairman Linda Martin, our advisor, Miss Aurora Perez, and the entire chapter, this organizational conference was very successful and will hopefully be followed by many like it.

Members of the Natick Chapter performed three induction ceremonies in 1964: Westwood High School in January; Framingham South in March; and our own induction in April. At the Natick ceremony forty juniors were admitted to membership, providing a solid nucleus for next year's chapter.

ATHLETICS

The attractive 1963-64 squad, capably led by Barbara McEvoy, will be remembered for the support they gave the football, basketball and hockey teams as well as our champion track team.

Winning first place in the Bay State League Cheerleading Competition held at Brandeis University brought Natick High another coveted championship.

Early in May of 1963 the girls began their strenuous daily workouts. Practices continued throughout the summer and appearances at the first rally proved them hard working and enthusiastic. Only with the support of the entire student body could this group have risen to such heights.

The faithful members were:

Captain Barbara McEvoy, Enid Stepner, Linda Martin, Nicki McKeen, Ellen Sigalove, Mary Breen, Ann Bransfield, Joan Lang, Ava Baram, and Eileen Farrell.

CHEERLEADERS

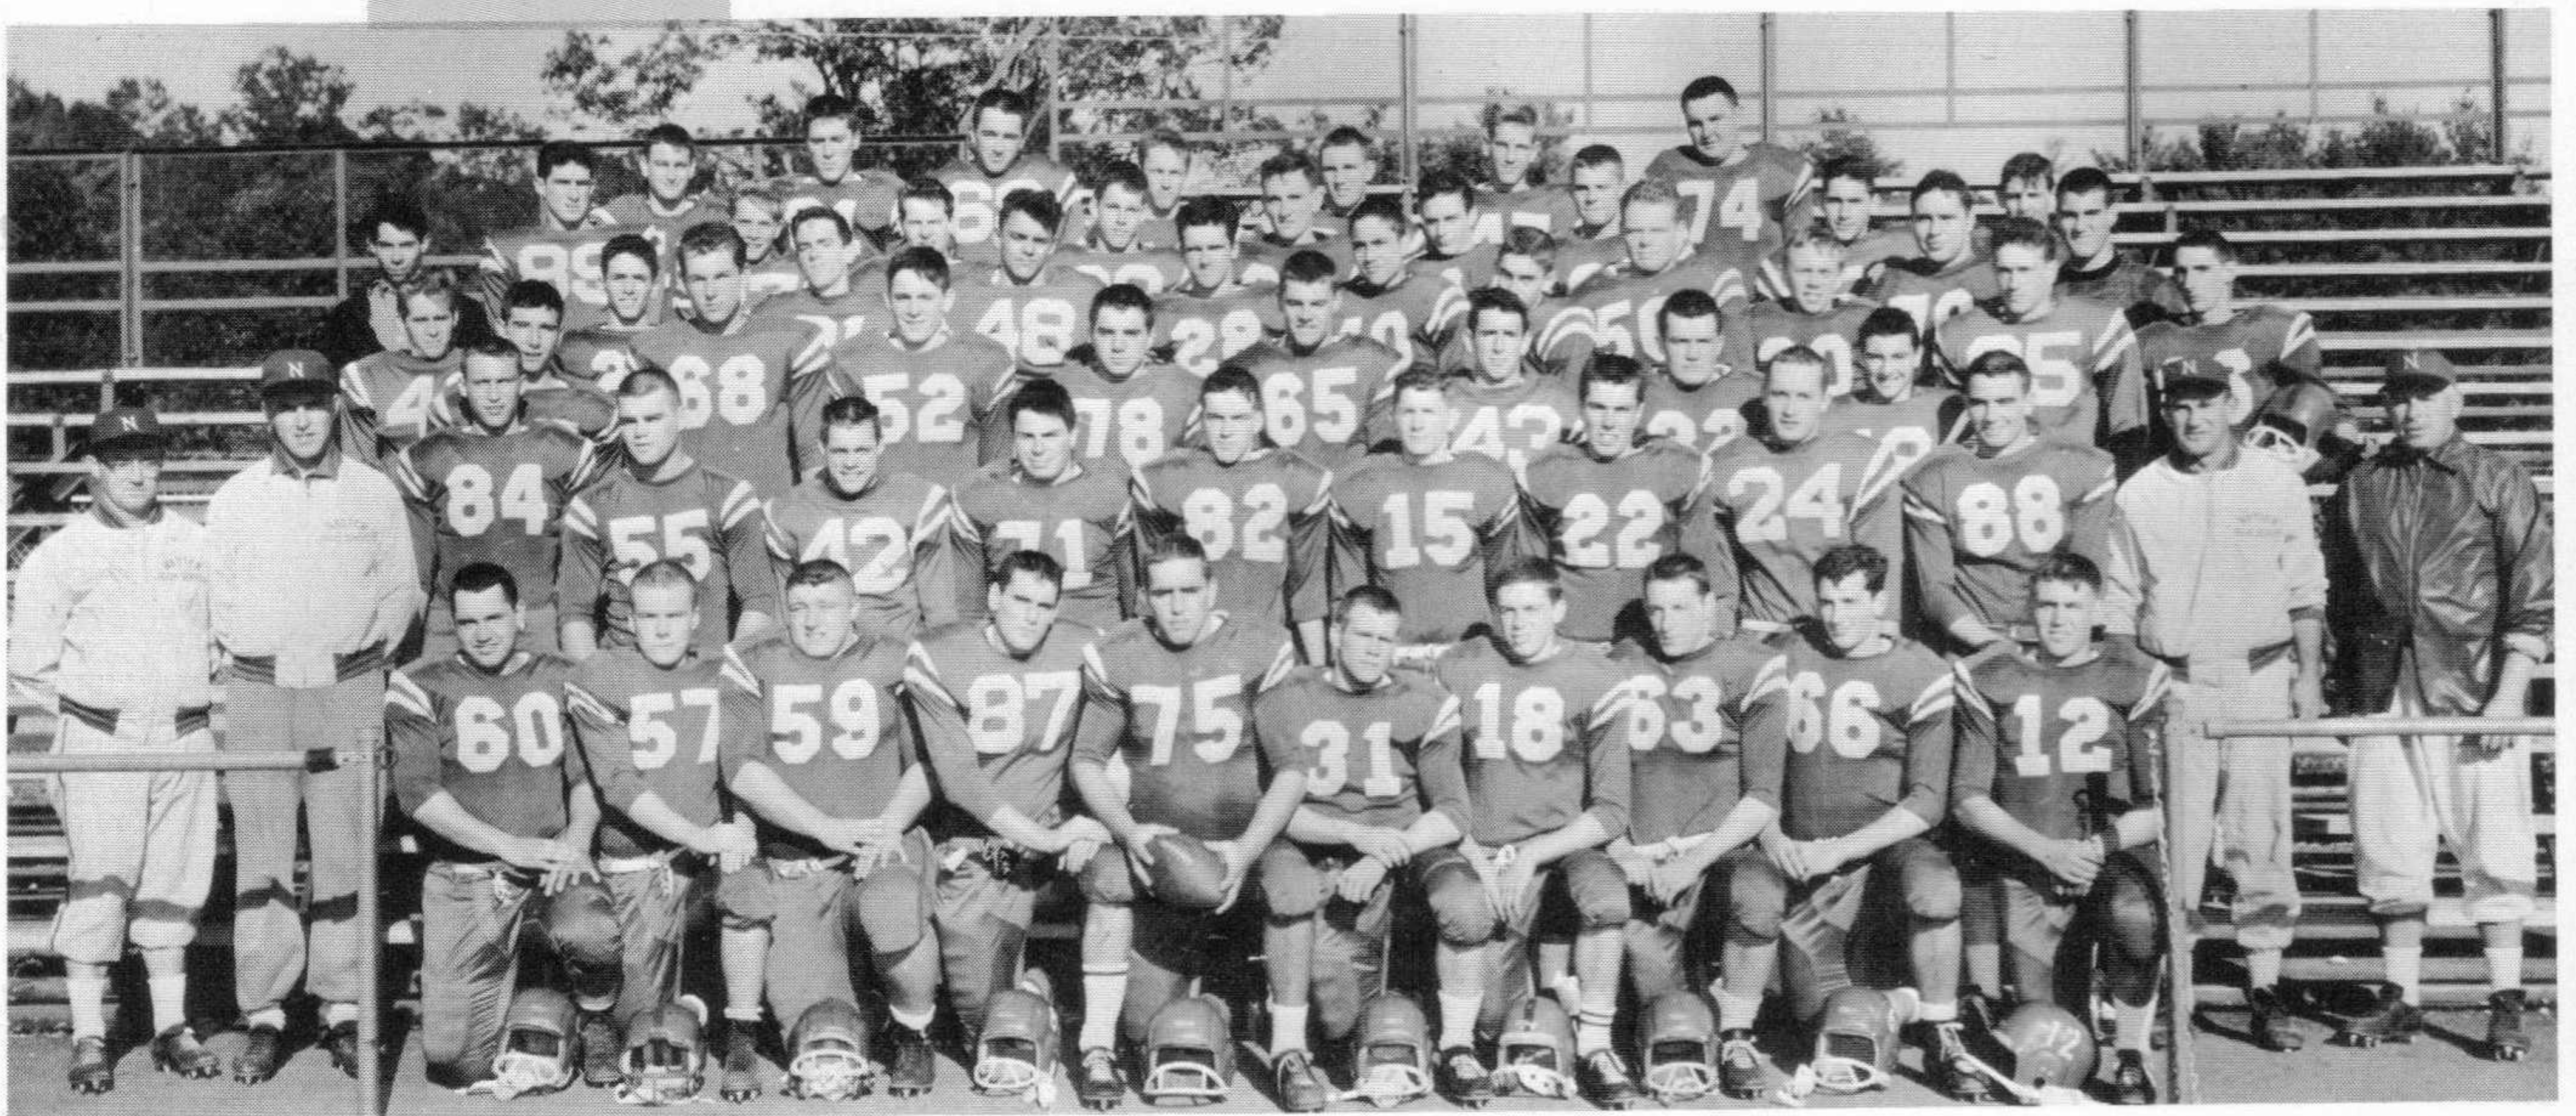

With unyielding spirit, the will to win, and the capable leadership of Captain Timmie Gilbert, the 1963 football team came back from a season beginning with defeat to win six games, losing two and tying one. The scoring power of senior backs Pete Hall, and Jim Kiley, and end Jim Beliveau was sensational.

Quarterback Bill Pettingell was an all-around explosive and surprising player. He passed and ran, both with ease and great effectiveness, proving to be a lowering boom to opposing teams. In front of Bill were senior linemen Ed Deeley, Rich Hayes, Scott Knight, and Bob Hayes; a formidable wall whether attacking or defending. Specialists Tim Hawes, Asa Dye, Tom Smith and Ken Lowden rounded off the senior members of the squad.

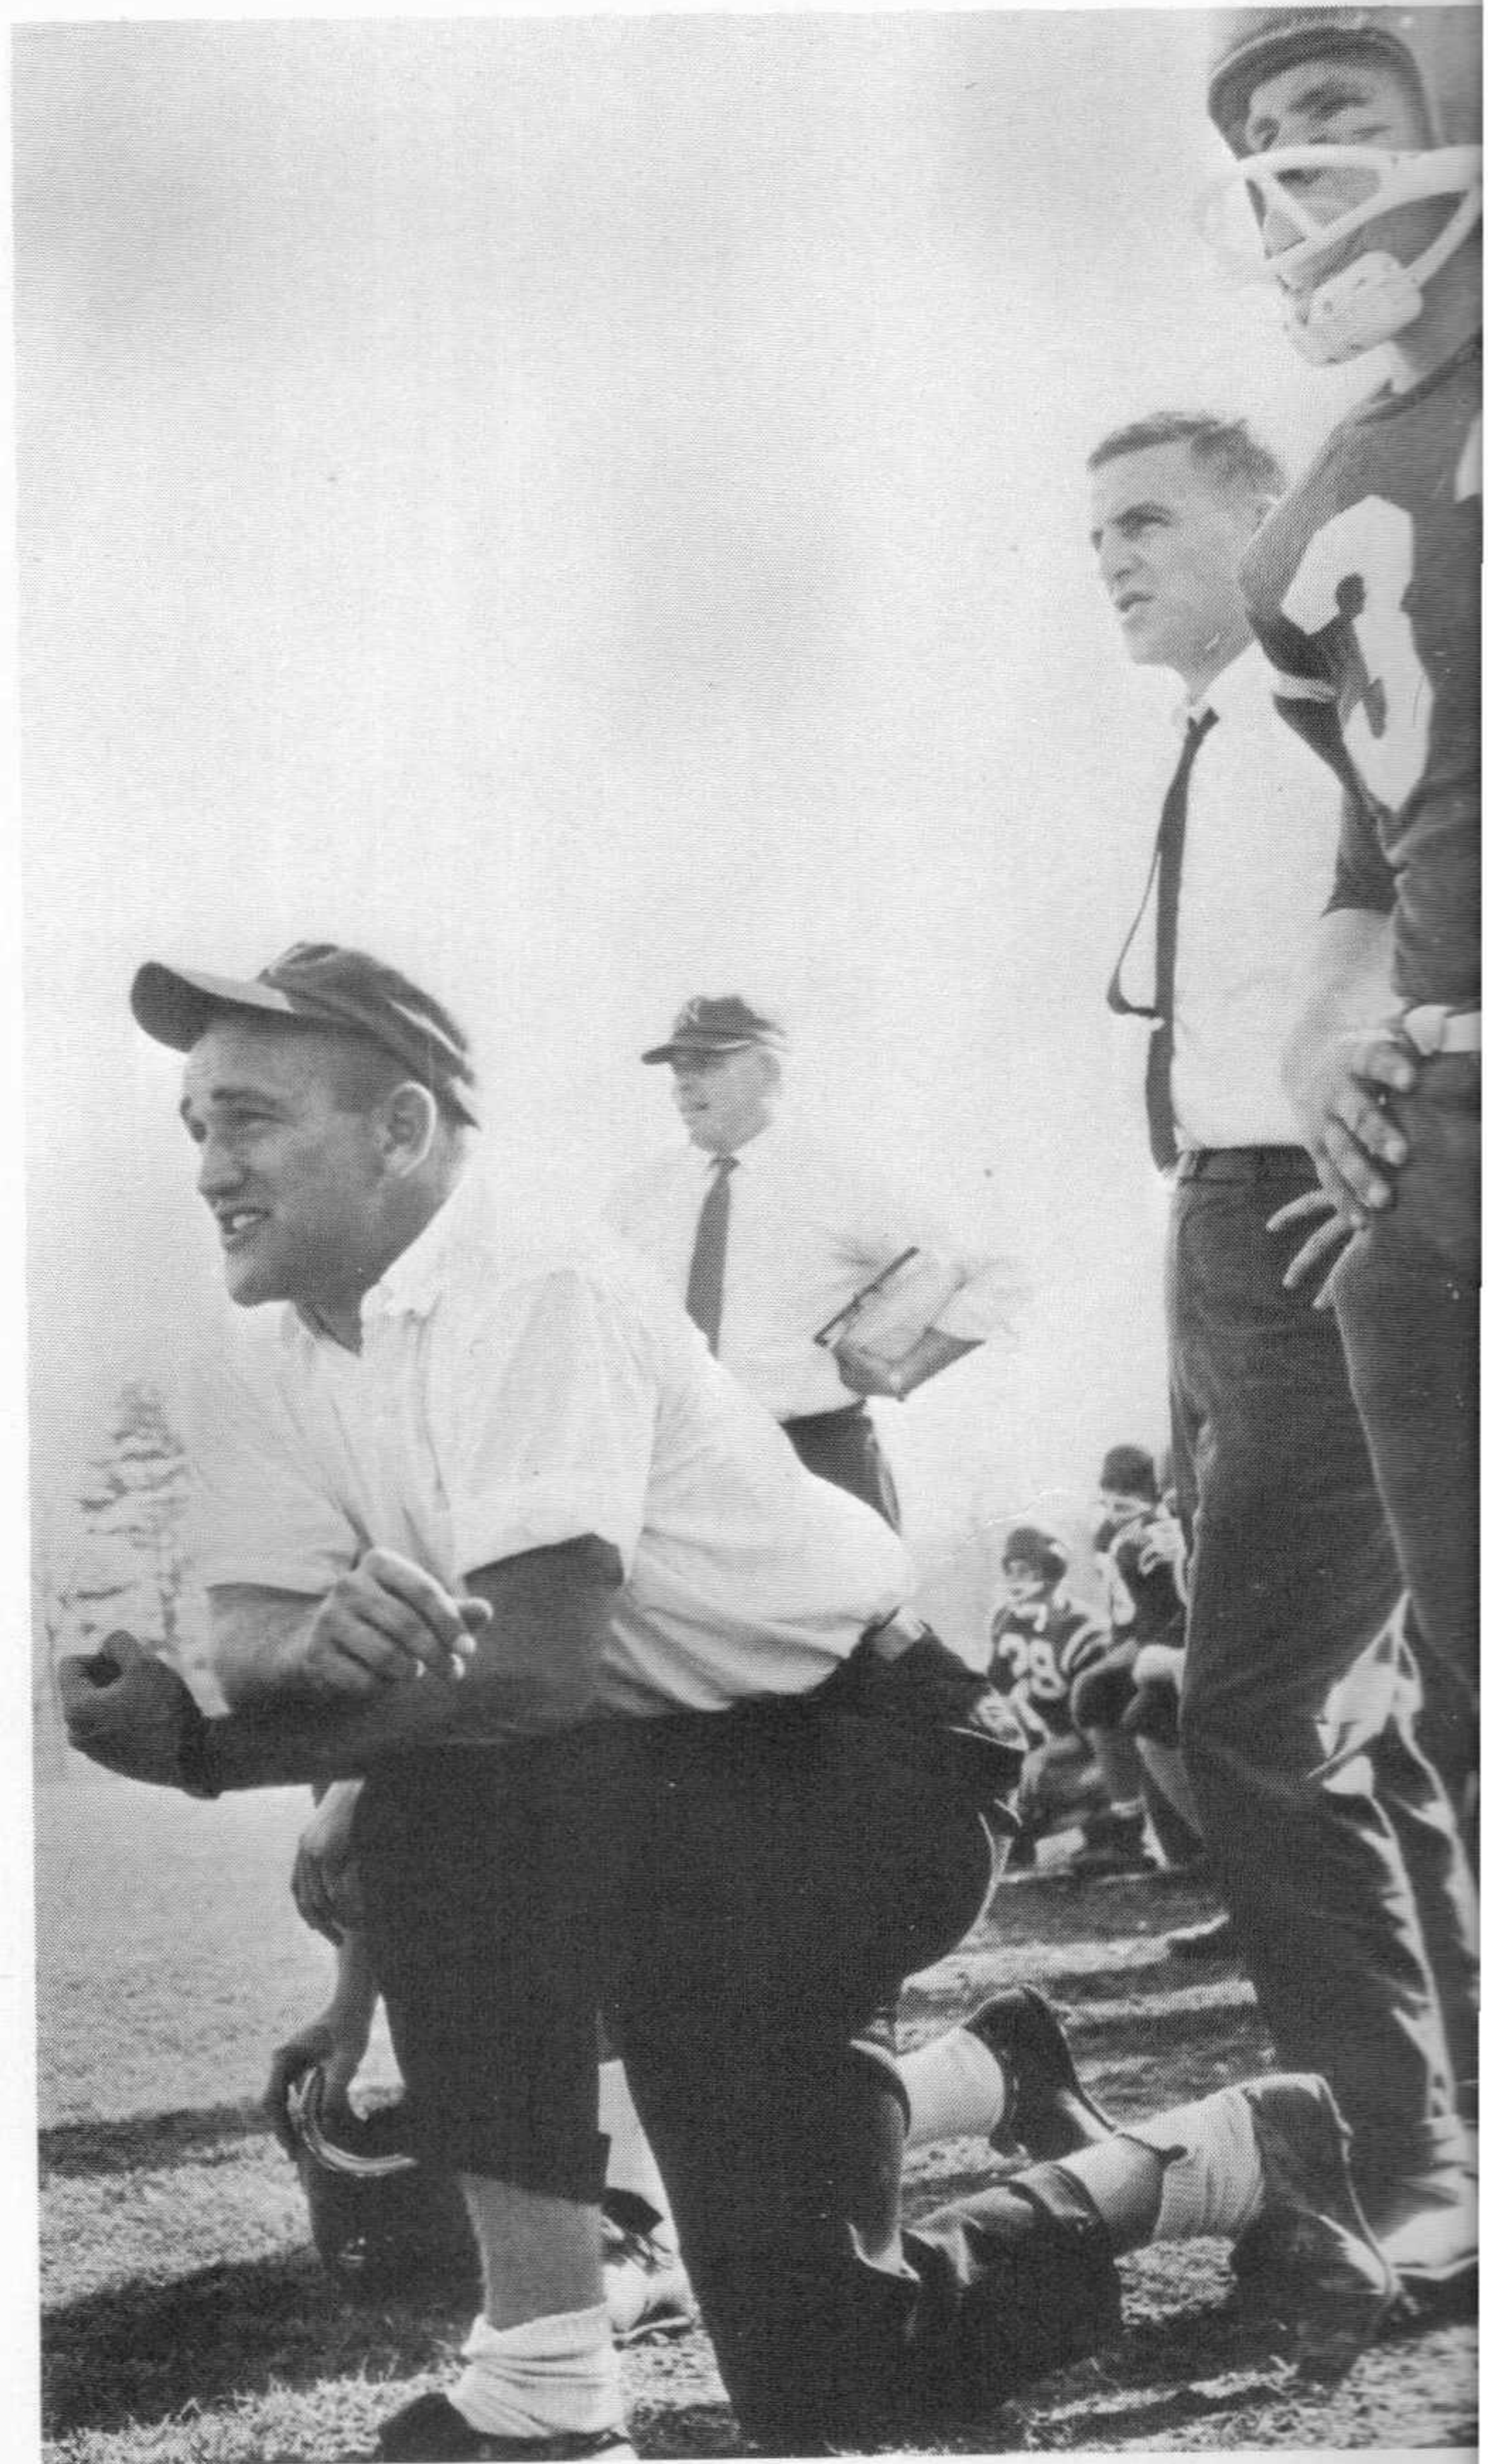

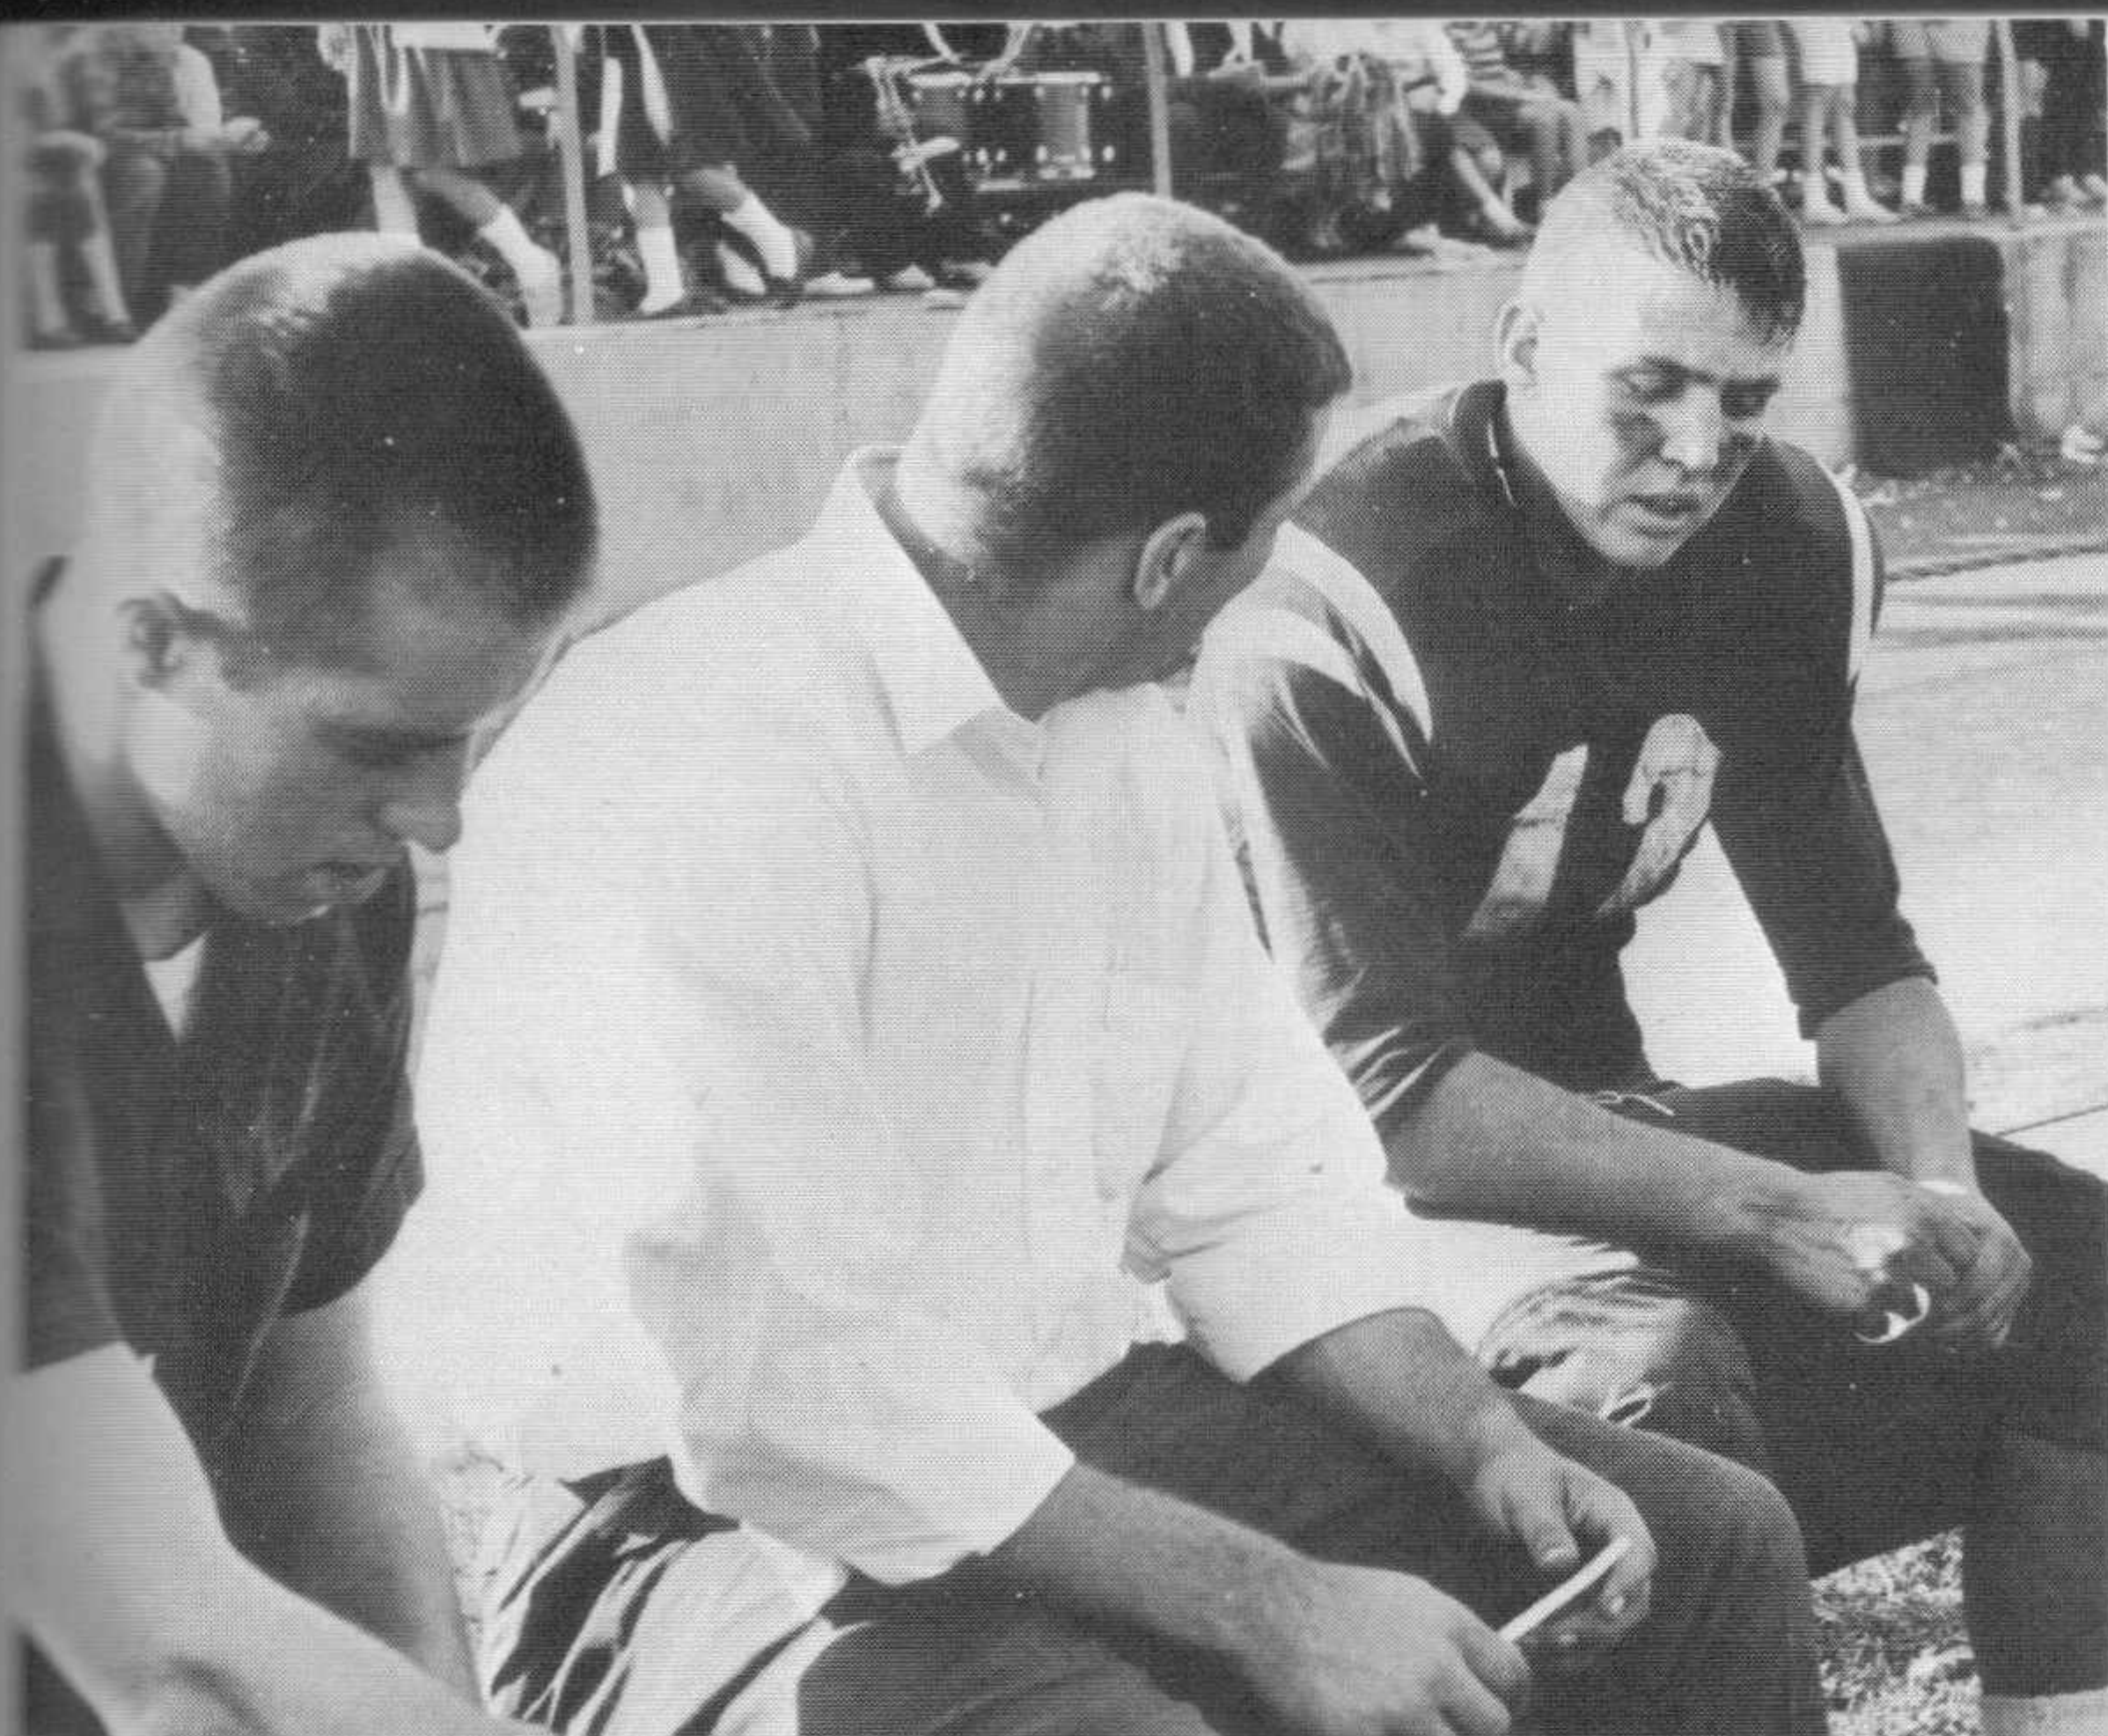

The most glorious and joyful moment of the season came in the last three minutes of the Turkey-Day traditional contest between the "Redmen" and the Framingham Flyers. These few minutes saw Natick tie and then go ahead to defeat the Flyers in the most thrilling game of the football season.

Leadership, Will, plus Training made the team. Greatly respected head coach Dan Bennett handled the boys forcefully and expertly, along with the aid of coaches Robert Whelan and Jim Stehlin, and trainer Guy Leighton, to shape the team.

The senior members of the varsity, mentioned above will be leaving Natick High Sports in June, but behind them they leave players such as juniors John Ignacio, Bob Bradford, Butch White and captain-elect John Wilson, plus sophomore Paul D'Innocenzo and a well-trained promising J.V. team to carry the Natick Tradition to win.

Successful track squads are becoming a habit at Natick High. If this habit were ever to be broken, it should have been this year, for this was to be a year for building. However, the cross-country squad, under the able and persistent coaching of Mr. Bransfield, not only built for the future, but also managed to turn in a formidable 8-1 record to place second in the Bay State League. Captain Bob Penswick and Steve Dubosky were the only predicted "dependables". However, such "rookie" stars as Luke Szpakowski, the Wright twins, Phil Stevenson, and captain-elect Doug Moore came through with hard work to build the strongest all-around team in the league. The only loss was to Needham by one point. Needham has lost only one meet in six years (last year to Natick). With $7\frac{1}{2}$ miles of running a day, six days a week, our team supplied the building block for the undefeated Indoor Track Team which followed them.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

J.V. BASKETBALL

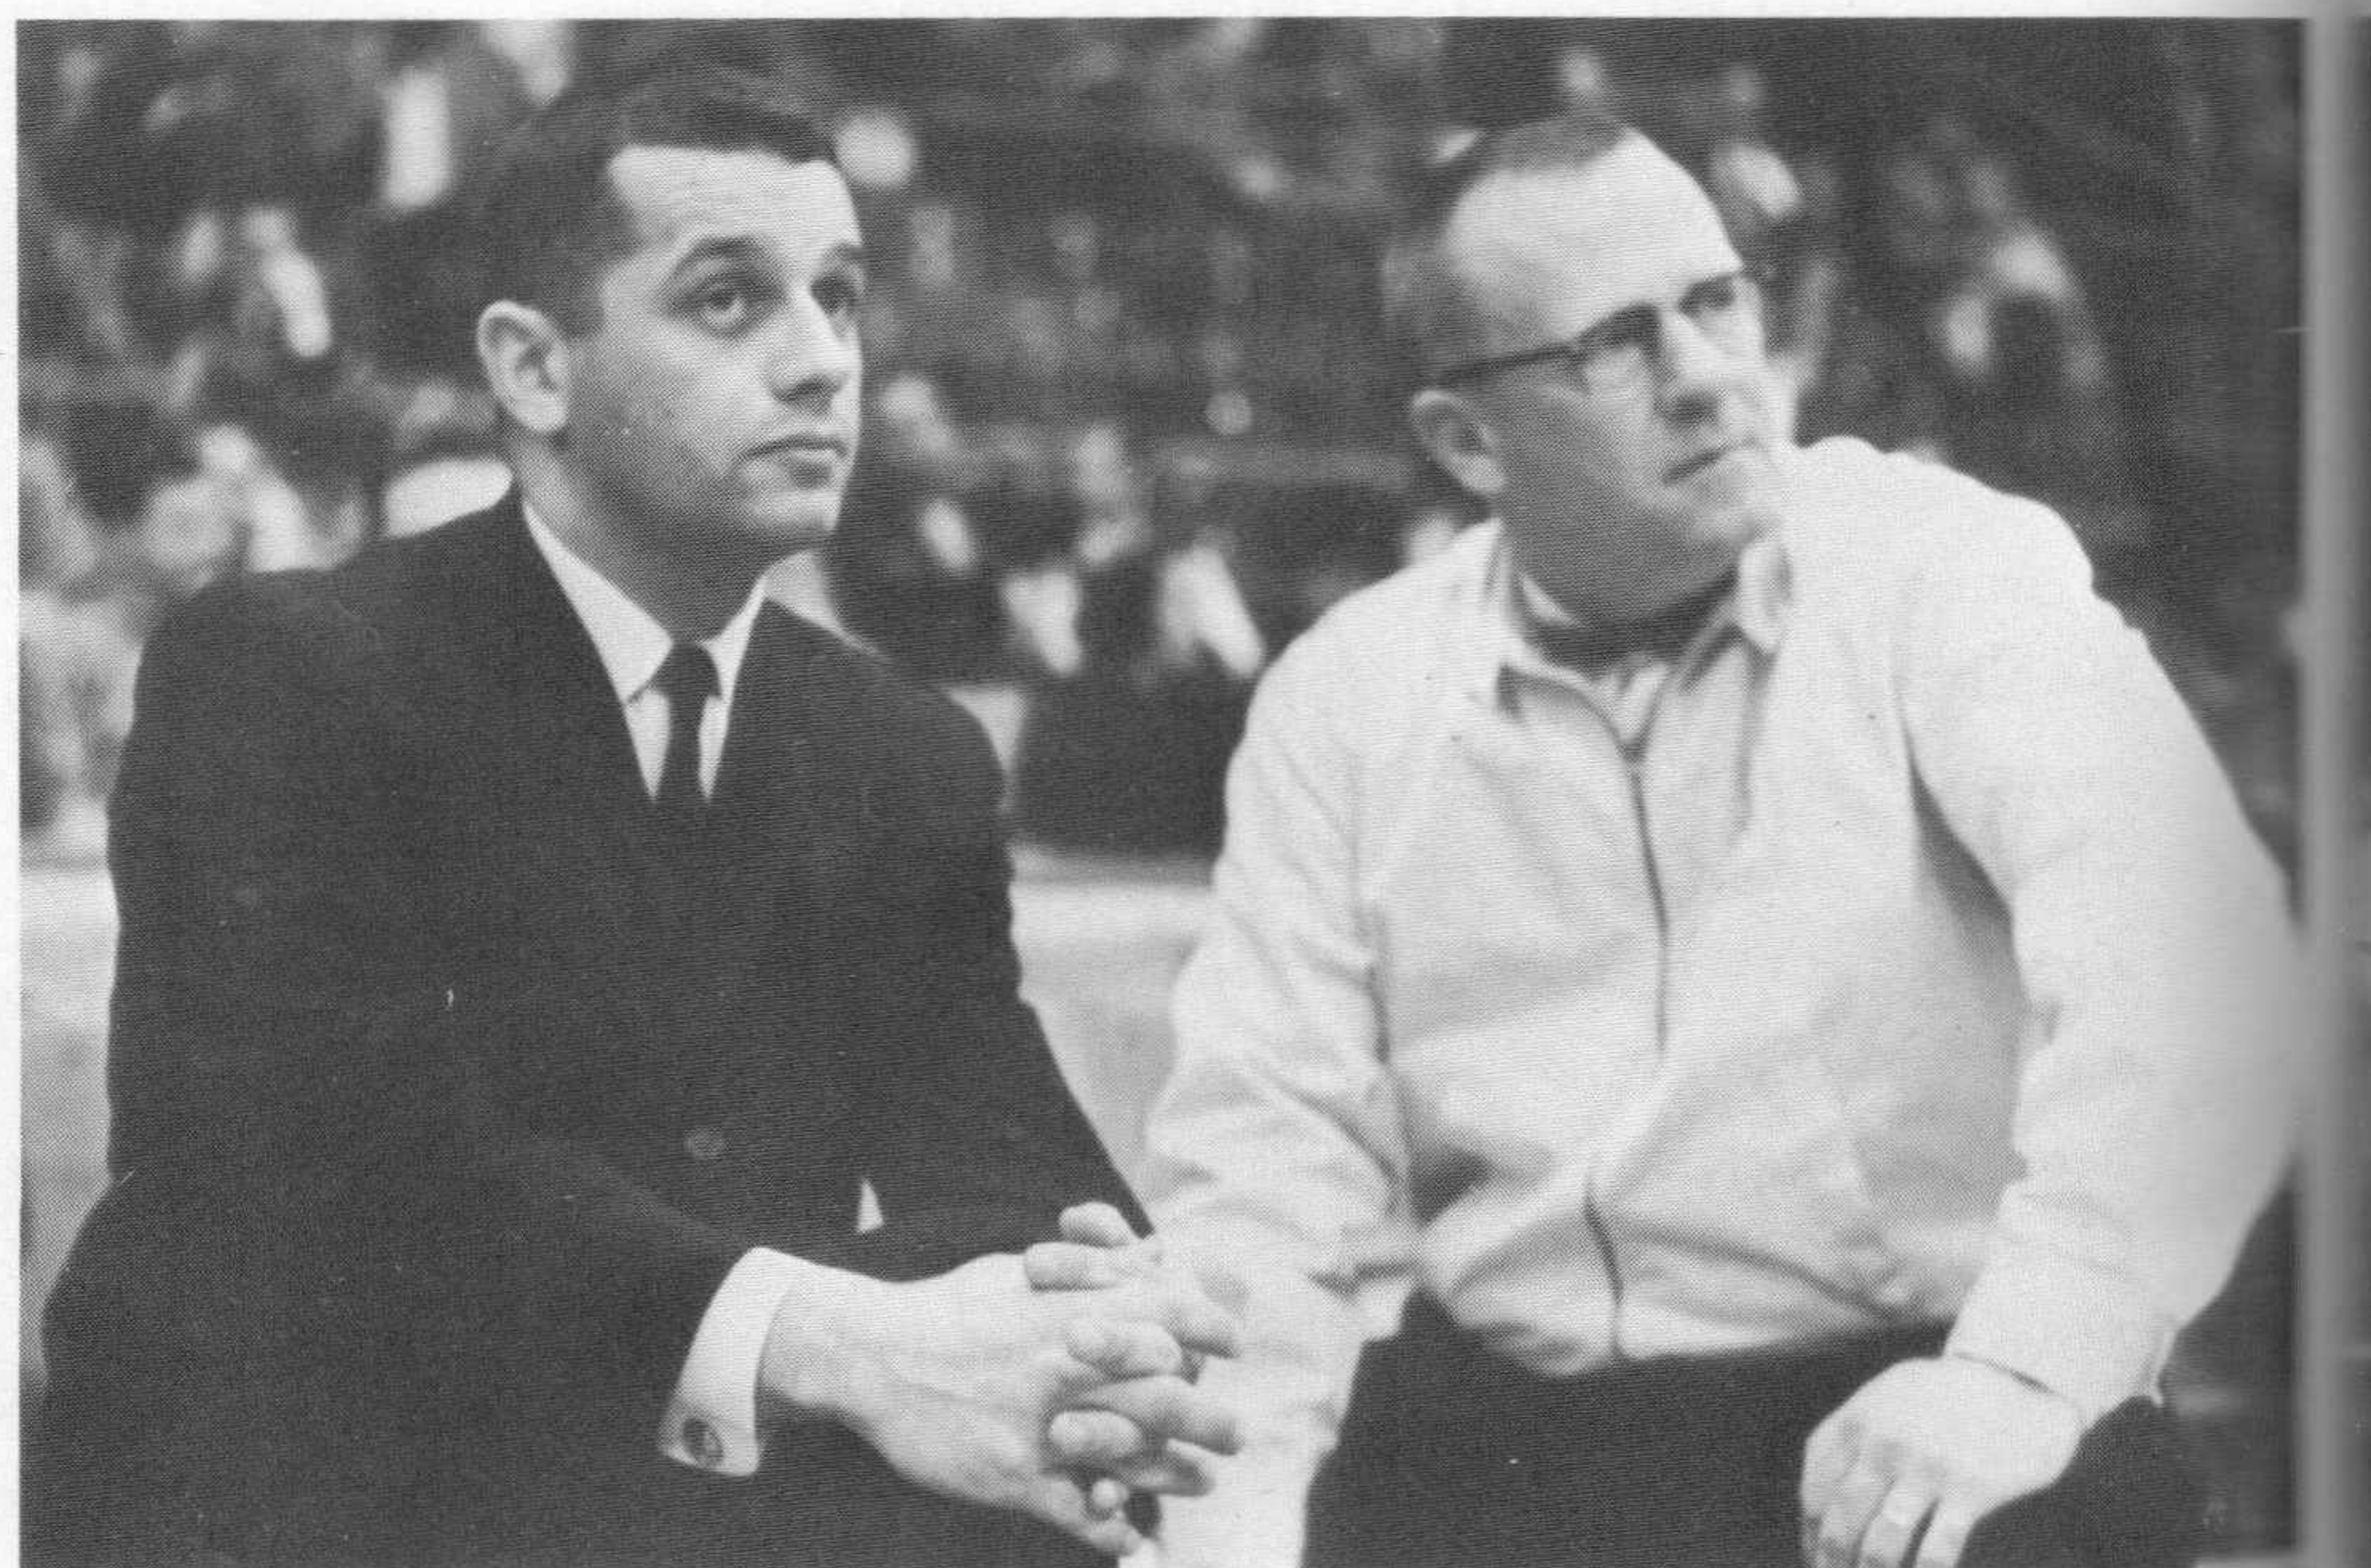

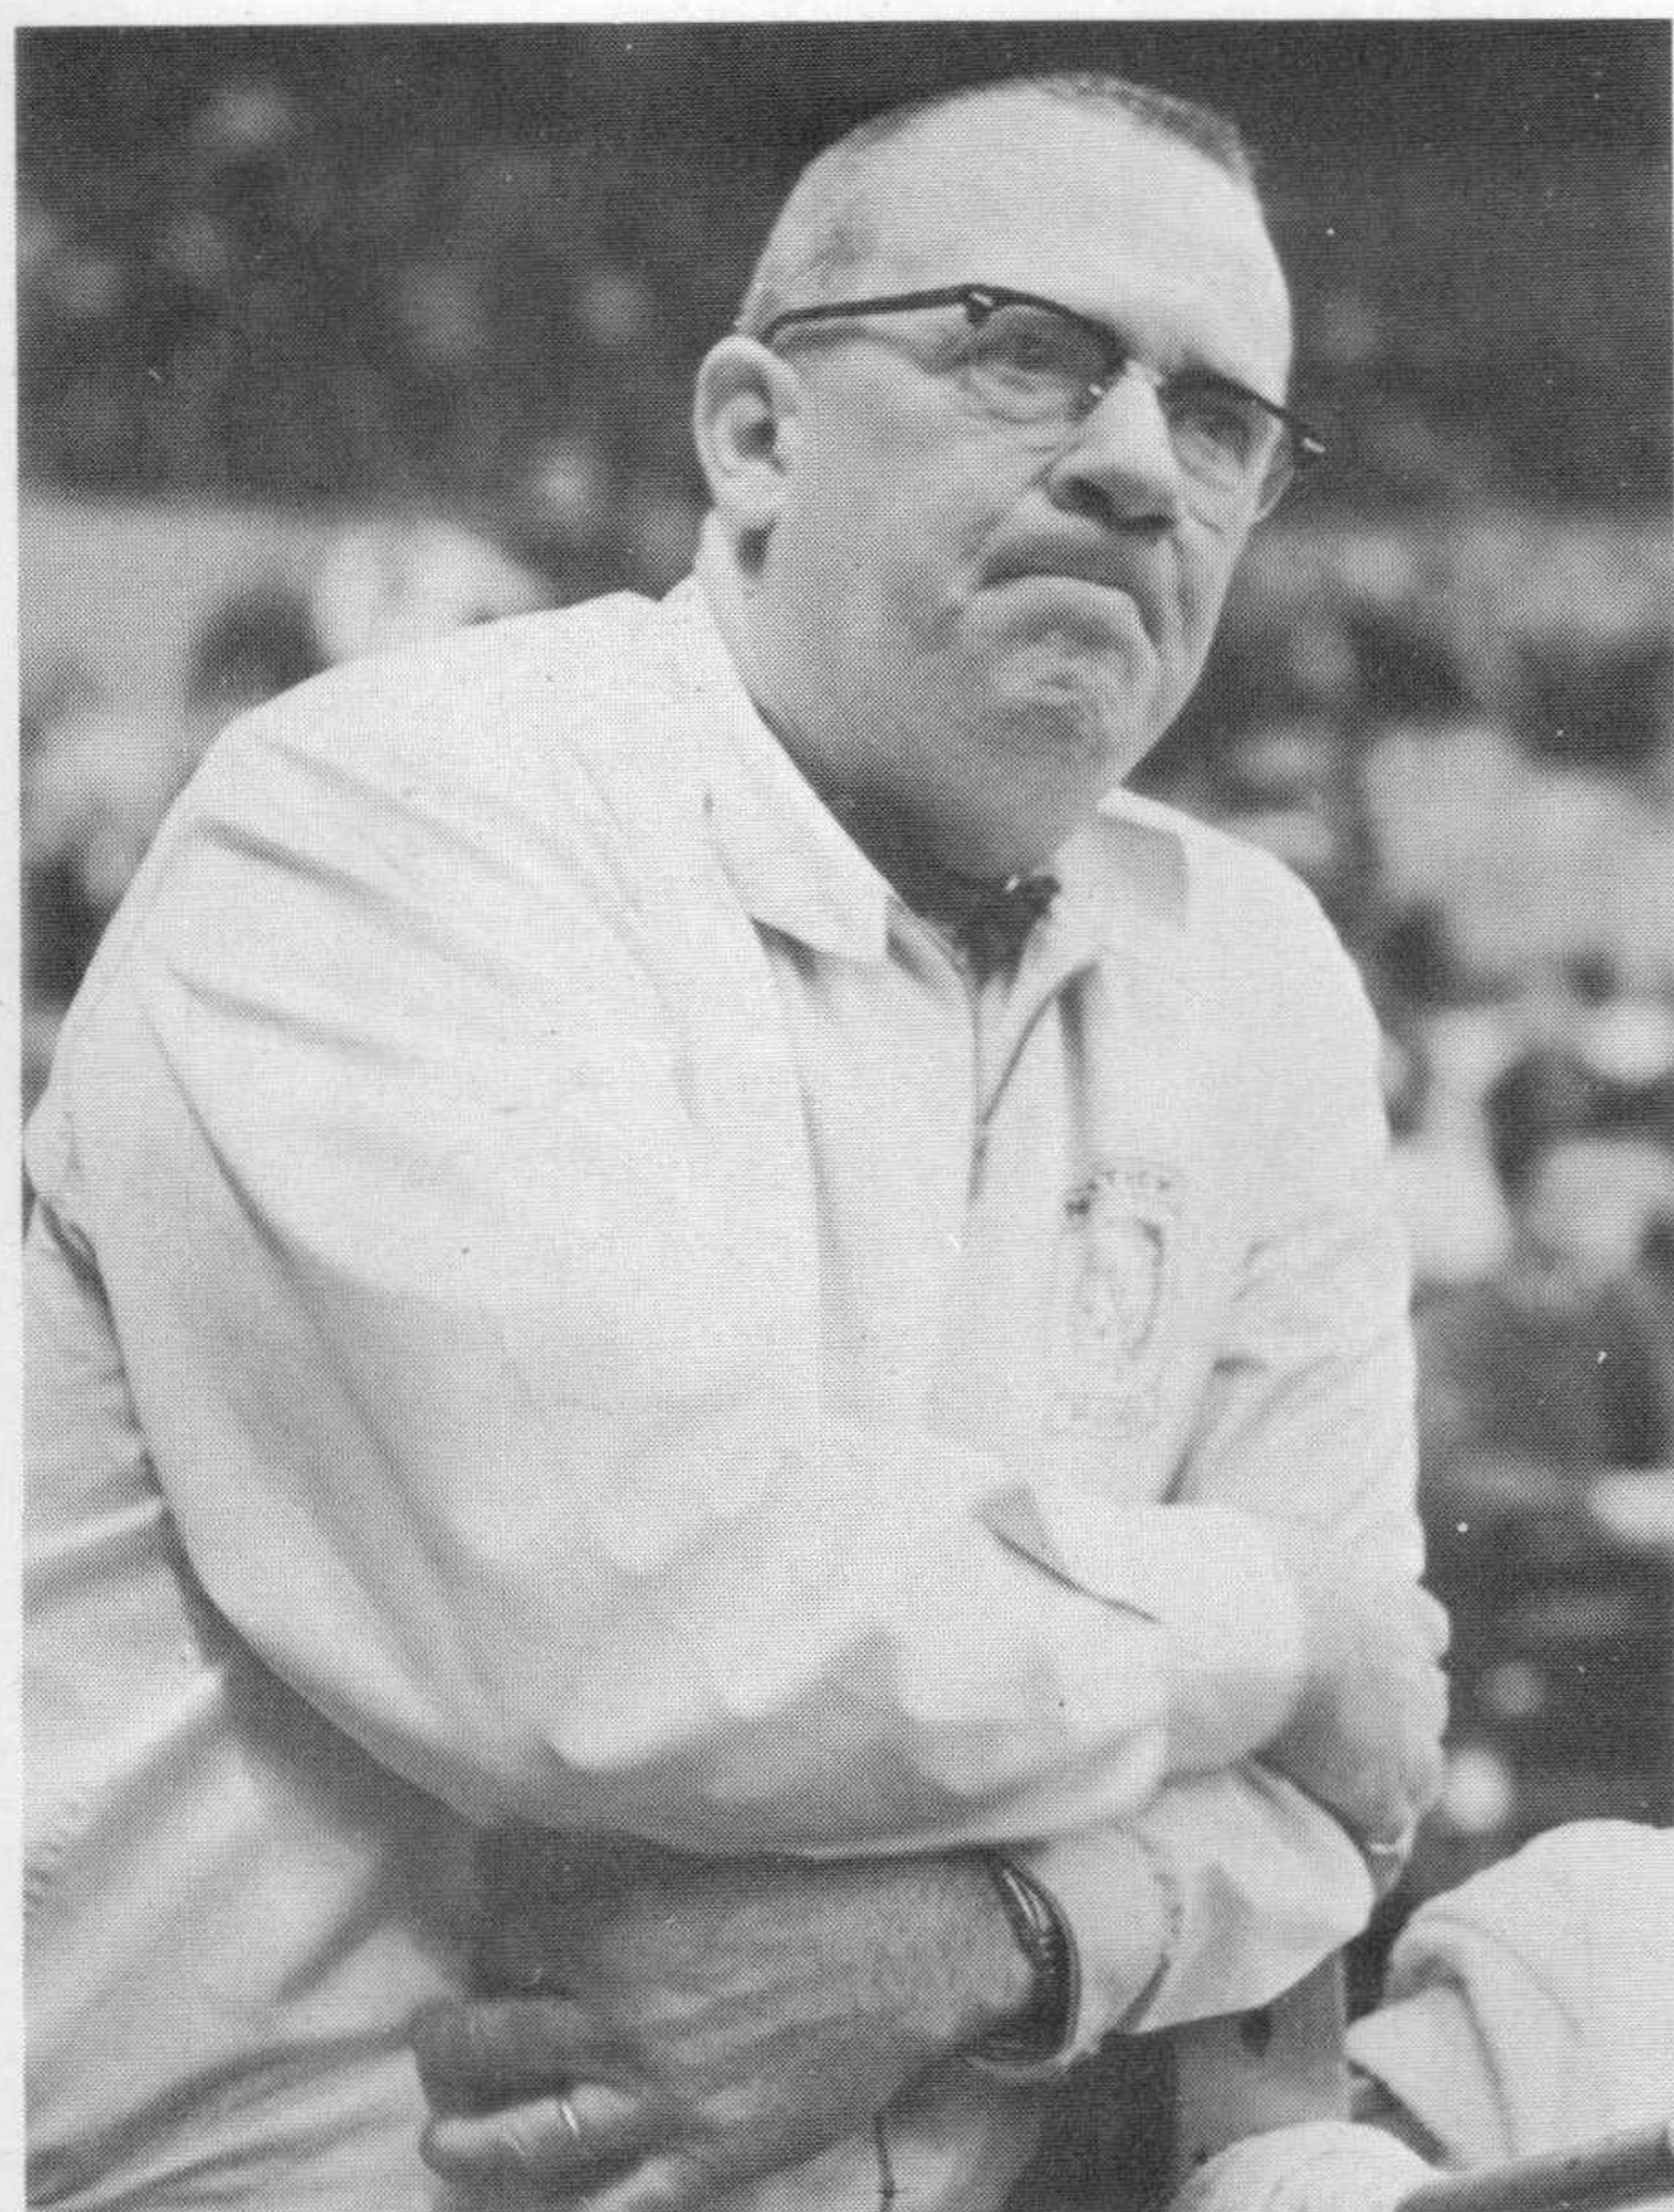

The '63-64 basketball team, under second-year coach Charles Christie, and led by great co-captains, Bill Pettin-gell and Dave MacGregor, achieved a highly-successful and commendable record. Although the tallest starter was cornerman Walt Ball, who stands only 6'2" and despite the fact that center, John Ignacio and forward, Dave Bernardi, were both under 6' tall, the team finished with a record of 16 wins and 4 losses, one of which was a heart-breaking loss to Melrose in the quarter-finals of the Tech Tourney. They had previously defeated Carmelites of Hamilton in the preliminary game. The team was involved in nine games which were decided by three points or less, winning seven of these and losing only to Melrose by 2 and Needham by 1. With the starting five composed of seniors MacGregor and Pettingell and juniors Ball, Bernardi, and Ignacio, the N.H.S. five also had a potent group of seniors, Neil McKeown, Steve Saradnik, Bob Bunick, Mike Tomassetti, Frans LeMaitre and Bill Burke, as well as juniors John Wilson and John Wight.

Behind the Scenes

This '63-64 team succeeded as well as they did not by brute strength, as some of the bigger teams in the Bay State League, but rather by desire and fair play. This fair play can be shown in the naming of Co-captain Bill Pettingell as recipient of the Smoky Kelleher Sportsmanship award, an award given annually to one player in Eastern Massachusetts for his play during the regular season. With continued play such as this, plus the returning of five lettermen and the developing of a number of Jaycees, the future looks bright for Coach Christie and his new-co-captains, Dave Bernardi and Walt Ball.

Row One, L-R: P. Schneekloth, R. Dzintars, P. Hall, Captain J. Kiley, T. Van Tassell, M. Prince, T. Hawes. Row Two: T. Casey, R. Maxwell, D. Sabeau, J. Koslowski, P. Pallotta, B. Robicheau, Coach William Leary.

Under their new coach, Mr. Leary, the hockey team experienced a season far above all expectations. These boys had long, hard practices that paid off. With a season record of 6-4-2. Credit should also be given to Captain Jim Kiley who was a very devoted leader. He always gave his team the spirit they needed when things looked tough. The other members of the squad were: Peter Hall, Ted Van Tassel, Hal Garvey, Tim Hawes, Paul Bacon, and Paul Schneekloth. The underclassmen, who were inexperienced, helped lead their team to many great victories. This team had the one asset many teams lack—determination. This led the team into the playoffs where they lost only by a slim margin. These boys never gave up once because they were from the "Home of Champions".

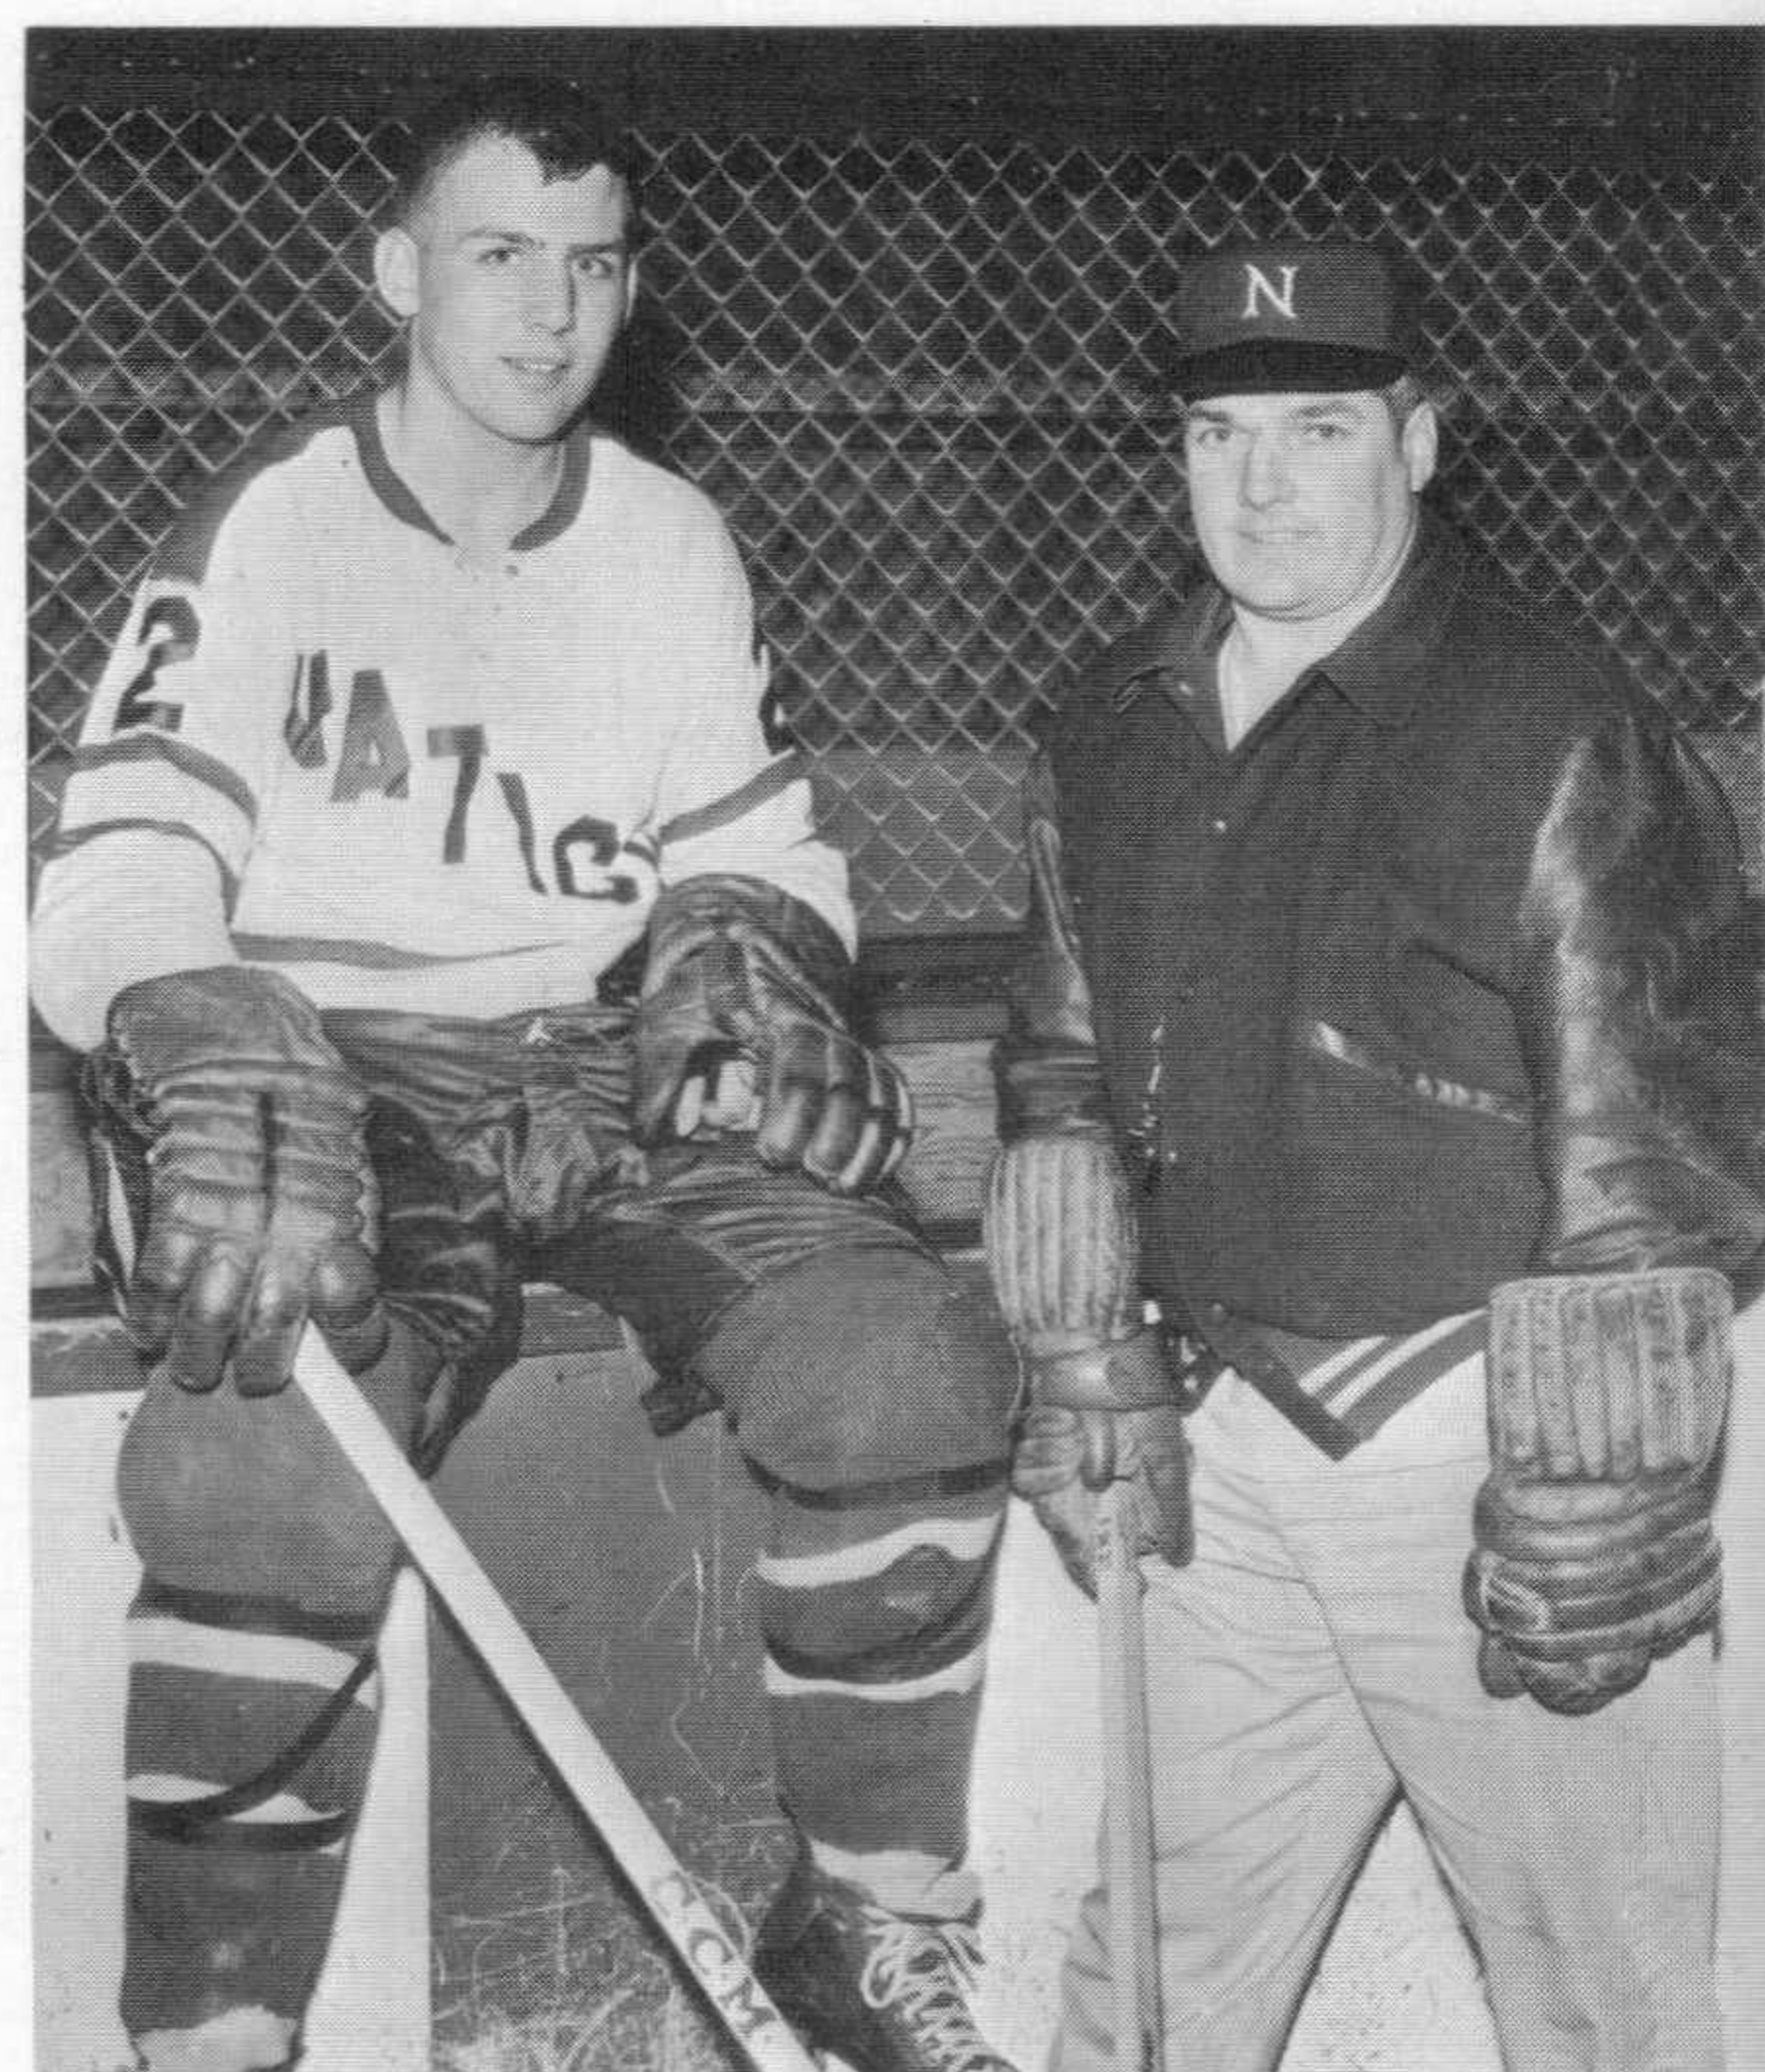

The team received loyal support each Saturday night from the cheerleaders and the many Natick fans.

Congratulations to Coach Leary and Captain Jim Kiley for a job well done.

Starting Five: J. Kiley, Captain; P. Hall, T. VanTassell, M. Prince, D. Sabeau.

TENNIS

The Natick High School Tennis Team, coached by Mr. Ralph Sloan, won third place in the Bay State League. The team lost to the perennial leaders of the league, Wellesley and Needham, twice each and dropped two close decisions to Braintree and Milton. Overall the wins were confident ones and the losses were close. The team posted a 10-6 record for the year in its second consecutive winning season.

Captain Peter Kaufman in his third year on the team led the seven-man squad. Two seniors, Gerry Gunner and Mark Kriger, played their first season. Other seniors were Ted Miller, Don Kimball, and Norman Lecointre. With three veteran juniors playing next year and promising sophomores coming up, the team should continue its success next year.

This year's indoor track team was a hard-working team of what Coach Bob Whelan called "Miracle Men". When the class of '63 graduated, they left only three returning lettermen from the junior class—Robert Penswick, Barry Peoples, and Robert Lucas.

All the local newspapers predicted a long, cold winter for Mr. Whelan and his assistant, Mr. Bransfield. But after the very first meet this feeling was completely erased. The "Miracle Workers", led by Captain Bob Lucas and Bob Penswick, went on to win every single meet and to bring home the Met League Division II Championship trophy. The highlight of the season, was the win over powerful Quincy by only-two-thirds of a point.

First Row, L-R: R. Bradford, T. Hawes, T. Bowles, R. Budnick, S. Saradnick, W. Pettingall, J. Beliveau, W. Van Tassel. Second Row: Coach Carroll, P. Innecenzo, J. Ignacio, J. Wight, R. Dyro, R. Casey.

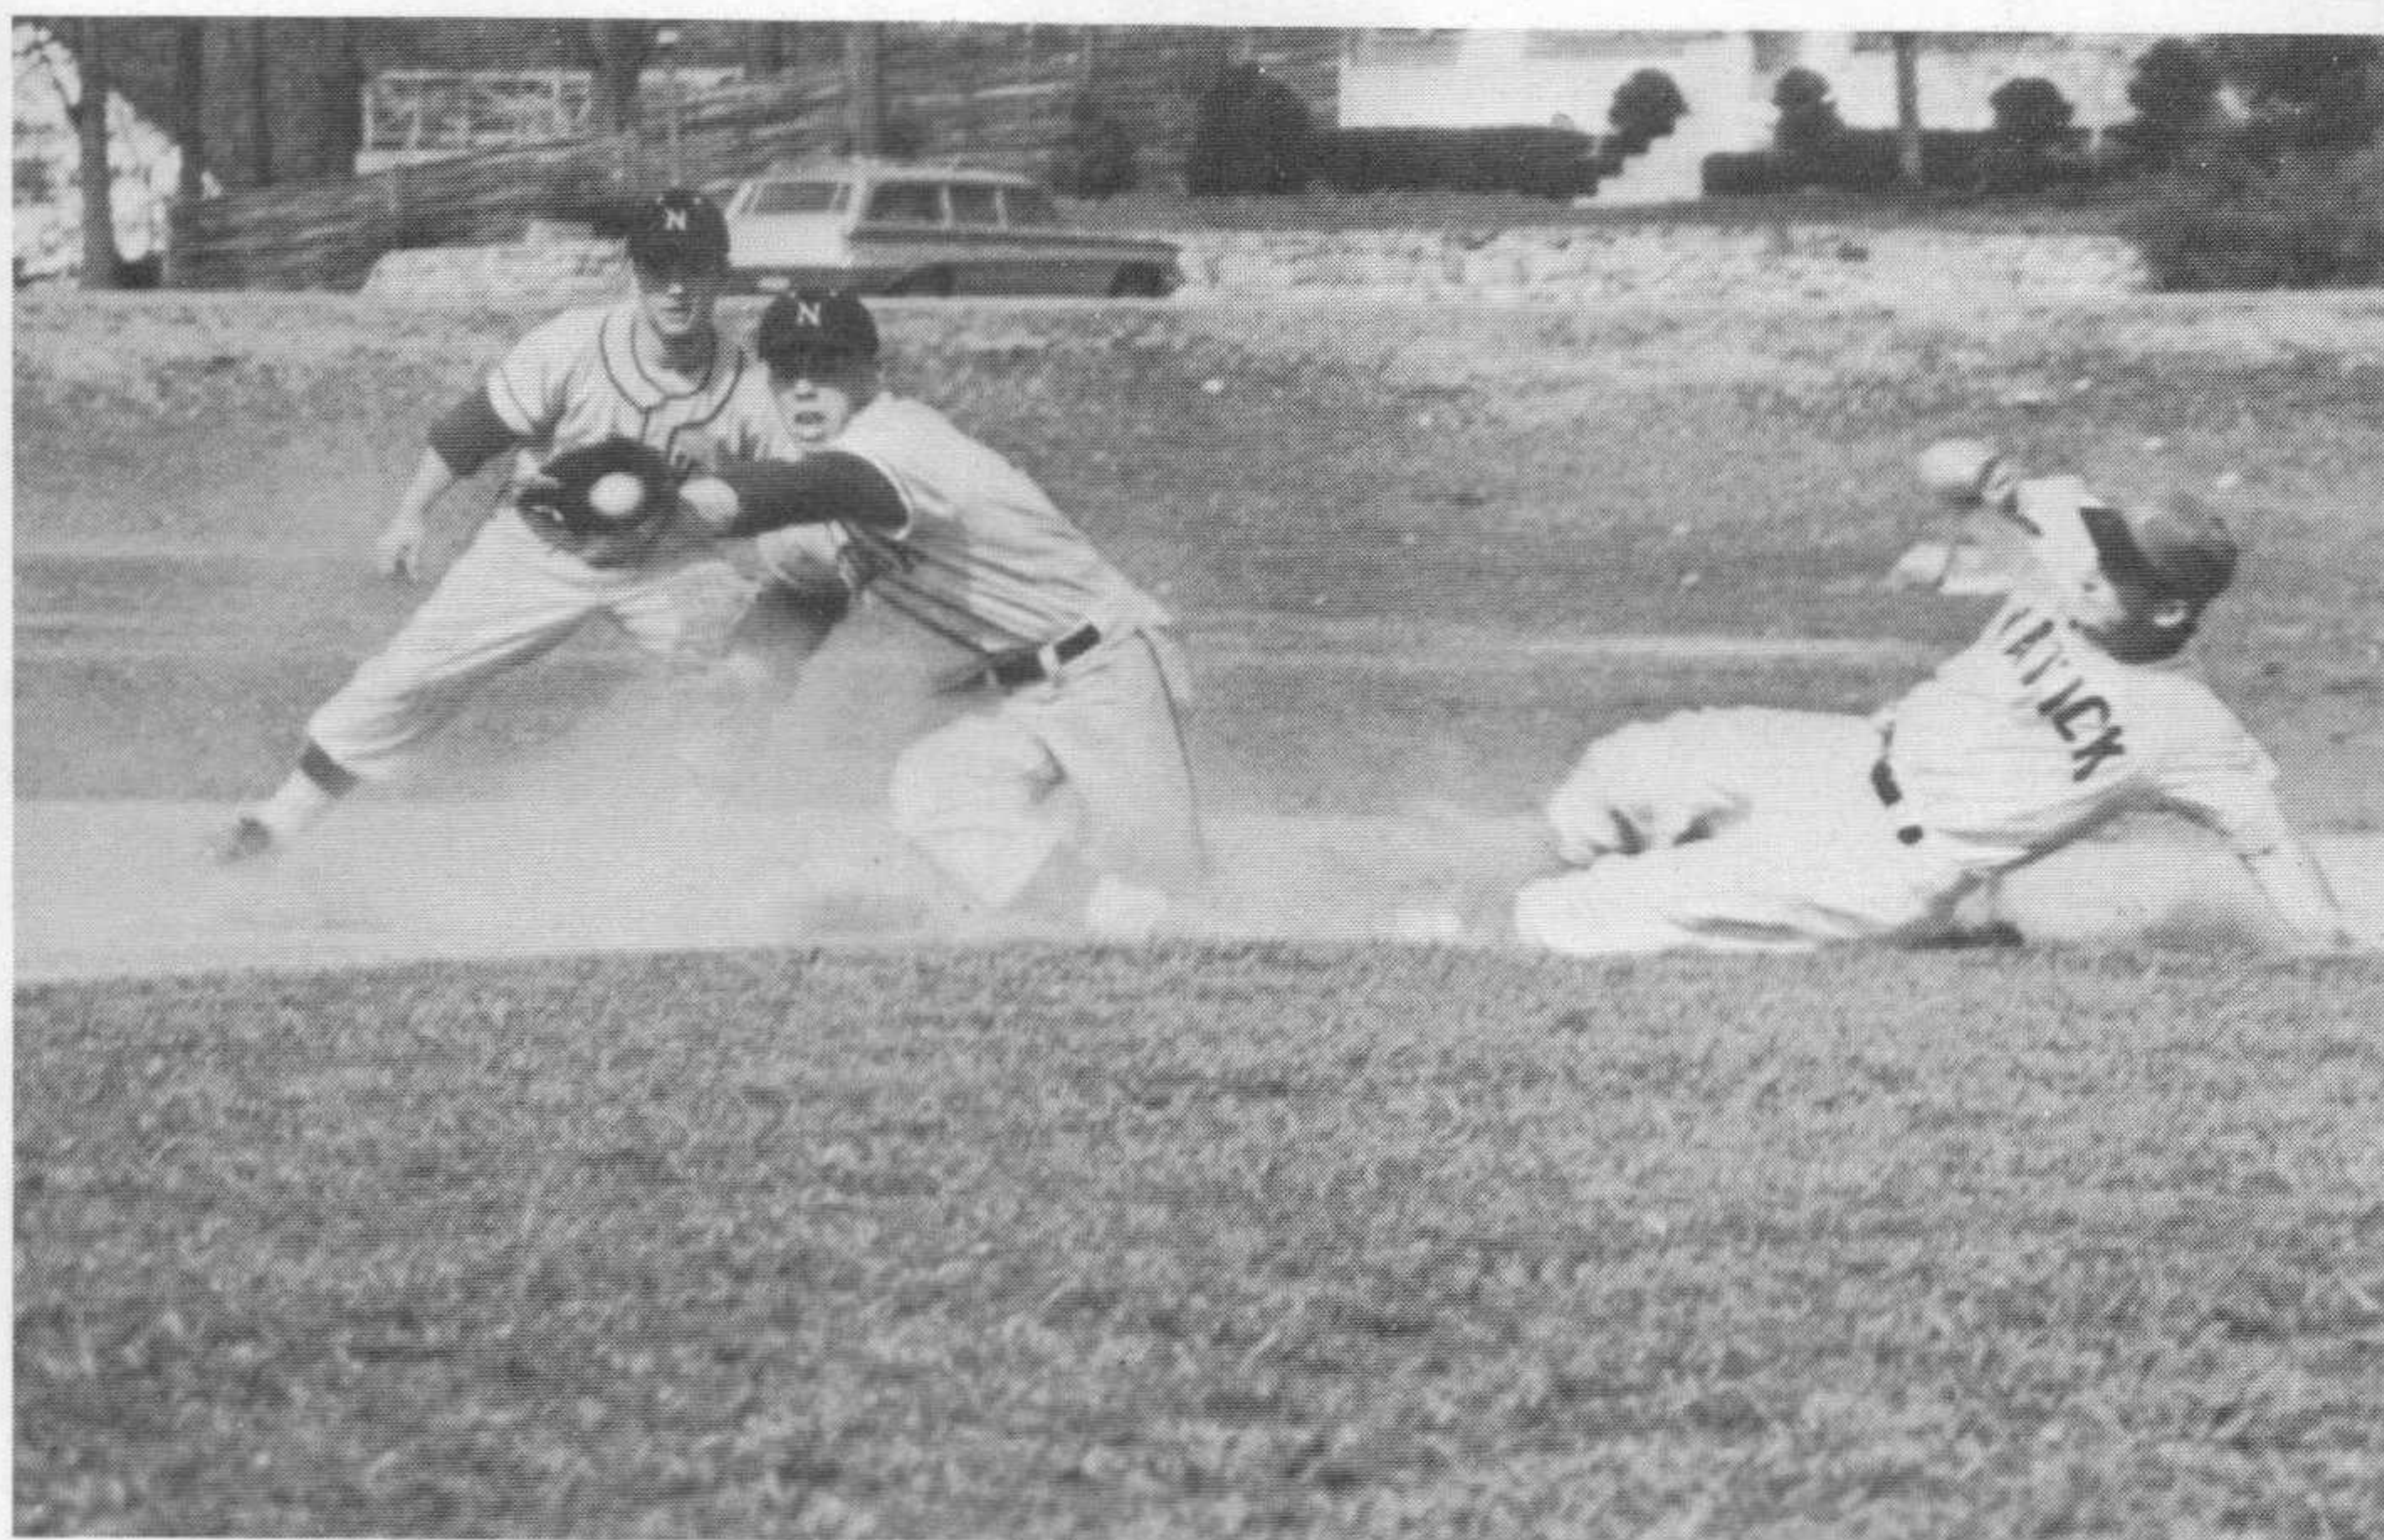

The 1964 edition of the Natick High School Baseball team missed the Eastern Massachusetts Baseball Tournament by one game. However, it is the sincere opinion of Coach John Carroll that this team worked harder than any other team he has had at Natick and with a few breaks would have qualified for the tournament. The team had a 12-6 record.

An outstanding victory was that over Braintree 5-4. Captain Steve Saradnik compiled a .517 batting average which included four homeruns, three triples, four doubles and twenty-eight runs batted in.

Other outstanding senior players included Tom Bowles and Joe Coleman, pitchers, winning 5-3 and 4-2 games. Bill Pettingell won four games as a pitcher and batted .312 as the team's regular short-stop. Jim Belliveau won four games batting .298 and Bob Budnick, catcher, batted .287. He was considered the best receiver in the league. Ted VanTassel, right fielder, did a good job defensively and contributed several key hits.

NO! It's Mr.

"I dare ya?"

"Dog-gone-it we did it again."

"Never a dull moment!"

GOLF

In a year of closely-contested matches, the Natick linksmen compiled a record of four wins, four losses and one tie. With the exception of one match our team was never more than two points away from victory. It was not uncommon to see a Natick golfer facing a three or four foot putt on the 18th green with victory hanging in the balance. This was typical of the pressure and competition this year in a very strong Bay State League.

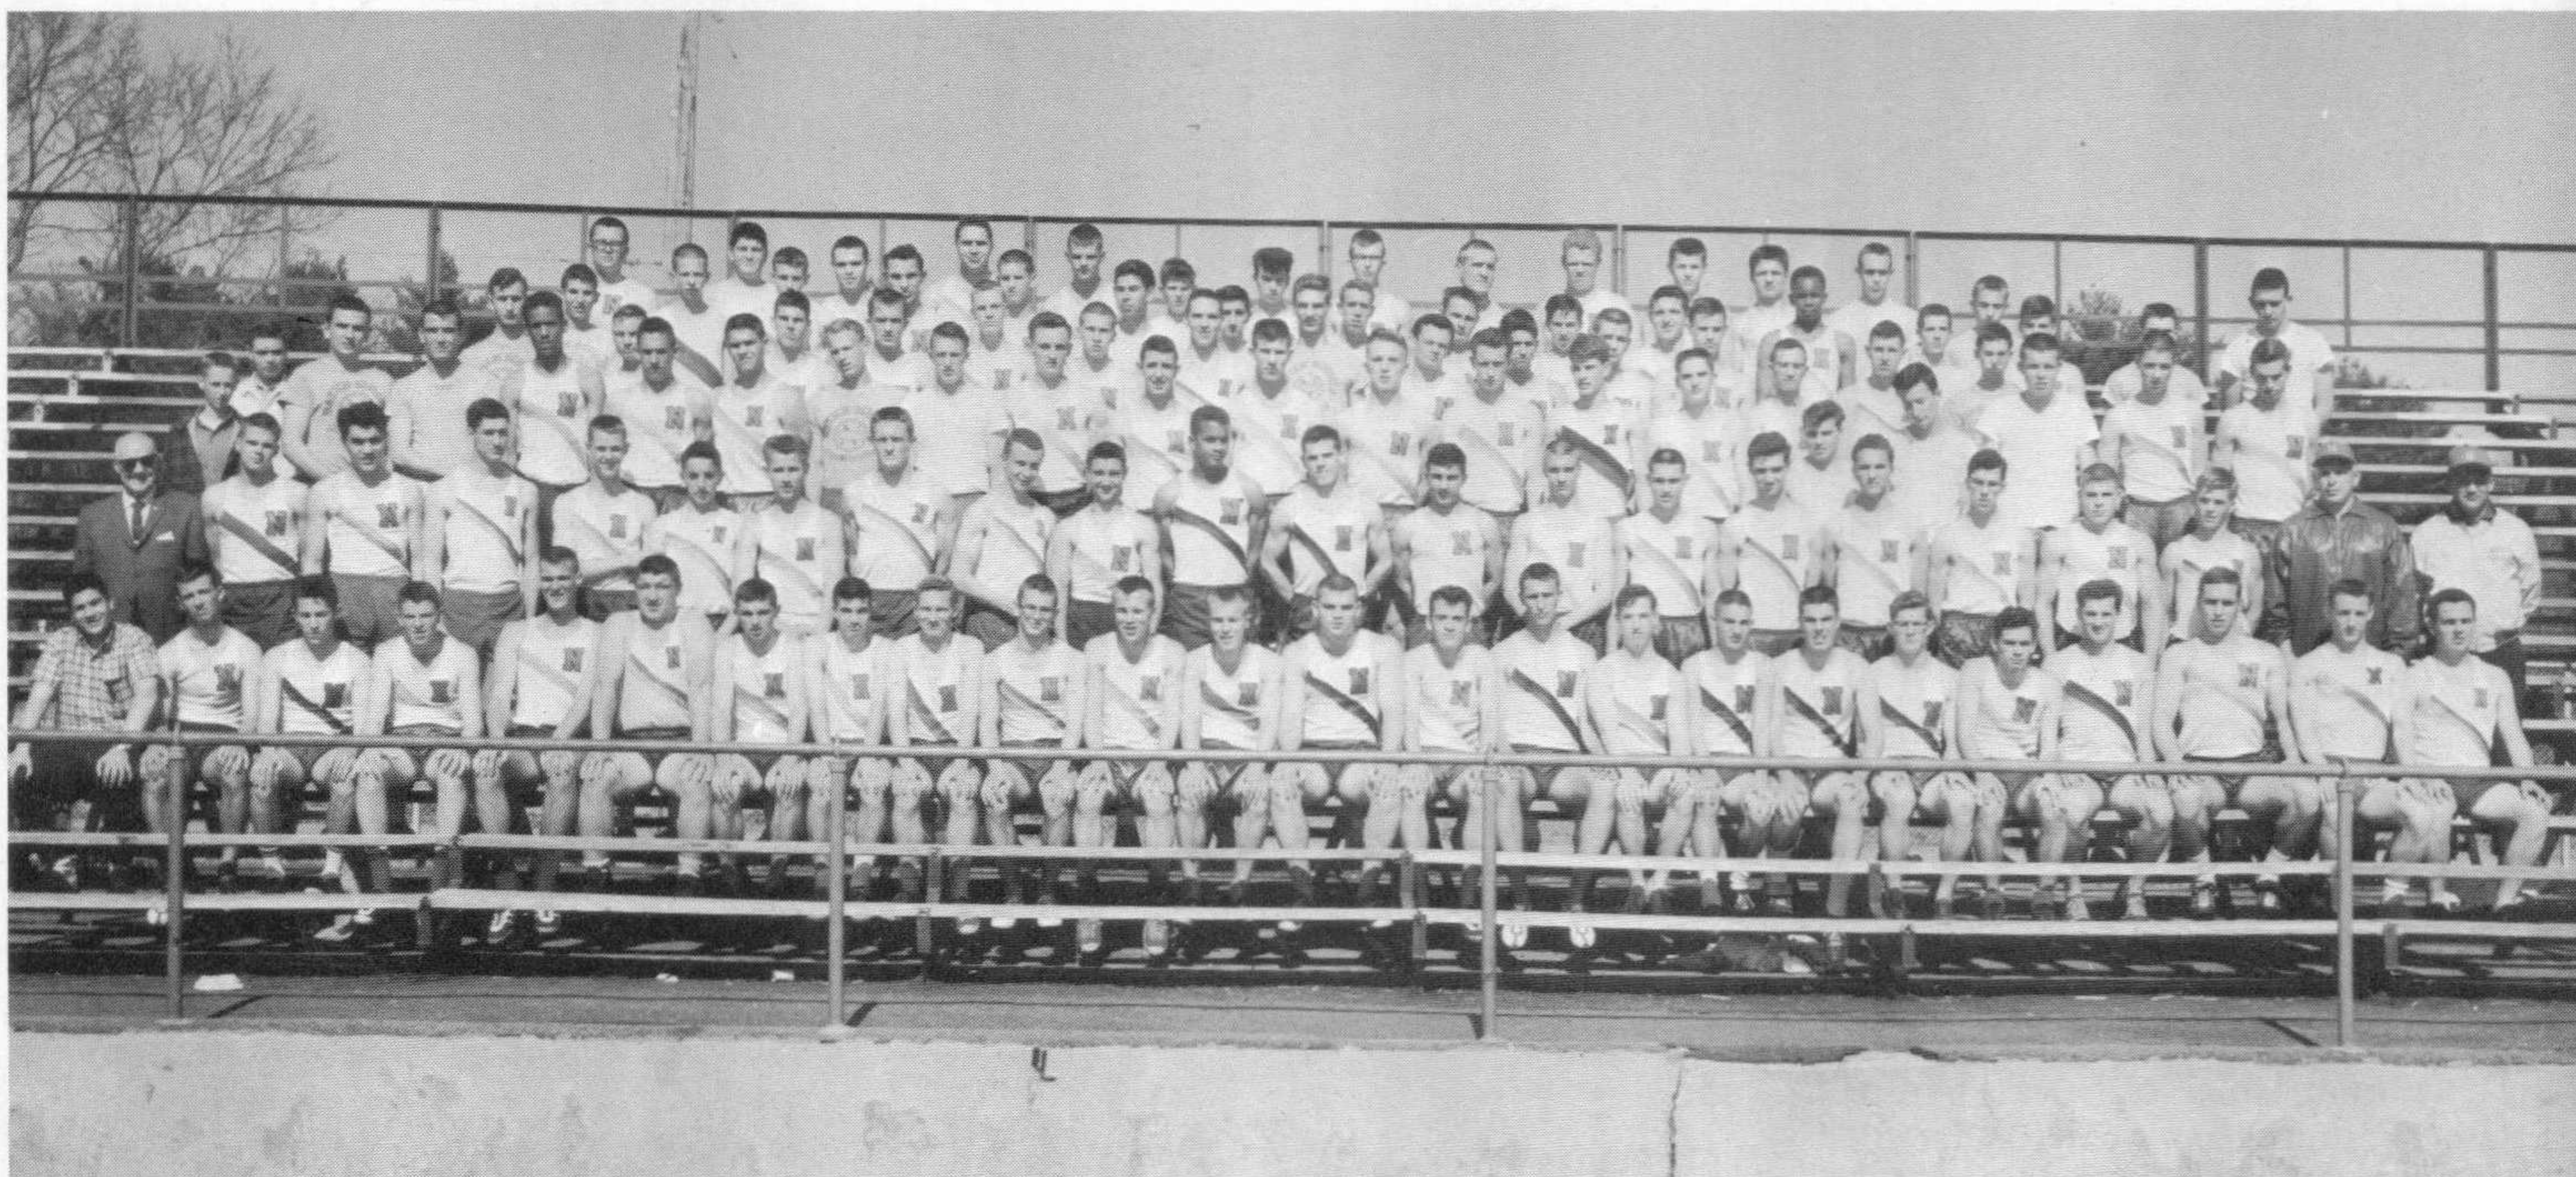

One of the highlights of the 1964 season was our triumph over a strong Wellesley team on their home grounds. Although Framingham had two teams and two opportunities to defeat us this year, they twice succumbed to the long hitters from Natick. Framingham North was defeated and later Framingham South suffered a similar fate. The Redmen also subdued Dedham and played to a draw with a stubborn Milton sextet. On the other side of the ledger Natick dropped decisions to Braintree, Needham, league champion Walpole, and Norwood.

Captain Jim Coffey will be remembered by his teammates and opponents for his keen sense of competition, consistently good golf, and his prowess on the putting green. The phenomenal driving of Bob Powell and his occasional bursts of sub-par golf bewildered many an opponent. The picture swing, the long drive, and a knack for getting that "birdie" were typical of John Sudelis.

Coach Walter Vaughan is looking forward to the 1965 season and will be relying on R. Omerso, Steve Phillips and Paul Driver.

Under the guidance of Coach Robert Whelan, the 1964 outdoor track squad concluded its schedule with a perfect 9-0 slate, its fourth consecutive undefeated outdoor season, and annexed the Bay State League championship for the fifth consecutive year. The team's indoor-outdoor win streak was extended to 55 straight, an achievement especially gratifying for the senior members of the team who did not lose a meet in their three years at Natick High.

Although the team relied principally on depth for its strength, there were many outstanding individual performers. Co-captain Steve Dubosky and Luke Szpakowski often went one-two in the two-mile and Co-captain Scott Knight set a league record in the discus, as did Asa Dye in the pole vault. Finishing undefeated in their particular events were senior Jack Whalen in the 440 and junior Paul Robinson, the team's high scorer, in the low hurdles. Other consistent winners were Russ Wright, Bob Penswick, Bob Lucas, Tom O'Keefe, Dennis Boudreau, Barry Peoples, Jeff Fitzgerald, and George Pease.

First Row, L-R: B. Monaco, A. Dye, R. Leavitt, M. Cate, G. Bowles, M. Raider, R. Sciretta, N. LeContre, P. Mandels, E. Stephenson. Second Row: M. Feeley, D. Lloyd, A. Stone, R. Cotter, R. Conlin, E. Herber, R. Paul, P. Delorey, R. Richards, J. Dada, W. Peterson, T. Dininio, S. Grupposo, J. Danis, Mr. Genova, Coach.

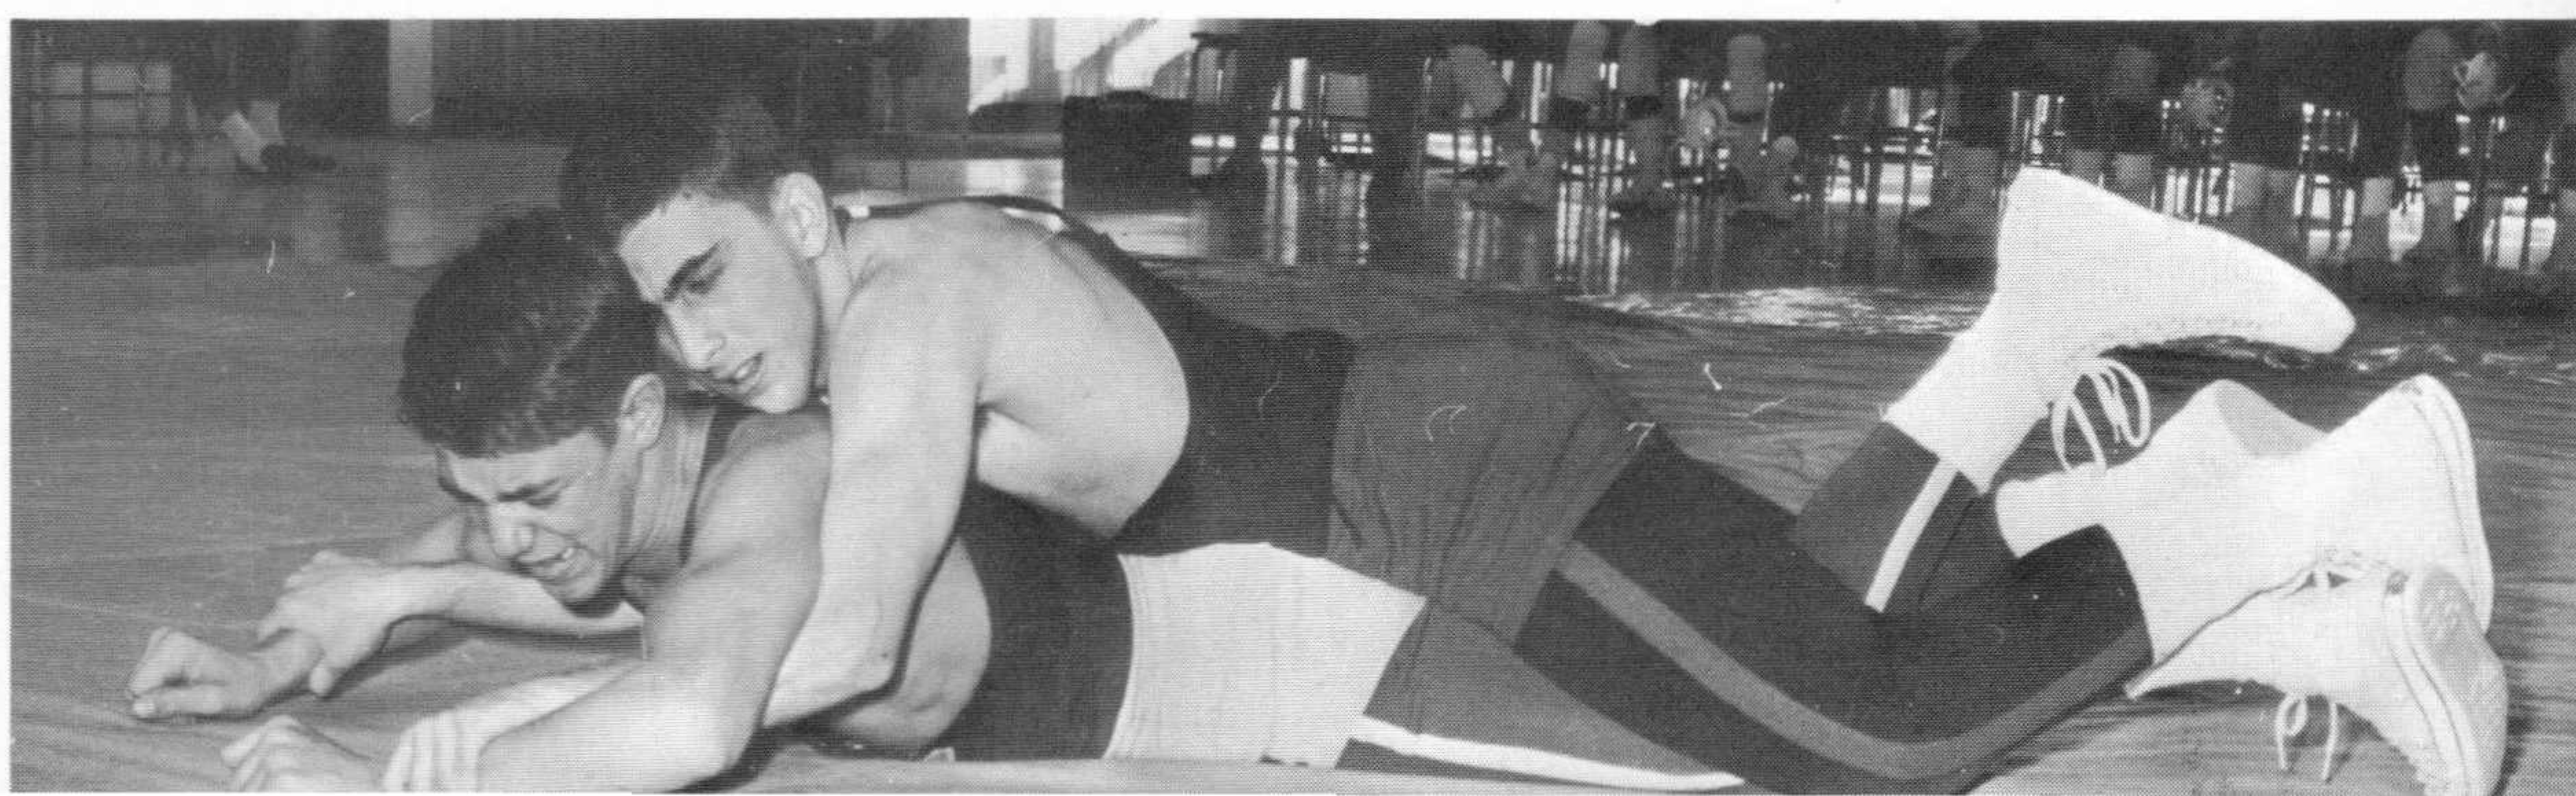

This year's wrestling team, in its second year at NHS, was captained by George Bowles and coached by Mr. William Genova. It compiled a 3-7 won-loss record at the Varsity level, and was undefeated at the Junior Varsity level.

The team played an important part in the formation of a future NHS sports strength as evidenced by the fact that a reserve of more skillful and experienced wrestlers has begun to be built up, extending this year into the sophomore ranks. There was an overall improvement in the team from last year and there were two wrestlers who placed in the State Wrestling Matches. These boys were Asa Dye, who was second in the 157-lb. class, and George Bowles, who placed third in the 147-lb. class.

Best of all, our wrestlers gained a feeling of personal accomplishment and the ingrained sense of sportsmanship so inherent in wrestling.

WRESTLING

L-R: C. White, M. Murphy, D. Chiacchai, N. Nettleton (President), Miss Tillson, N. Hayes, J. O'Neil, N. Tulloch.

The social events of the year included a picnic at Donna Chiacchia's home in October, a short trip to Harrison, Maine, in February, and the annual banquet held on June 1. Money was raised through the sale of candy after school, and a car wash and the sale of stationery. The officers for the year included Nancy Nettleton, president, Peggy Murphy, vice president, Nancy Hayes, secretary, and Nancy Tulloch, treasurer, with Judy O'Neil senior representative, Donna Chiacchia junior representative and Daun Washington sophomore representative. Carol White was program chairman.

This year Natick had a better team with more girls out than we have had for several years. Under the guidance of Miss Ena Tillson and Captain Nancy Nettleton we competed in matches with Braintree, Wellesley, Framingham North and South, and Needham. The girls enjoyed themselves and feel they have made many friends among the girls from the competing schools.

GIRLS JUNIOR VARSITY HOCKEY

With the swish of the basketball gliding through the basket, the girls' basketball team began their impressive season. Much credit is due the girls who, with limited practice, came up with the record of five wins, two losses and one tie.

Much of the success was due to the excellent leadership of co-captains Nancy Nettleton and Nancy Tulloch, assisted by seniors Kathy Horton, Judy O'Neill and several promising underclassmen coached by Miss Vasile.

BASKETBALL

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Although the team managed to win just one game, the playing was heads up most of the season. The experience gained this year should make for more wins next year. Under the guidance of Miss Tillson and Captain Ellen Bransfield a high mark has been set for next year's team. The seniors will be missed, but hopefully they will be replaced by ambitious underclassmen. Much credit is due the girls who were so very conscientious and seldom missed practice.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

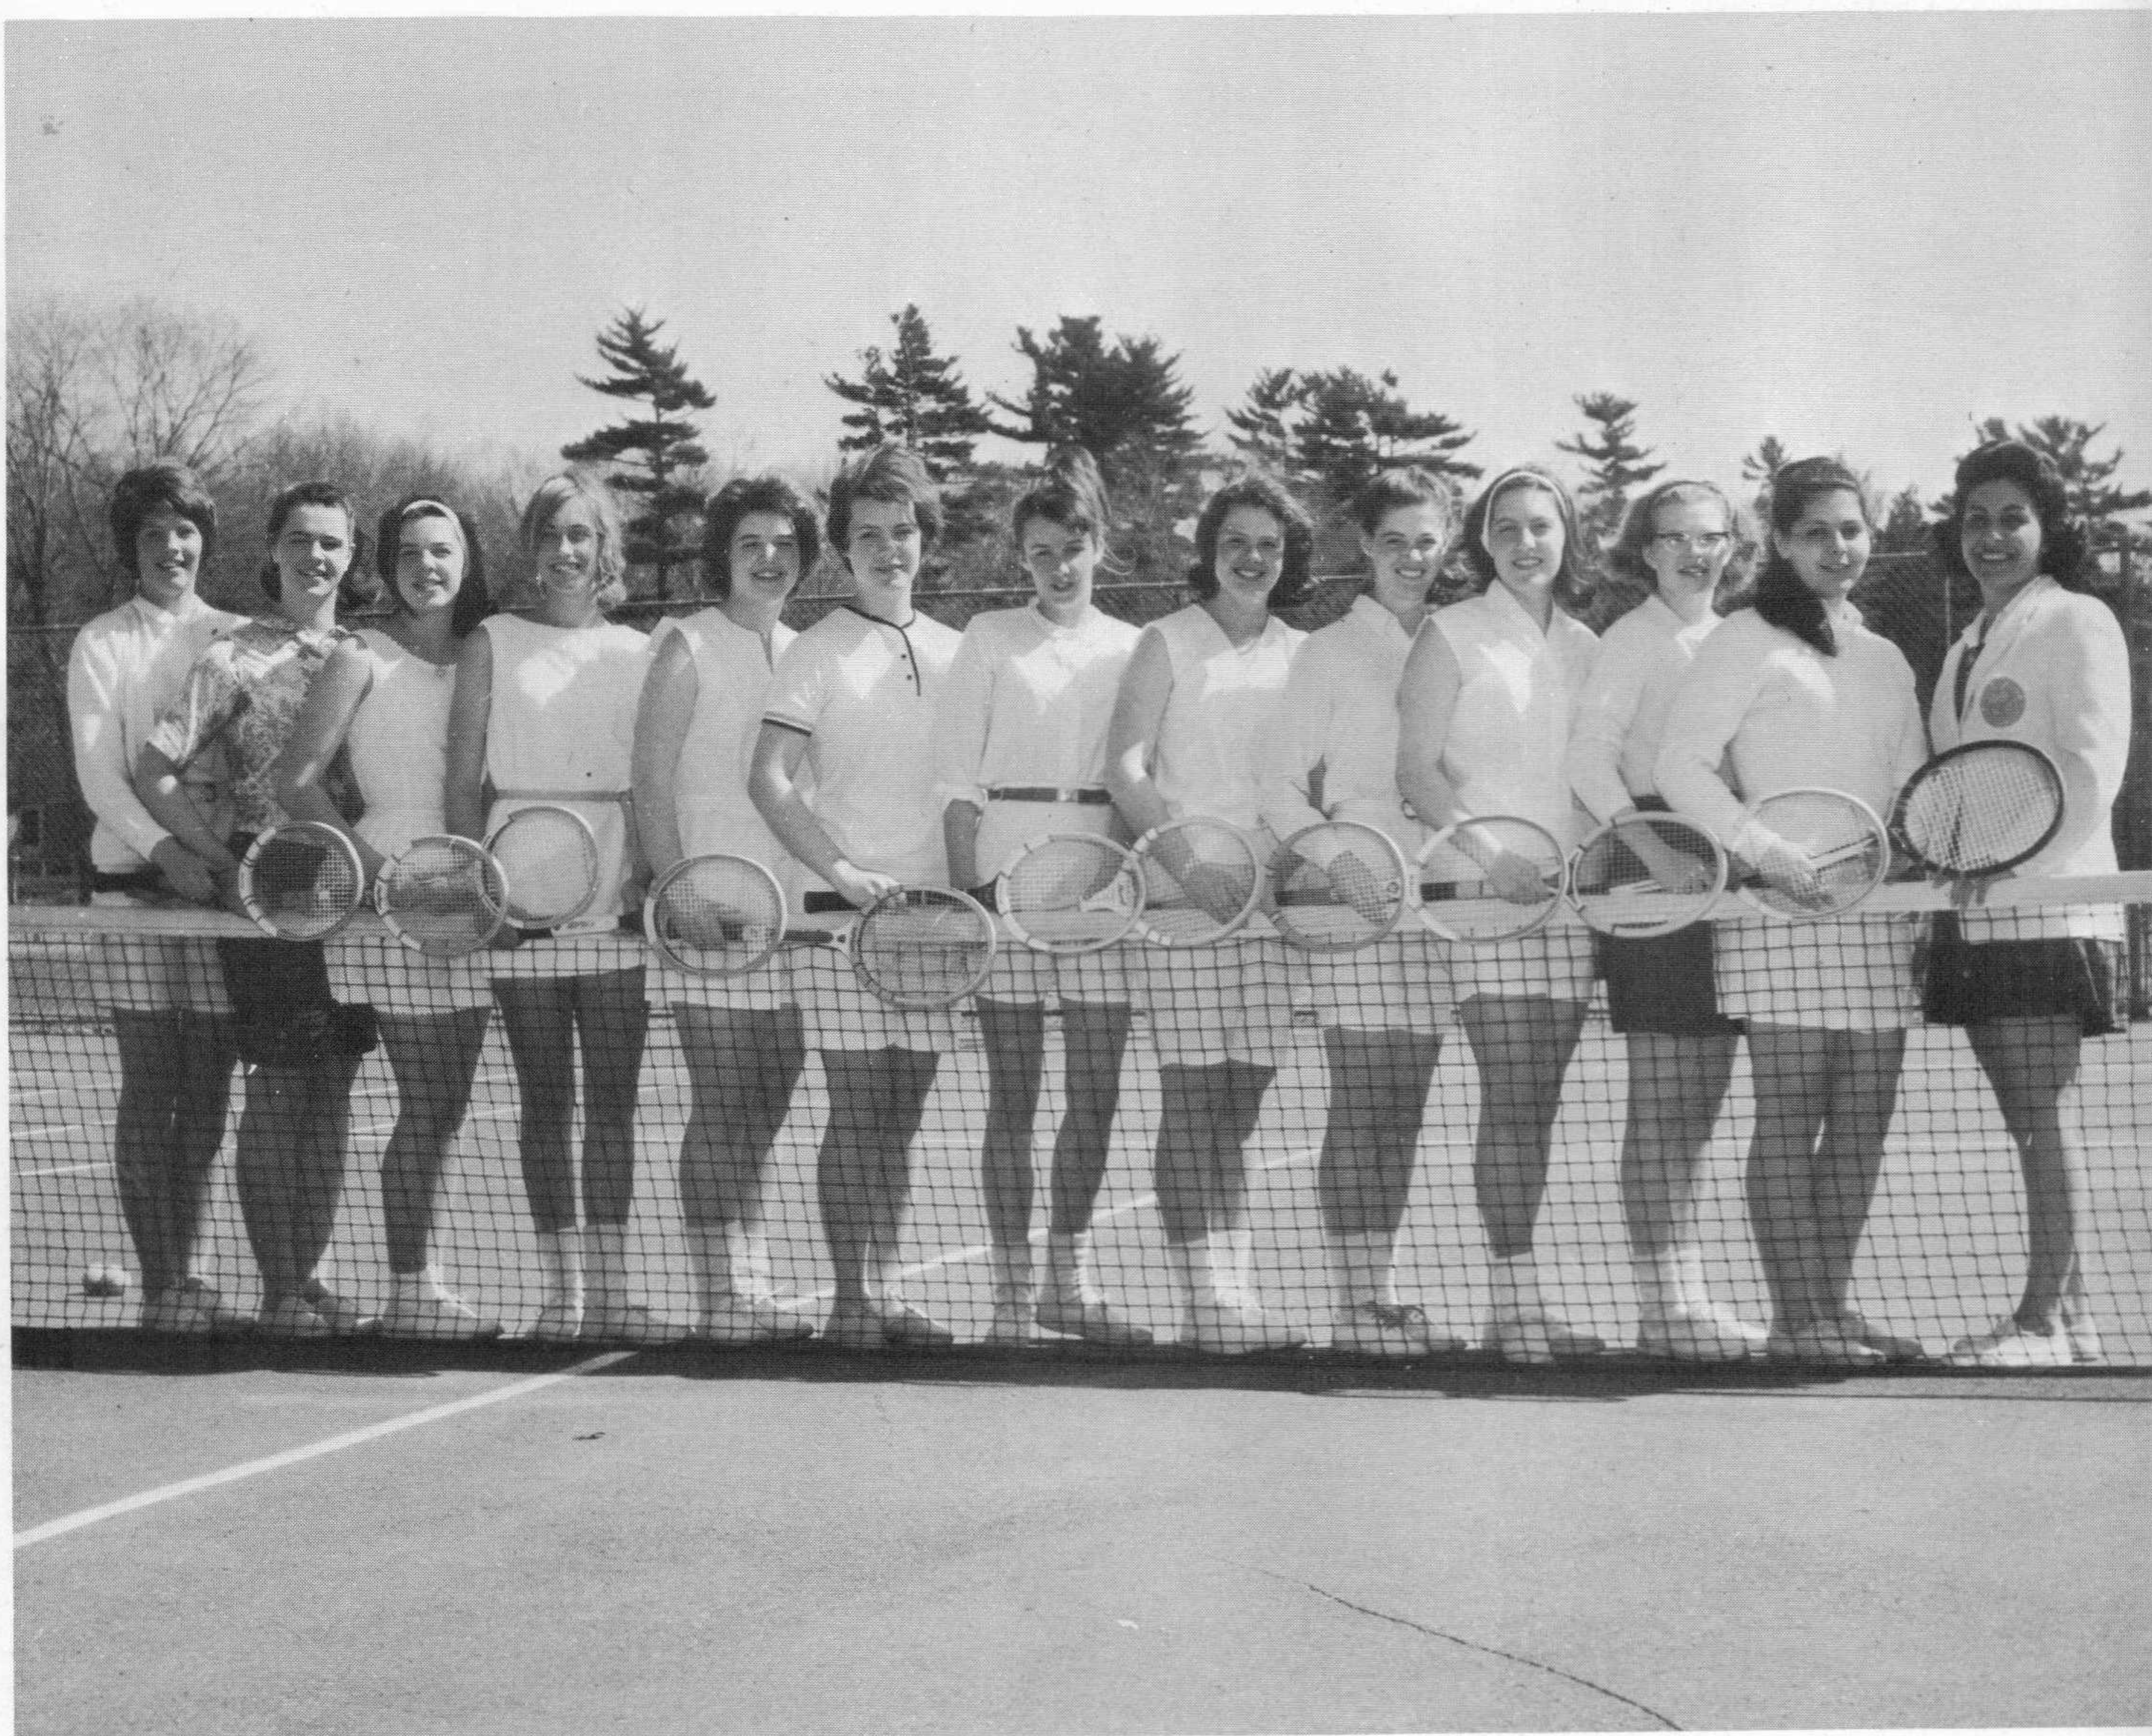

TENNIS

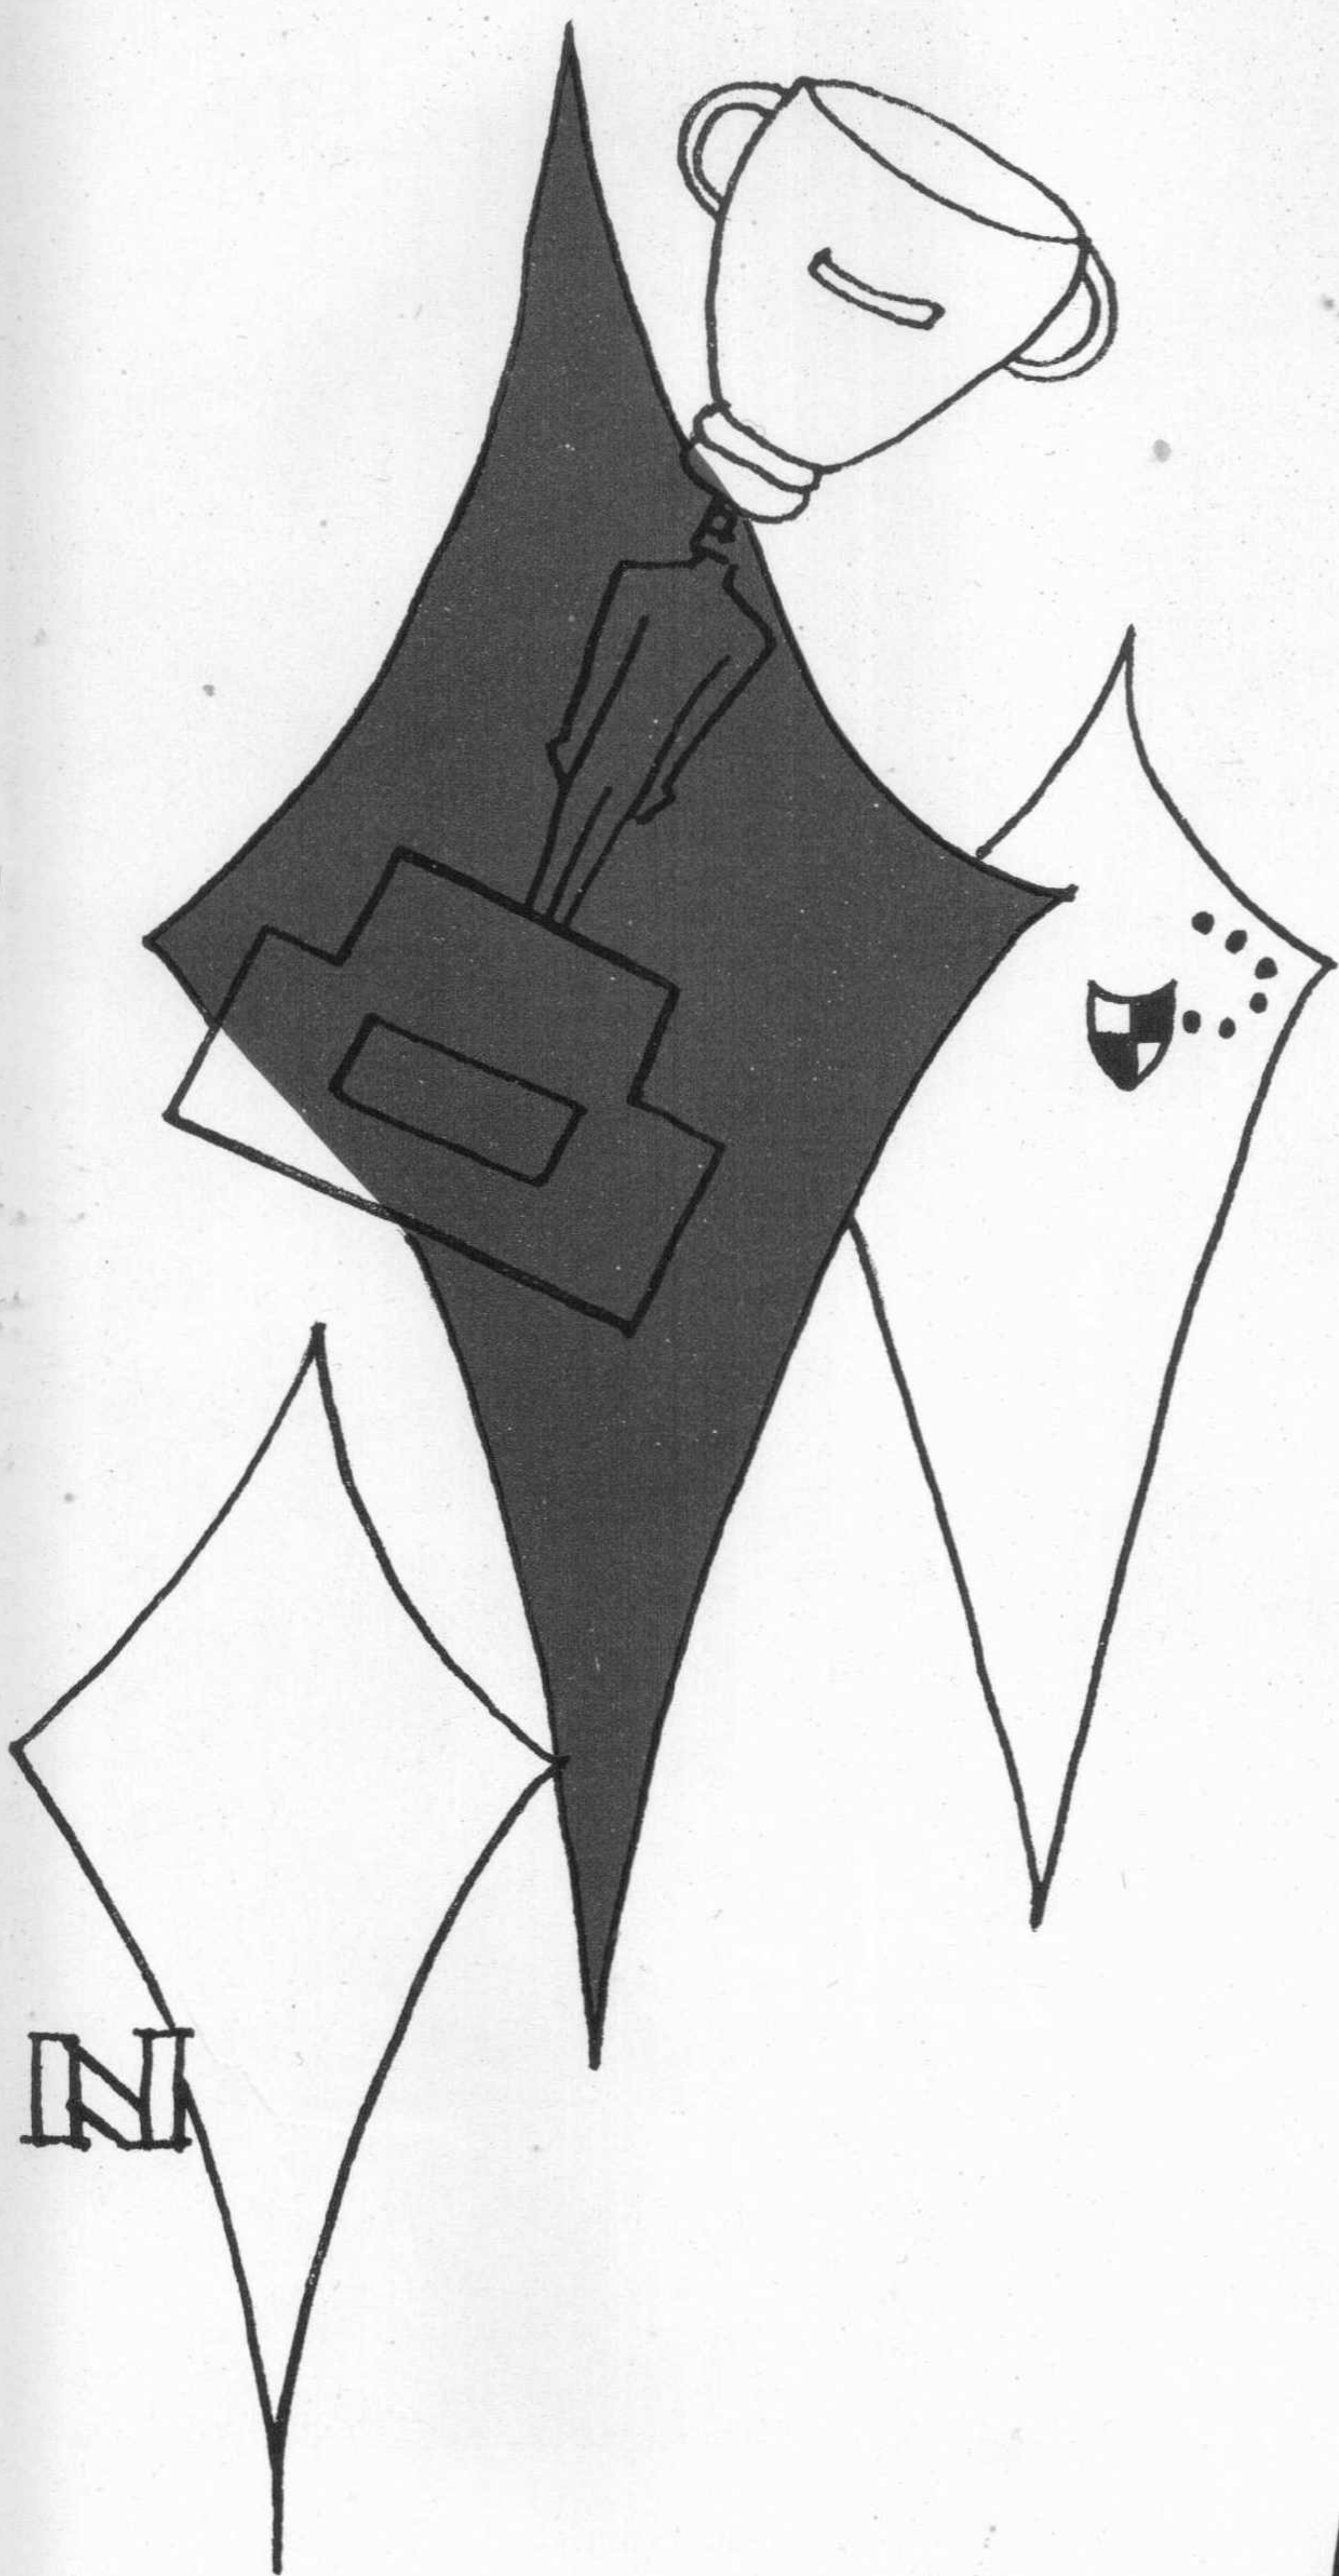

Although tennis is just beginning to become a popular sport at Natick High, the success of the team should indicate that we have the potential to become a great tennis town. With a record of four wins, four losses, the Natick racketeers won many of their matches by a margin of five points, while losing by only one.

Much credit should be given our senior captain, and first in singles, Ellen Fishman, who always did her best against such tennis towns as Wellesley and Needham. Other seniors who were an asset to our team were Holly Walter and Paula Phinney, but most of all credit is due Nancy Gregg, who won all her second singles' matches and most of them handily.

Miss Vasile is looking forward to a victorious season next year.

L-R: N. Maloy, P. Phinney, R. Clow, K. Coolidge, N. Gregg, J. James, M. Carey, P. Chapman, J. Tripp, G. Jensen, J. Johnson, E. Fishman, Miss Vasile.

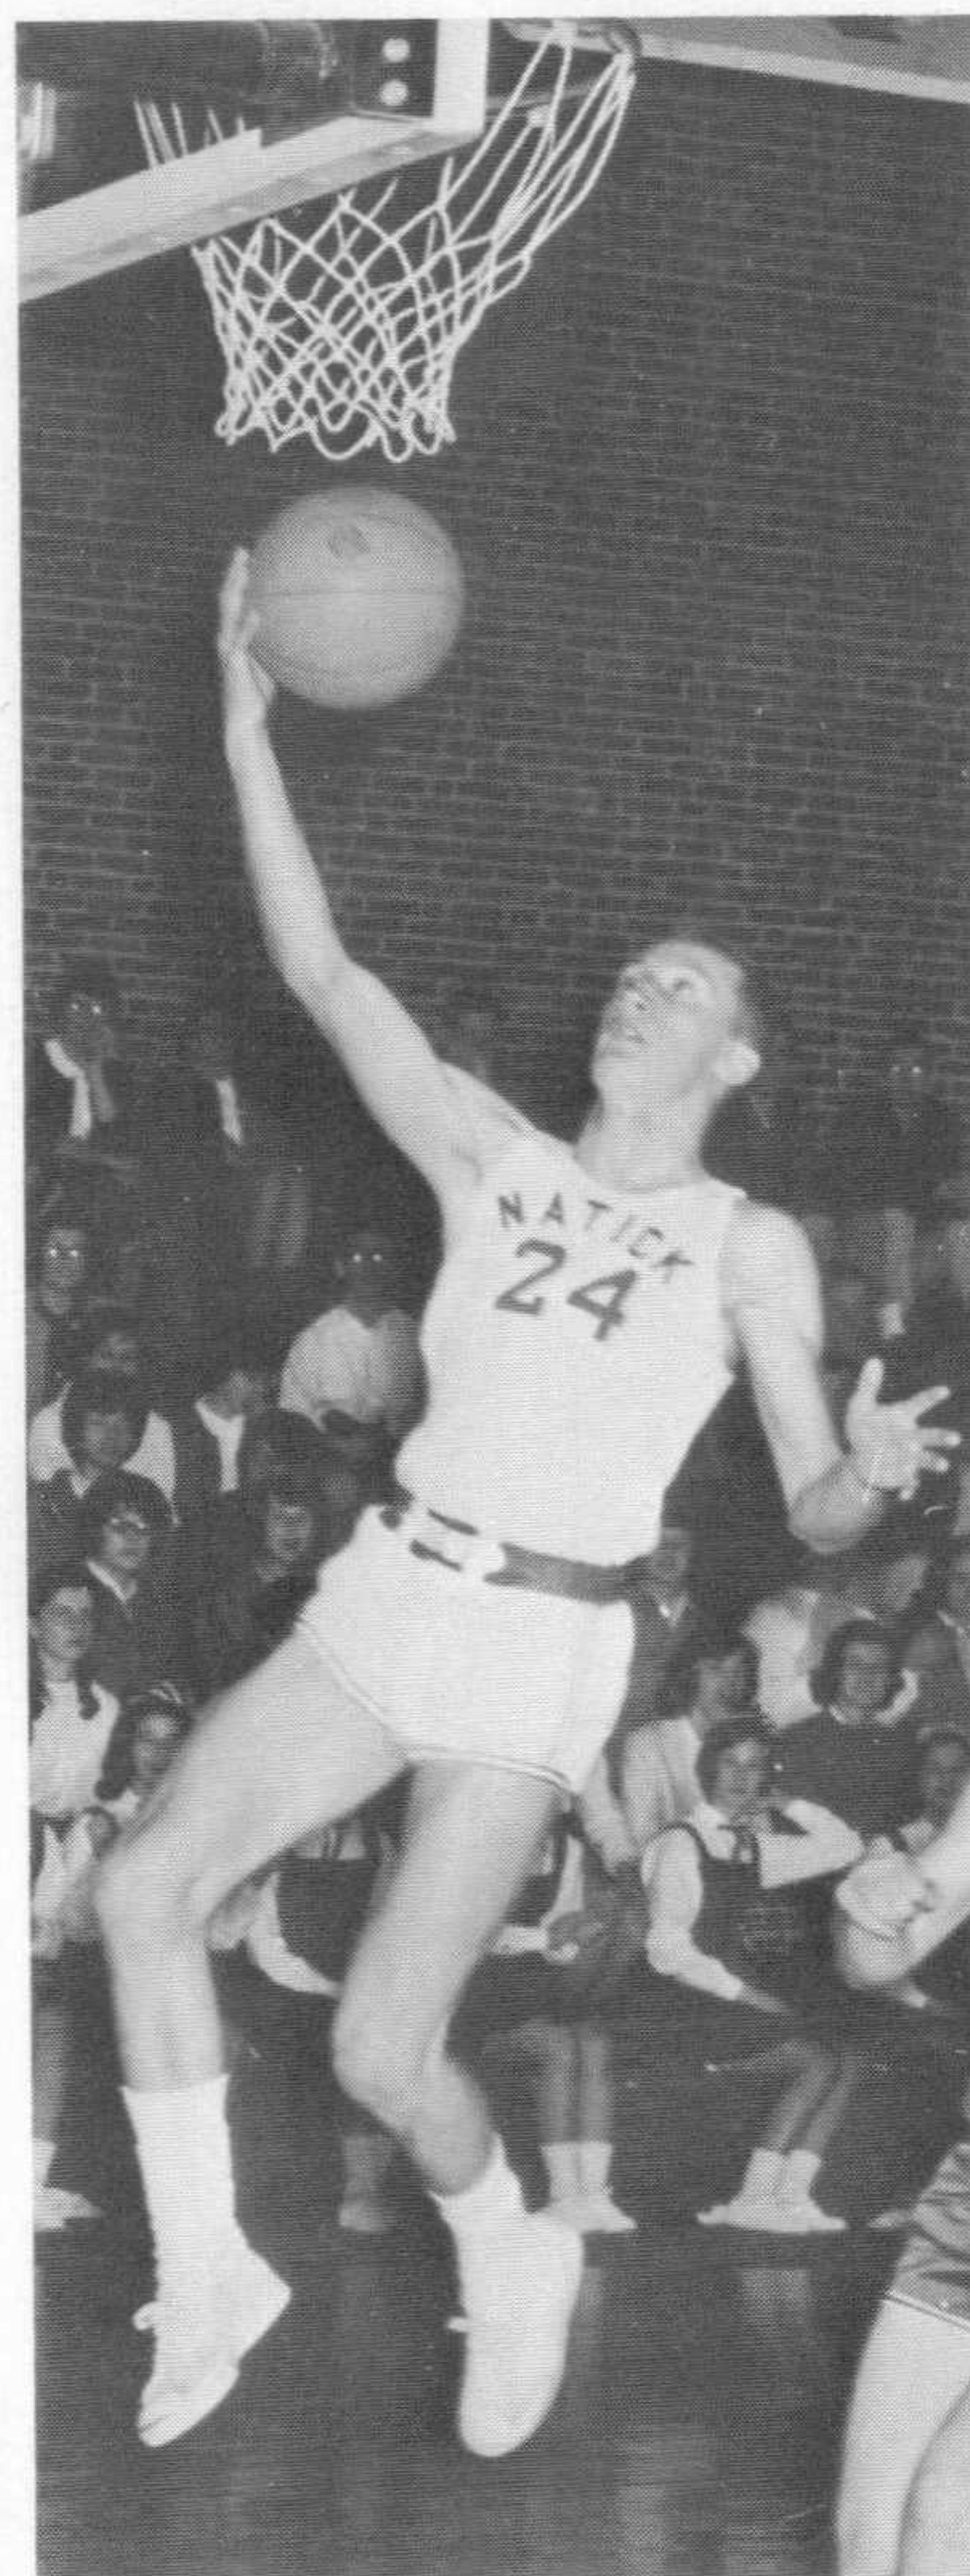

AWARDS

William Pettingell

OUTSTANDING ATHLETE

The faculty and students were very happy to be present at the Class Day exercises when the coveted title of outstanding athlete at Natick High was awarded to Bill Pettingell.

Bill has won honors in football, basketball, and baseball during his three years at Natick High. At the Thanksgiving Game of 1963 he completed the pass that defeated Framingham South during the last fifty seconds of the game.

In basketball Bill scored more points than any other basketball player in our history. He was the recipient of the Edward Kelleher Sportsmanship Award for his action in the Framingham South game.

Bill's batting average on the diamond was over three hundred during three consecutive years. As All-Scholastic shortstop his junior year he was chosen a member of the Hearst team that played in New York.

Bill will enter Providence College in September. Our very best wishes go with him.

J. Kiley, R. Wright, T. Hawes, T. Gilbert.

At an assembly held early in December the members of the Varsity, JV and sophomore football teams were awarded letters. Coaches Bennett, Whalen, Colombo, and Collins made the awards.

James Kiley was the winner of the William Hannigan Award, Timothy Hawes the Thomas Mallory Award, and Timothy Gilbert the Rotary Award.

This year an award was presented to Russell Wright for excellence in Cross Country. The team and Coach Bransfield are very proud of his achievement.

Winter Sports Awards

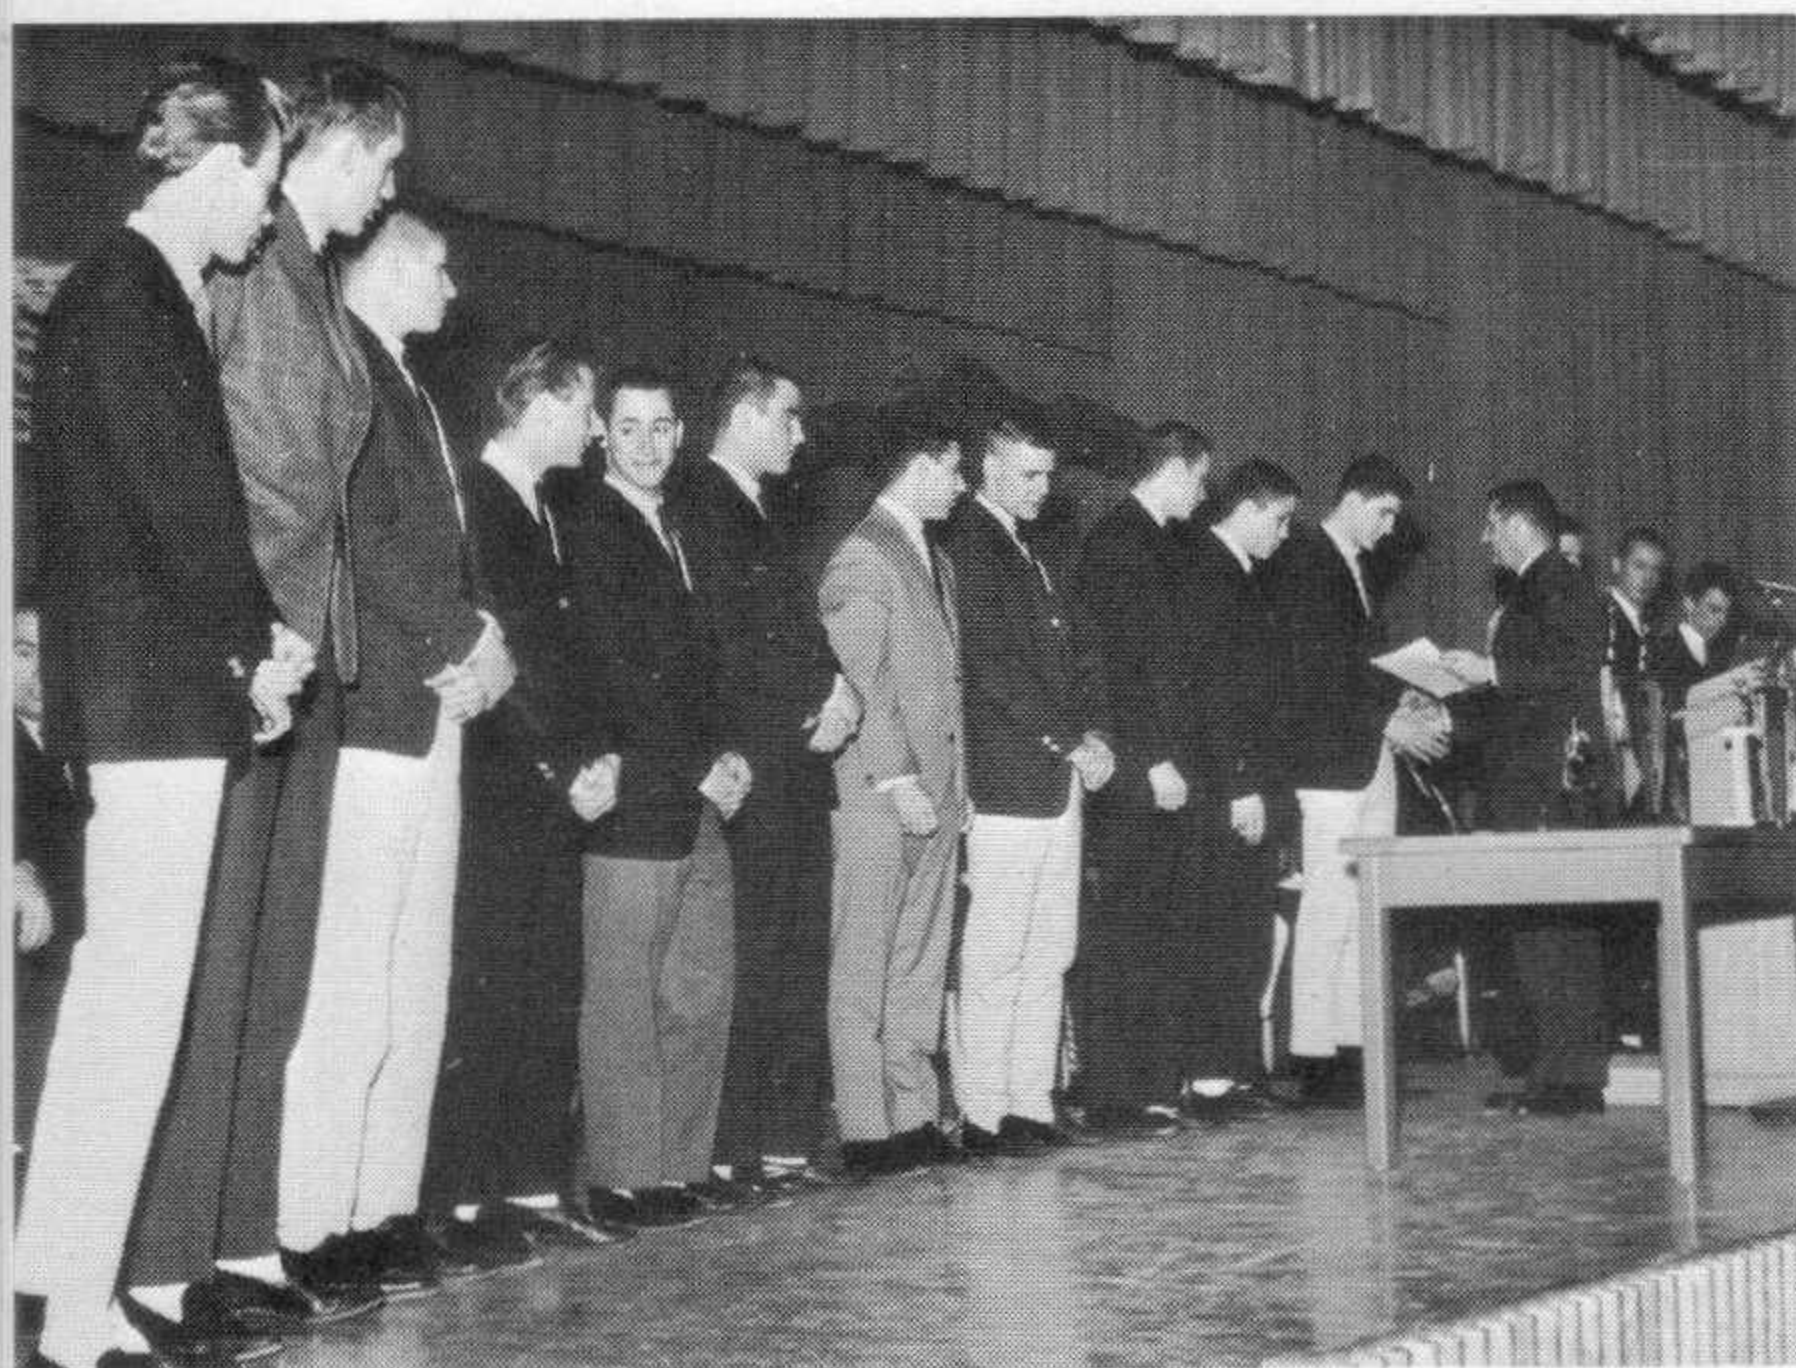

At an assembly program the annual awards were presented to outstanding athletes in indoor track, basketball, hockey and wrestling. The award presented by the Kiwanis Club of Natick to the most valuable Indoor Track squad member went to Robert Penswick.

In basketball Bill Pettingell was awarded the Leonard Foley Trophy for outstanding performance and Dave MacGregor the John F. Donahue Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship.

The Ralph Howard Trophy for the most valuable player in hockey went to Paul Bacon and the Metropolitan Track League Trophy to Coach Whalen and his co-captains for the third consecutive year.

Natick's cheerleaders won the cheerleading competition in a contest with eight other schools. A trophy was presented to Barbara McEvoy.

Letters were then awarded to boys in Varsity and JV basketball, hockey, wrestling, and baseball.

First Row, L-R: S. Saradnick, J. Whalen, A. Dye, N. Knight, S. Dubosky, R. Hennigar, C. Welch.
Second Row: Vincent Gruppiso, P. Smith, P. Lane, Herbert Sedlis.

Spring Sports Awards

At an assembly in June trophies and letters were awarded those boys who participated in the spring sports program.

Mr. Sloan presented the members of the Tennis team their letters; Mr. Vaughan the members of the Golf team; Mr. Whalen the trackmen; and Mr. Carroll the baseball players.

The winners of the all-sports award given by the local B'nai B'rith was Asa Dye. John Whalen won the award for the most valuable player on the track team and Ronald Hennigar the award for the most improved player.

Steve Saradnick won the award given to the most valuable baseball player. Steve also won this coveted award in his sophomore year.

SCIENCE AWARDS

Seated, L-R: M. Sissenwine, P. Alexander, G. Marshall, C. Winters, T. Dininio, N. Fuller. Standing: Mr. Bennett, Dr. Hoge, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Drowne, W. Hadden, A. Maginnis, C. Robinson.

The Twelfth Annual Science Fair sponsored by the Natick Rotary Club was held the first week in March.

The Grand Prize Winner for this year's fair was Gay Marshall, who later represented Natick High at the Massachusetts State Fair, placing third.

In the field of Advanced Biology Gay placed first; Marjorie Kane, second; and Ronald Monaco, third. In Physics, Thomas Dininio was first; Luke Szapakowski, second; and Linda Klein, third. In Chemistry, we find Michael Sissenwine, first; David Brown, second; and Nancy Gregg, third. Biology winners were Pamela Alexander, first; Debbie Patterson, second; and Ralph Patterson, third.

BUSINESS AWARDS

The Business Department of Natick High School presented its annual Business Awards Assembly on May 1. Before the awards were given, Mr. Calvin Sholl of Boston, formerly of Fitchburg Paper Company and Bristol Laboratories, spoke about the opportunities of young people in business today.

Improvement Awards were given to Typewriting I: Nancy Roberge; Typewriting II: Carol O'Brien; and Business Arithmetic: Helen Young. Outstanding students award, Typewriting I: Carol Manna, Kristine Babinske, David Korenberg, Joyce Bellofatto, Joyce Cameron, Judith Judge, Judith Balck and Shirley Gayton; Typewriting II: Linda McAlister; Personal Typewriting: Richard Kopelman, William Klicka, Philip Beliveau, Carolyn Zatz; Notehand: Judith Adams, Susan Dillon, Gail Garner, Ernest Grassey, Walter Johnson, Dorothy McMurtray, Gail Doggart, Christine McDonald, Jean McDonald, and Barbara Waddington; Business Arithmetic: Margaret Doucette; Business Records: Frances Berry and James Casey; Typewriting I and Bookkeeping I: Mary Lewis; Clerical Practice: Ellen Hurvitz; Bookkeeping I: Rosalie Fornaro, Judith Gudinas, Paul Kaizer, Michele Alvarez and Dorothy Brady; Bookkeeping II: Robert Hopf and William Burke; Business Law: Denise Porter, Susan Bannon and Andrea Fine; Retail Merchandising: Richard Boudreau and Herbert Phyllis; Economics: Jacqueline Olenick; and Office Machines I: Alicia Sideman.

The Advanced Stenography and Secretarial Practice Awards were presented to Beverly Sewnson and Joan Kent. These two girls were selected by the faculty of the Business Department as the outstanding students for 1964. They were honored on April 7, at a special Honors Day at the John Hancock Mutual Insurance Company in Boston. The basis for their selection was academic achievement, school and community citizenship, co-operation, appearance and initiative.

J. Kent, B. Swenson (For Shorthand Transcription and Secretarial Practice Awards) Mr. Drowne.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AWARDS

Four gold tie clasps and certificates were presented to Daniel Sauro, Michael O'Sullivan, Richard Munyon, and Donald Wight. They received the highest award possible at the State Industrial Arts Fair. These awards are four of only fifty presented to students throughout the state. They were chosen from a display of over 3,500 projects exhibited at Fitchburg State College.

This year, the Boston Globe presented a certificate of Merit to Miss Deborah Darling for her water color painting entitled "Solitude". The basis of the judging was on ability and skill in the use of techniques in the media.

The winning entry was selected and placed on exhibit at the State of Massachusetts Regional Exhibition.

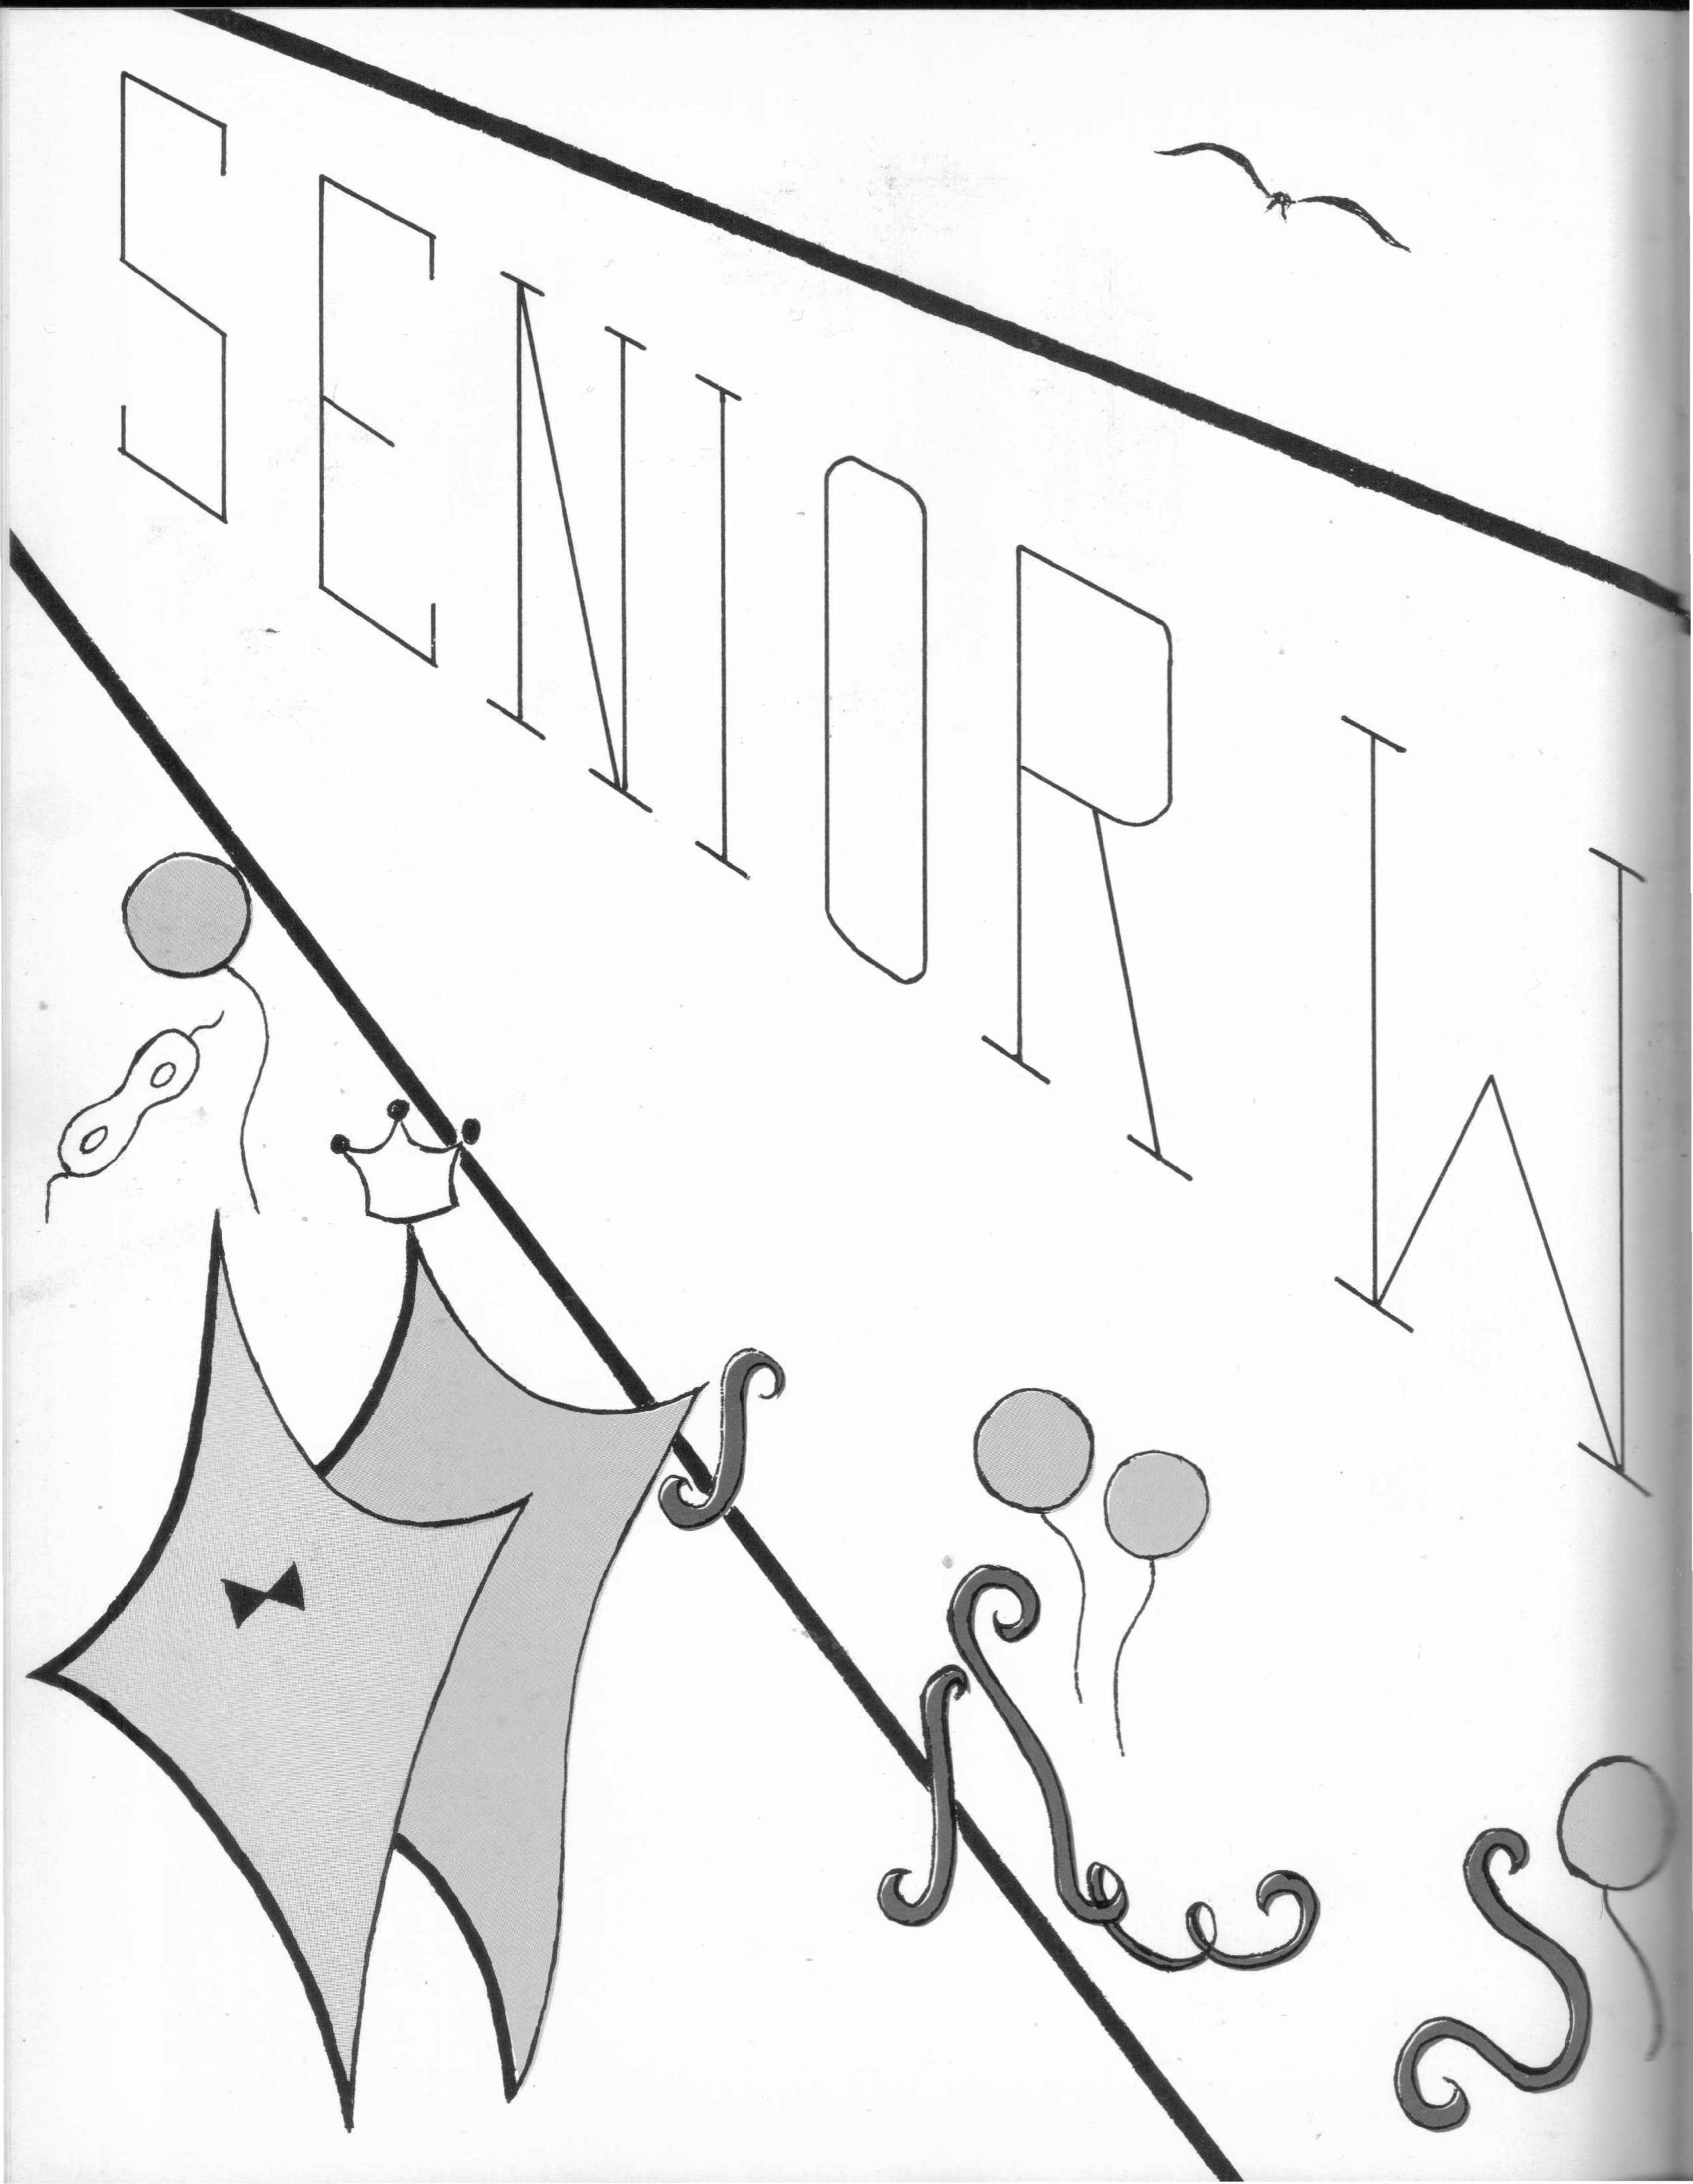

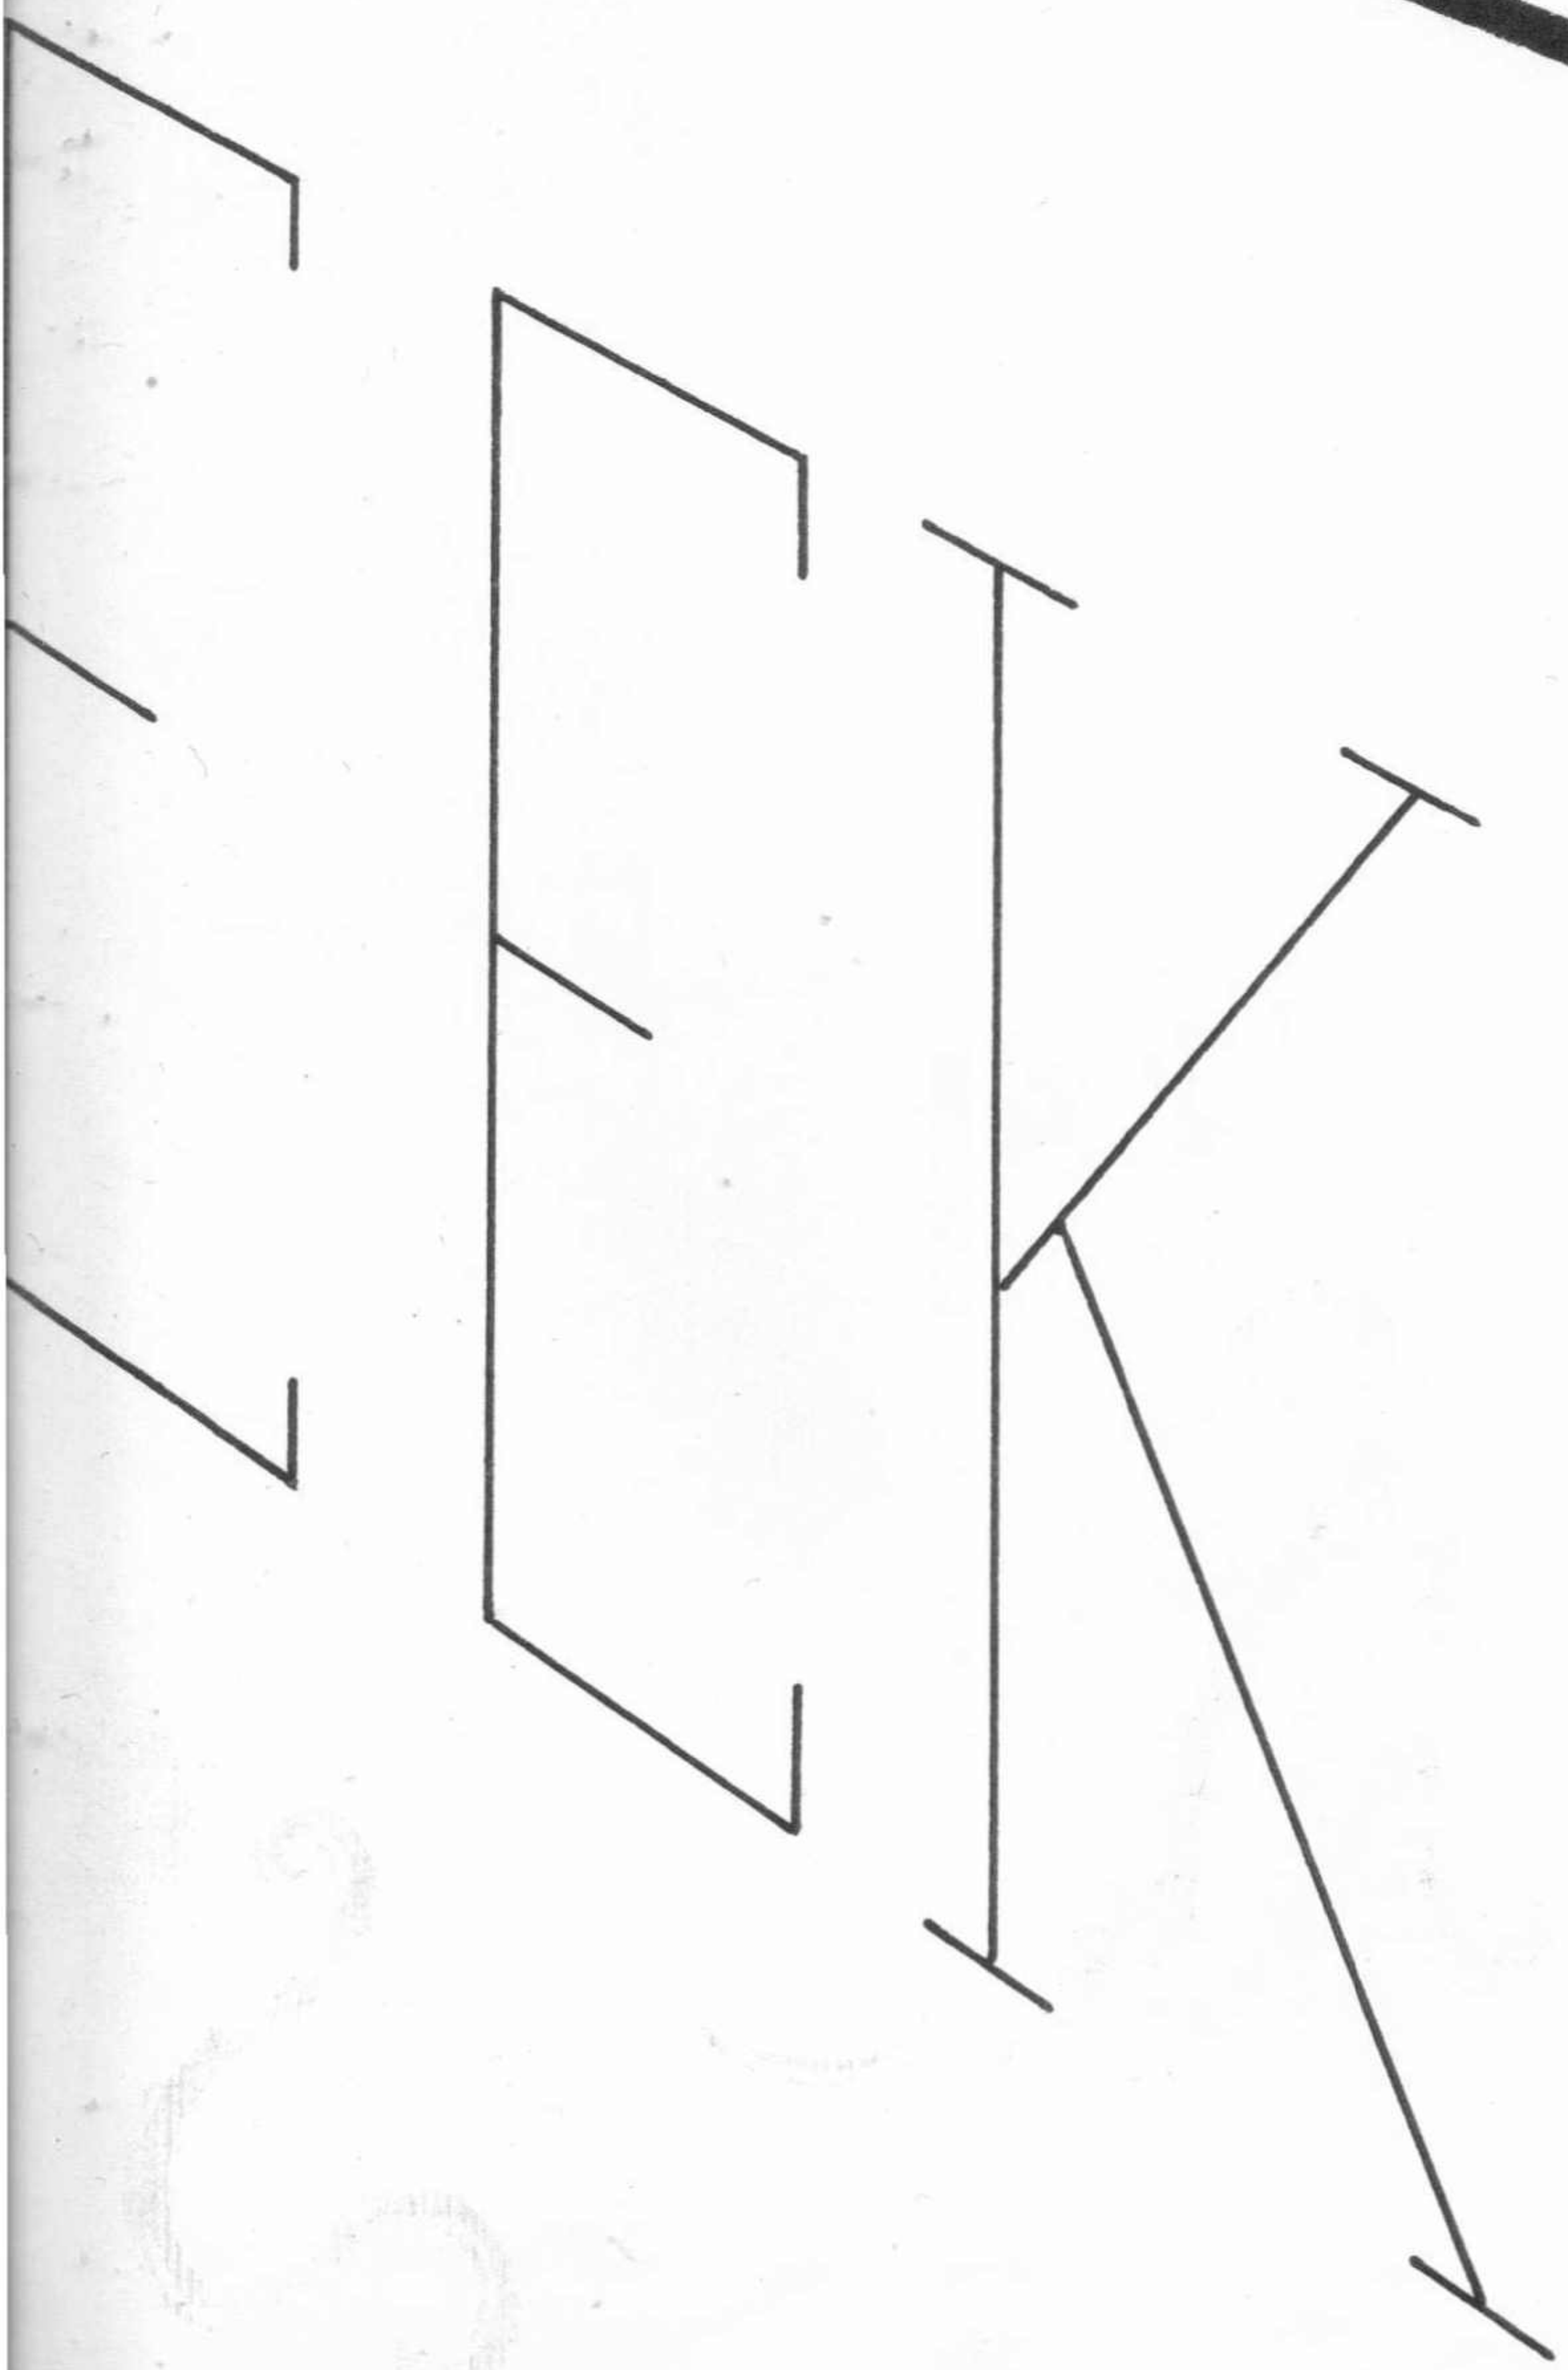

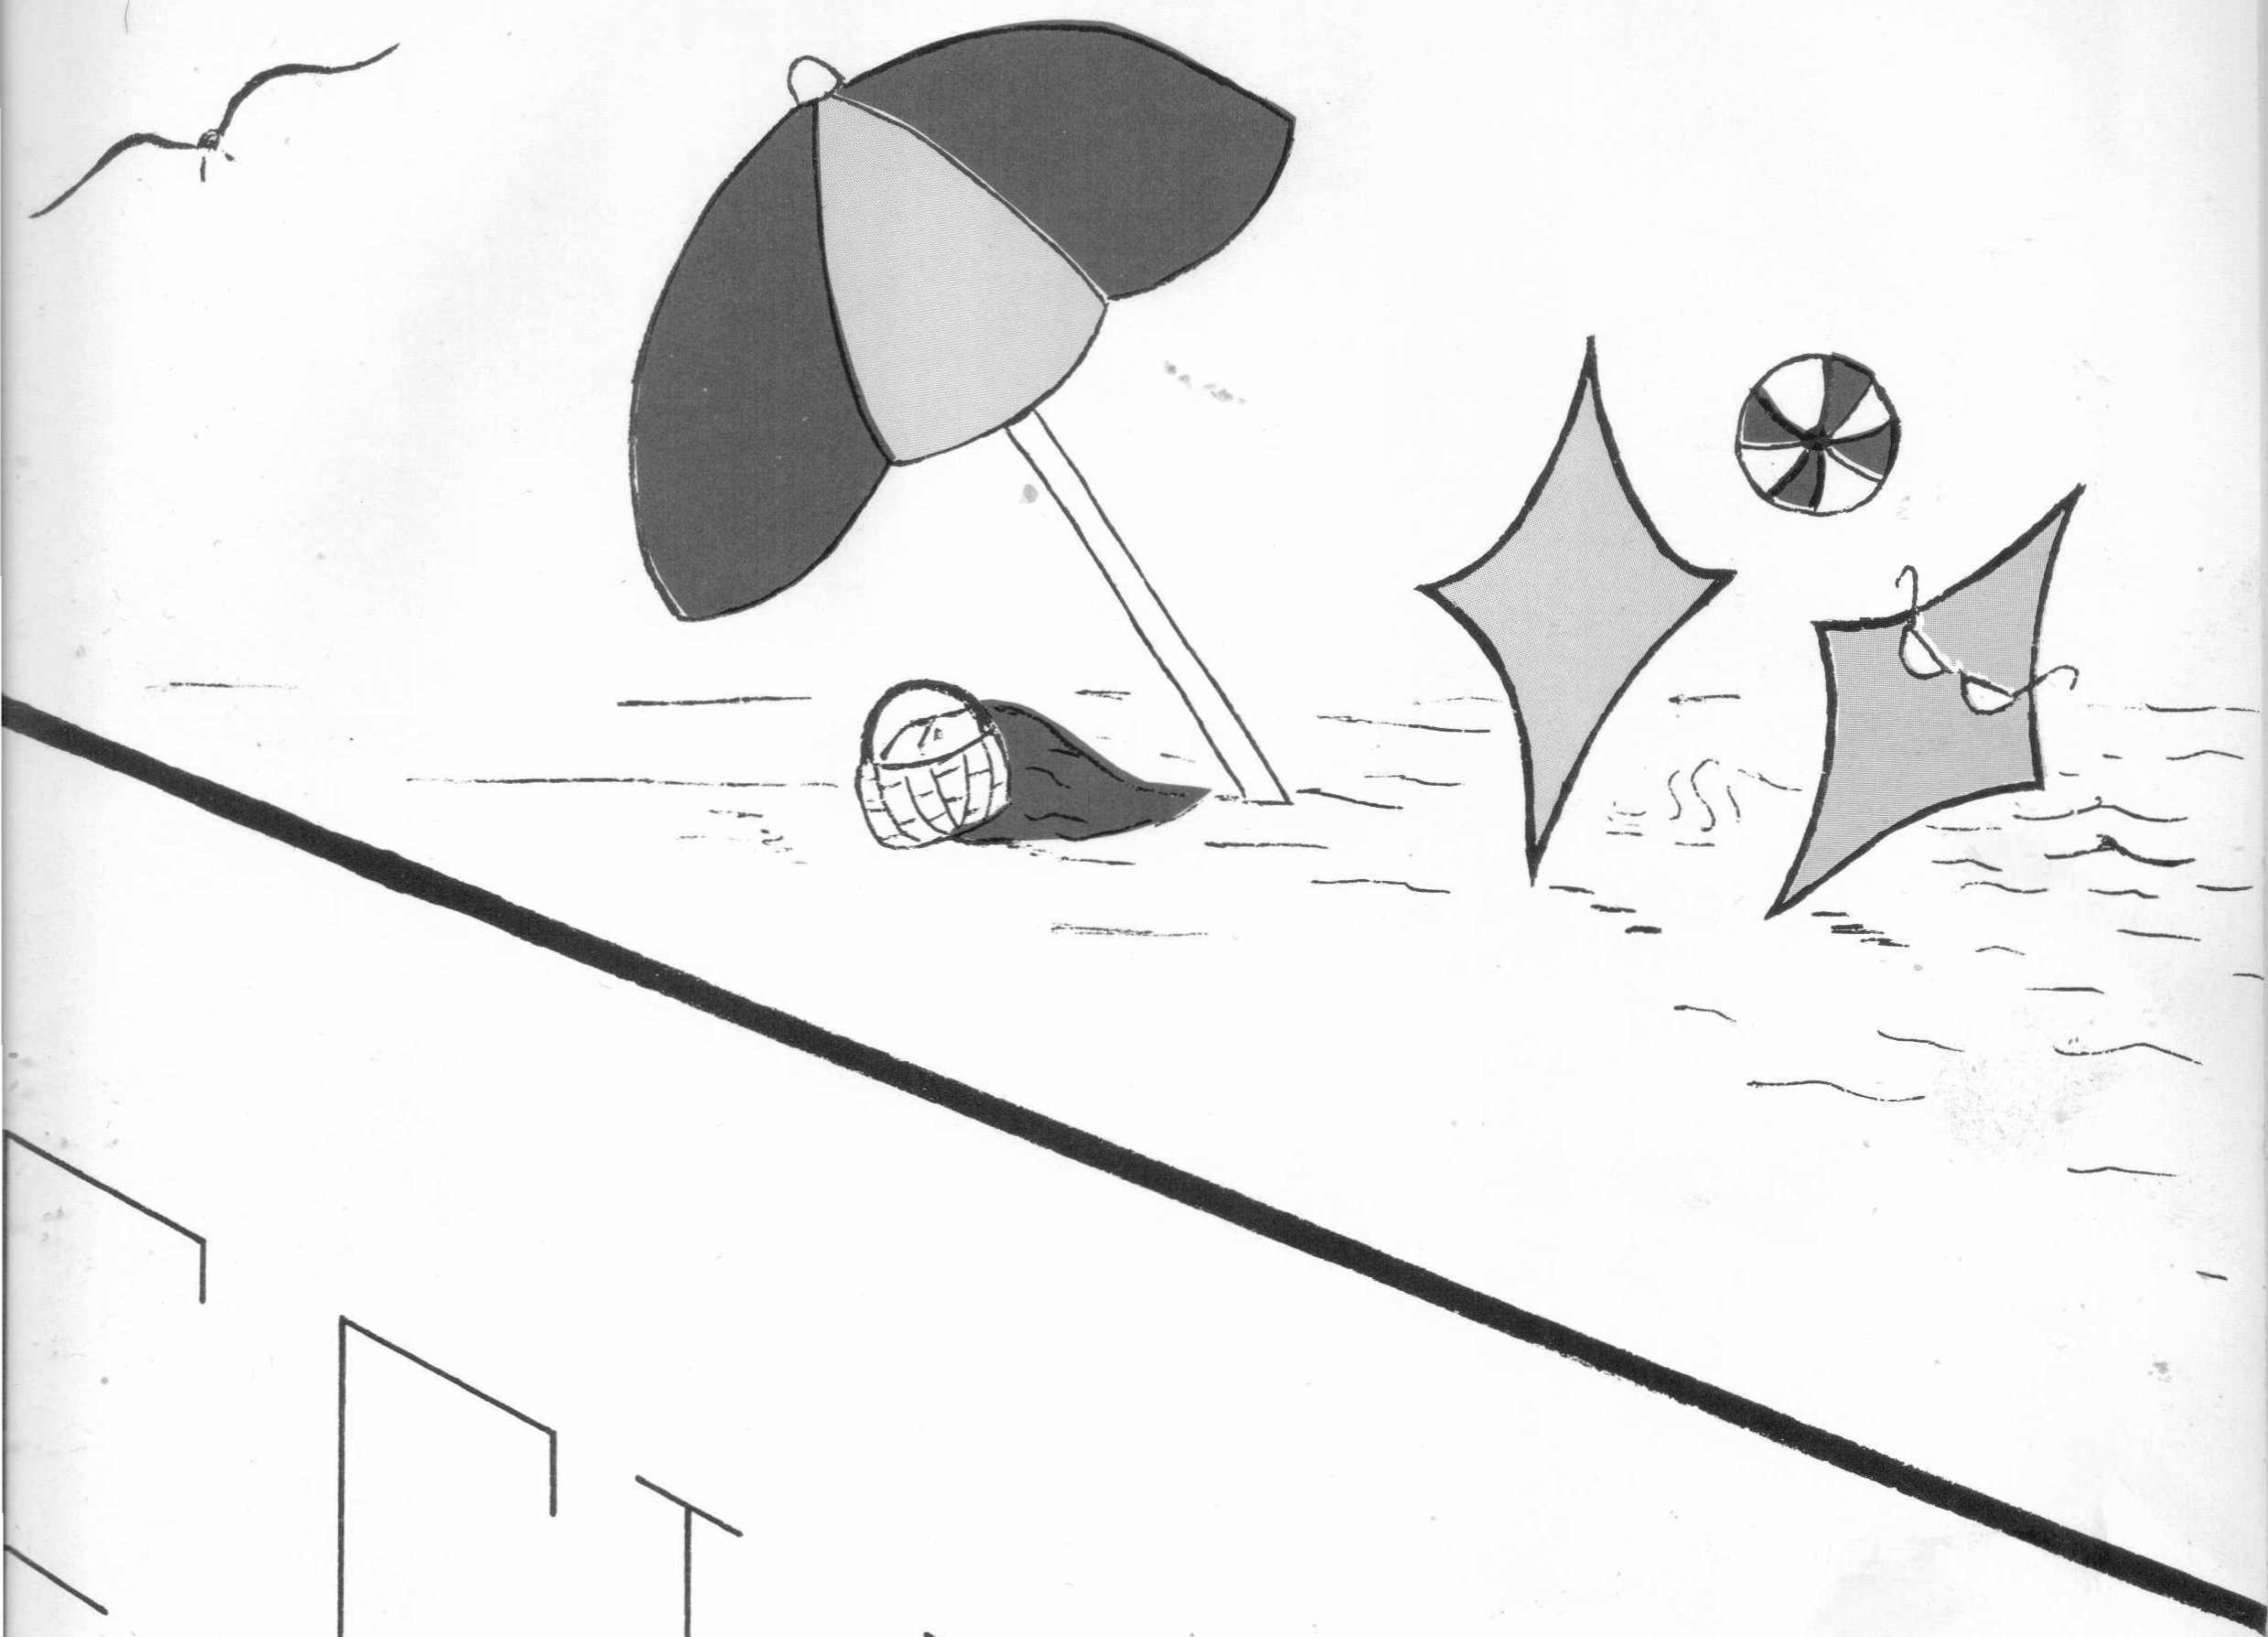

DRAMA AWARDS

The above were cited for meritorious work in the Dramatic Arts. All were given a shield.

SENIOR BANQUET

On June 2, the famed appetites of the class of 1964 were put to a test. The banquet tables were filled with roast beef, potatoes, vegetables, laughter, and friendly chatter, as President Bob Lucas welcomed his classmates, Mr. Mannix, Miss Buckley, and invited guests to an evening of good eating and enjoyment.

Speakers Mr. Carey and Mr. Hennigar, preceded the presentation of a class ring to Alicia Sideman as a token of affection and esteem which the class holds for her.

Dancing to Paul Ambleis' music followed the presentation of gifts to Miss Buckley and Mr. Mannix; a small sign of the large amount of respect and gratitude which we feel for them.

June 3, 1964, turned out to be a "fun" day for any senior who liked to do almost anything.

The Class Picnic provided softball, tennis, swimming, sun bathing, dancing, basketball, football, relaxing chatter, and most important of all, eating. Barbequed chicken, a delicious salad, rolls, tonic, and a dessert were available to those who wanted the pleasure of good food to eat. Supper was served for about two hours; followed by more sports and dancing.

Our thanks go to the chaperones of the evening, and to the Neetega Club which provided the records for the night.

SENIOR PICNIC

CLASS DAY

On June 4, 1964 the largest class to graduate from Natick High School, reflected upon the last three years of their lives, as they marched with the dignity and solemnity of Natick High School tradition across the stage to Pomp and Circumstance.

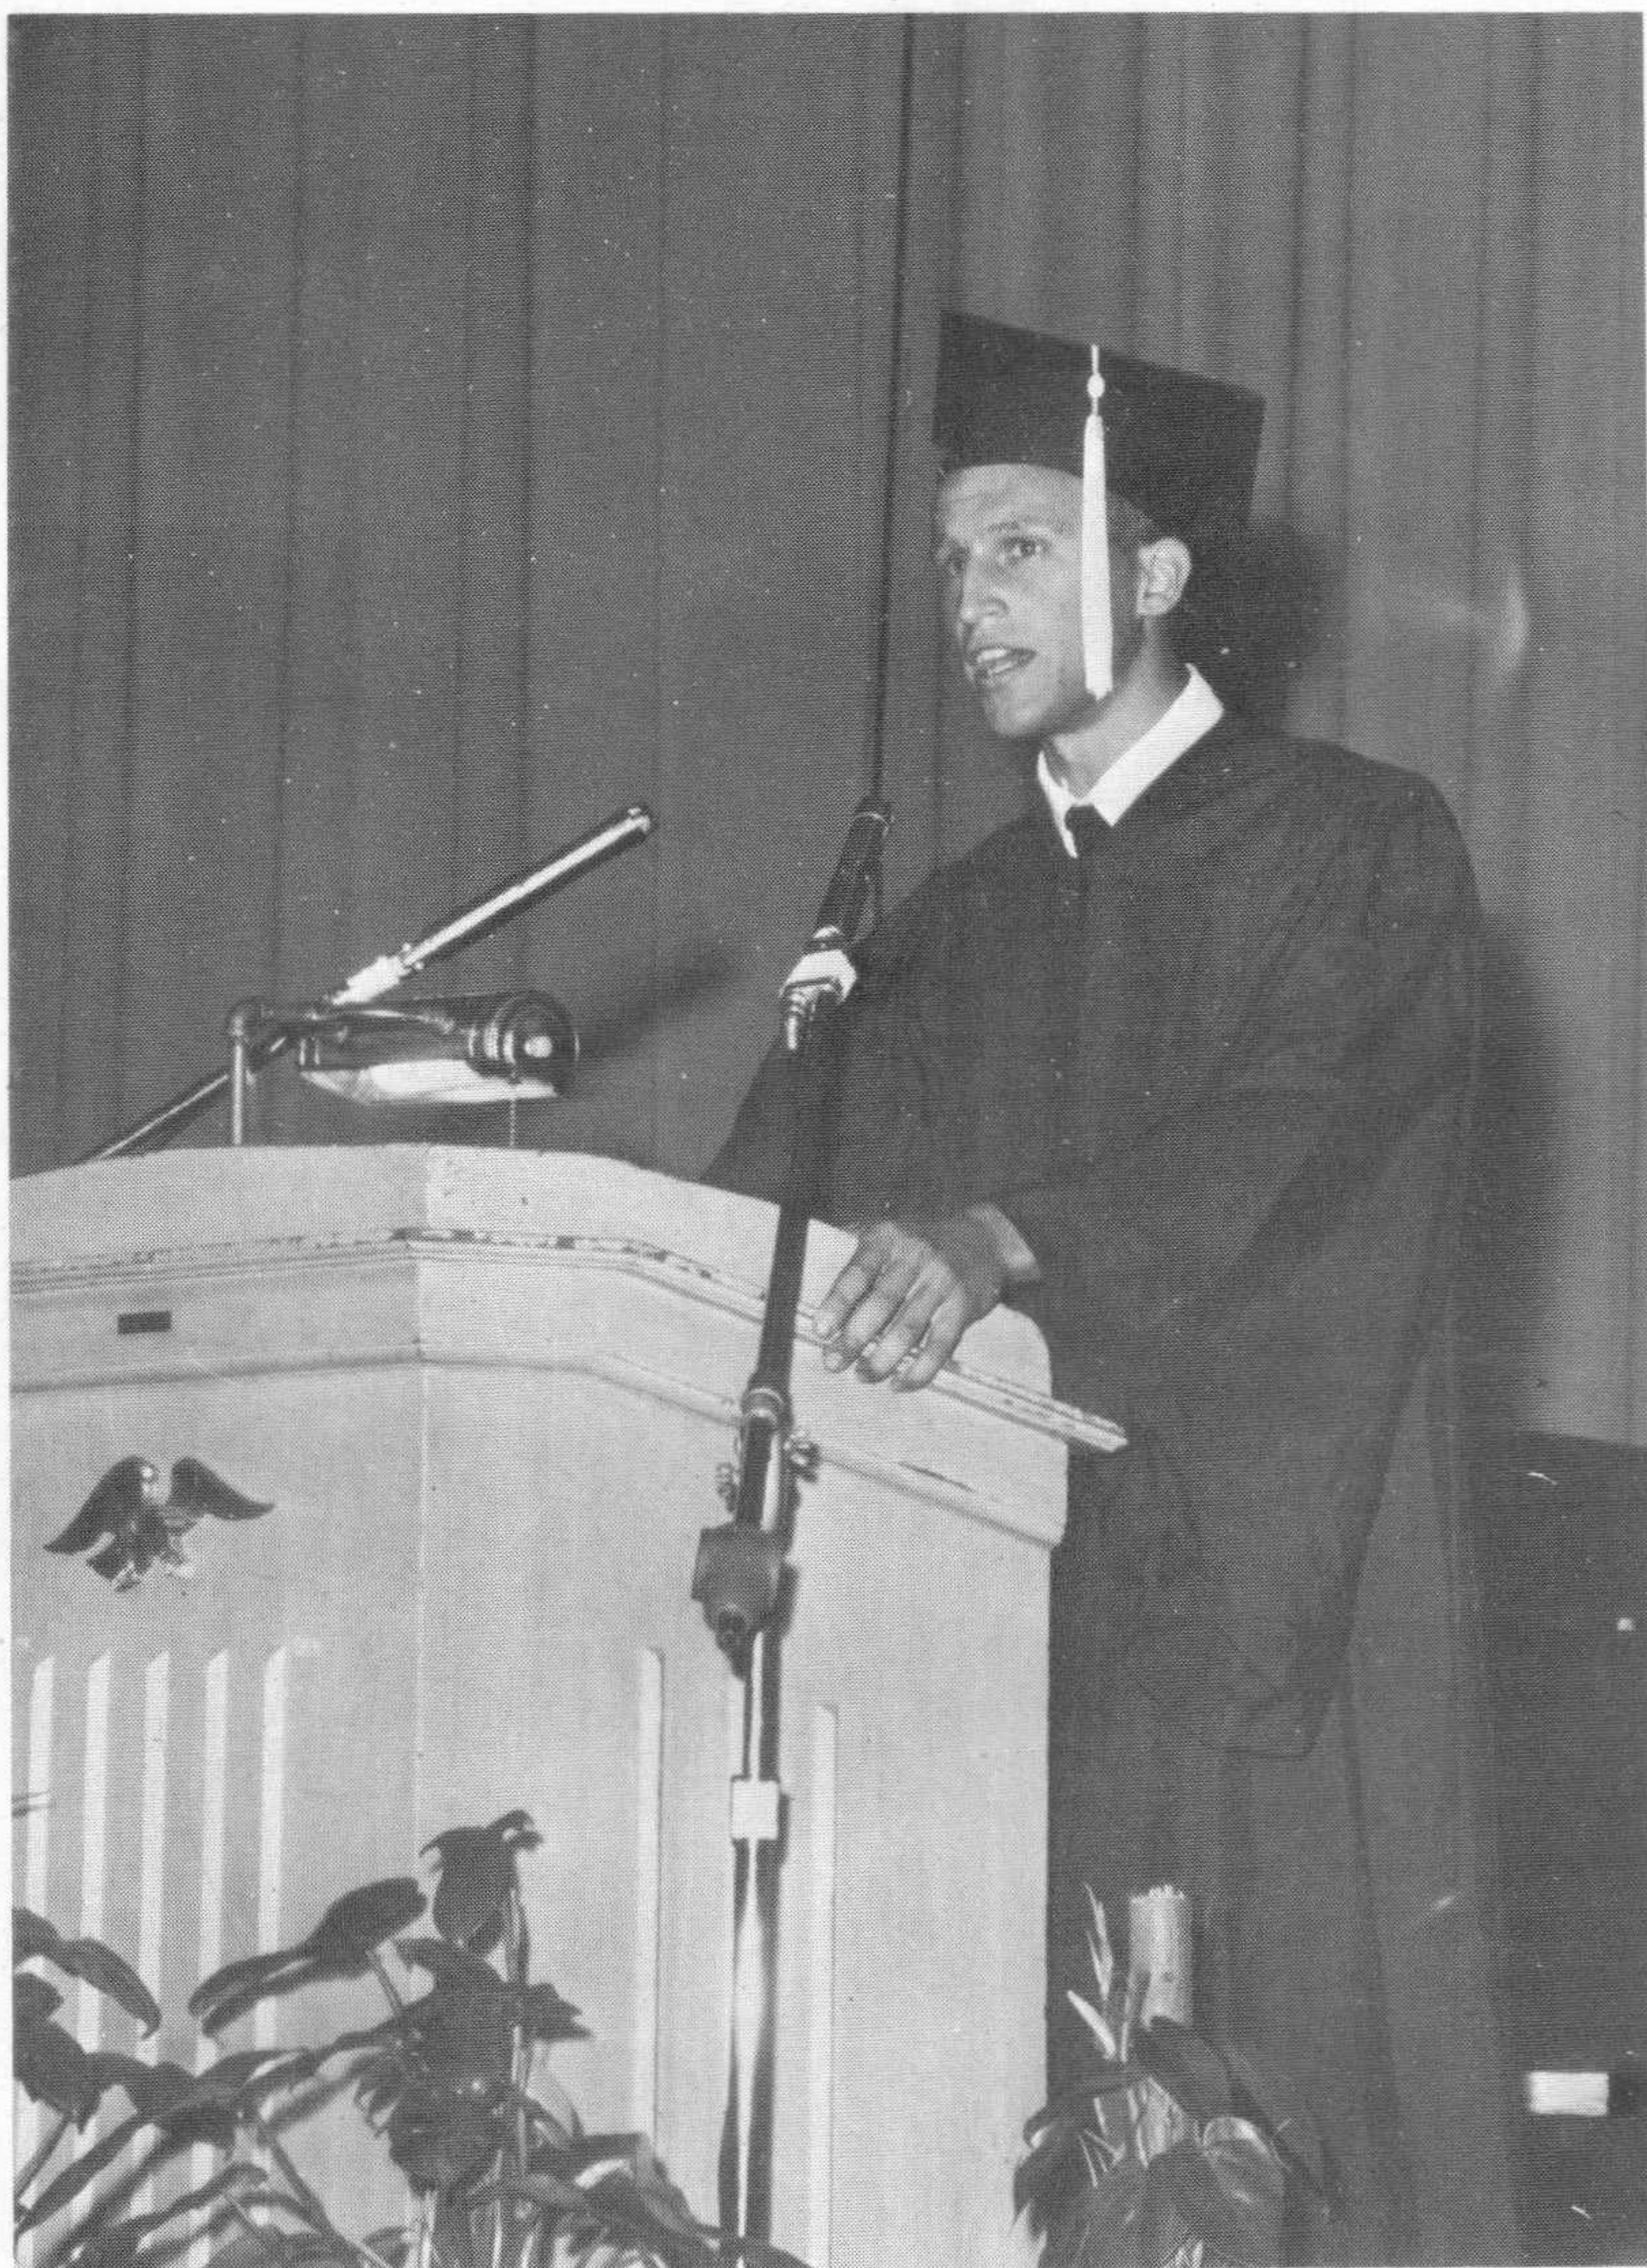

For underclassmen and parents, Class Day is a day to be proud and to show respect. For graduating Seniors, it is a day that brings past, present, and future together for a first time.

President of the class, Robert Lucas, welcomed the parents, teachers, friends, and underclassmen. Judith Adams and Peter Kaufman then brought the past to mind with a reading of the Class History. Barbara Levine and Charles Robinson then presented the Class Will. The class gift, an electrical scoreboard for Memorial Field was then presented to Junior Class President Mark Raider by Robert Lucas, and the Class of 1964 in conjunction with the Natick Chapter of American Legion.

Awards and scholarships for the future were then given to those Seniors deserving, according to the selecting committees of them. Fifty-three presentations to Seniors were made in all. Two awards were given to two outstanding Juniors.

Singing the Alma Mater was followed by a recessional; leading to a new beginning.

Parents, Teachers, and Classmates:

For three years now we Seniors have attended Natick High School as a close-knit group. As a class we have been highly successful in every single undertaking, but to who do we attribute this success? Entirely to ourselves? Certainly not. The efforts of the townspeople, our teachers, and our parents, have at least equalled our own. We owe a great deal to them. Without our teachers and those most important people in our lives, our mothers and our fathers, the world would seem an unconquerable and fearsome place.

So with our hearts full of gratitude, we, the class of 1964, welcome you to our class day.

Robert Lucas

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1964

In September of 1961, a large group of sophomores, up to that time the largest in Natick's history, stumbled into the halls of Natick High School to begin their high school career. The group appeared to be as confused and disorganized as any ordinary sophomore class; but these students—Natick's last group to be one unified class in Junior high—were destined to be anything but ordinary.

The qualities that were to bring praise to the class of 1964 could be noticed early, in the success of our first class effort—the Sophomore Dance. The record of the sophomore class's athletic teams also showed excellence on the playing field. Strong student government was recognized as important to any class. Representing the class of 1964 in student council were Karen Coleman, Barbara Levine, Tracy Reubens, Pamela Steele, Arnold Bellefontaine, John Fitzgerald, Richard Hayes, Robert Hayes, and Robert Lucas. Leading the class executive board of officers were President Richard Hayes, Vice President Barbara Levine, Secretary Christine Langlois, and Treasurer Andrea McGee.

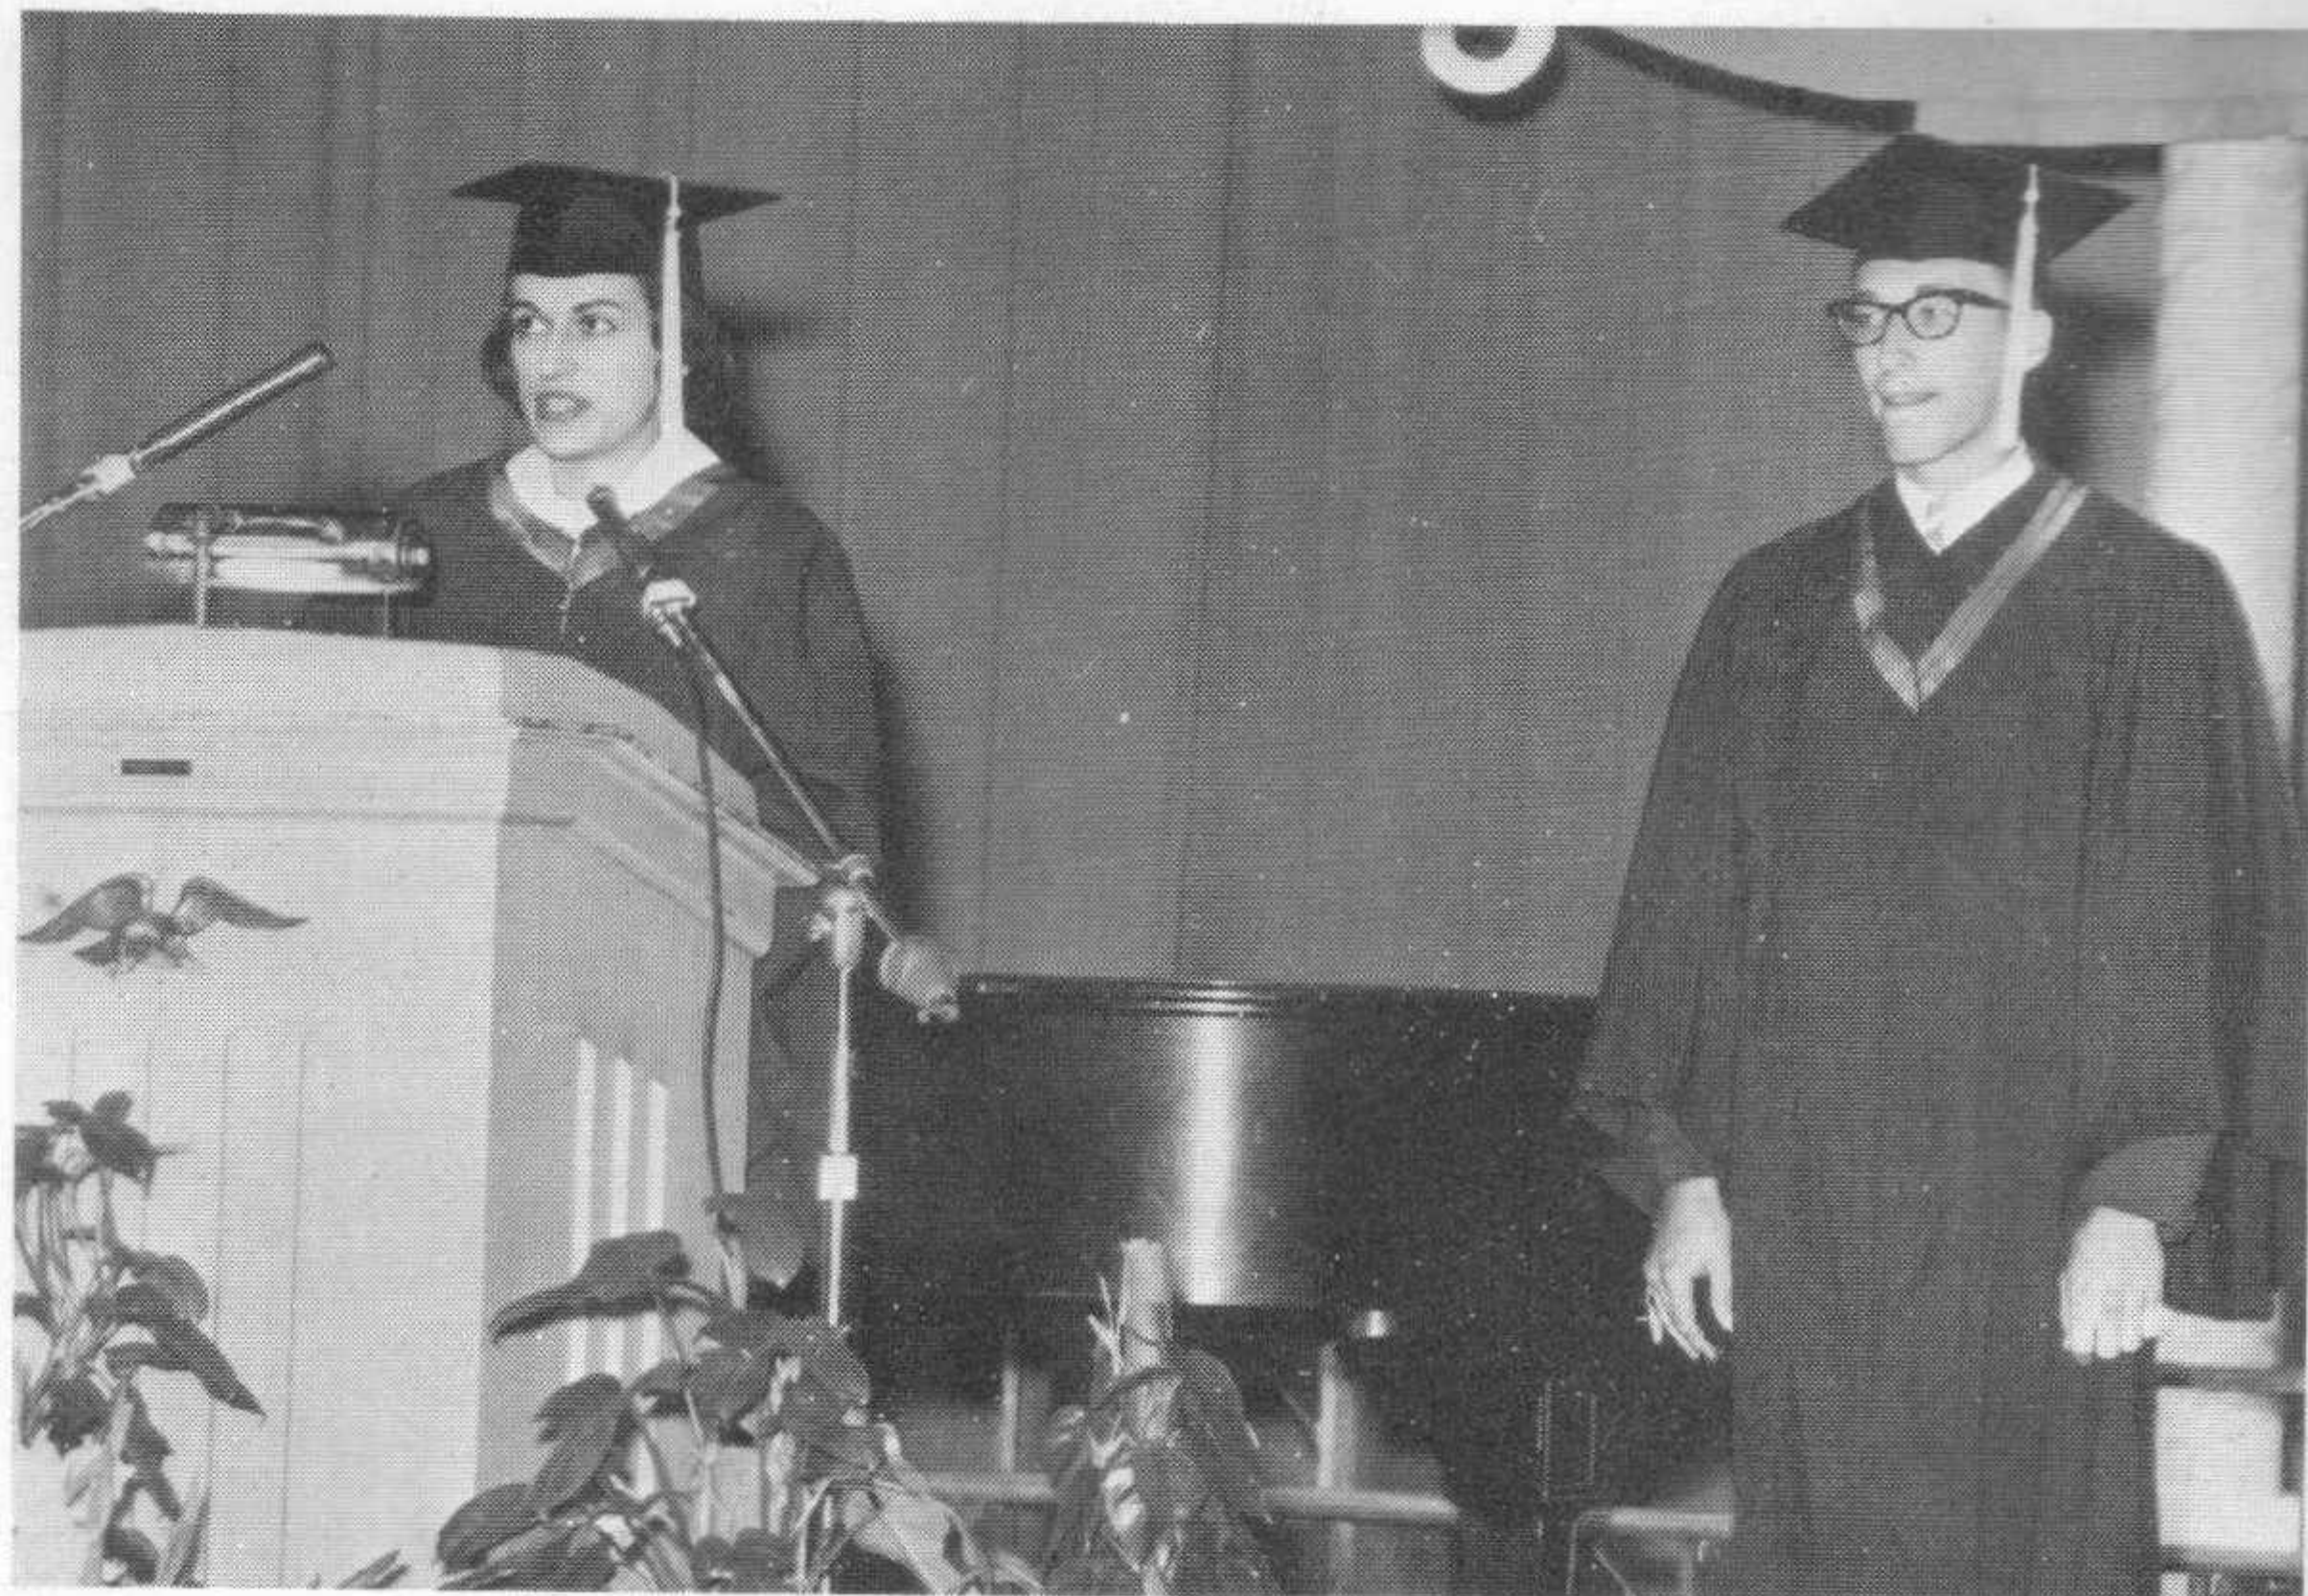

Our Junior year began with a greater awareness of the school's activities and a greater responsibility for the students as upperclassmen. Energetic cheerleaders, including juniors Natalie Fuller, Barbara McEvoy, and Enid Stephner, urged the junior varsity teams on to an impressive record. This was the first year for the wrestling team, several of whose members were juniors, (coached by Mr. William Genova).

Many members of the class made good use of the always-welcomed vacation time. Kathleen Horton and Charles Robinson traveled to Puerto Rico after being chosen for the trip by the Language Department. Robert Lucas and Arnold Bellefontaine served as representatives to Boys' State.

Near the close of the year, some members of the class were subjected to the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and College Board Exams. They did not know at the time that seven of them were to receive letters of commendation and five others: Carolyn Marshall, Katherine Coolidge, Luke Szpakowski, Andrew McGinnis, and Philip Stevenson—were to go on to become National Merit Semi-Finalists. As a further indication of academic ability, a record number of juniors were elected to National Honor Society. In April of our junior year, Peter Kaufman, Charlotte Sibley, Katherine Coolidge, and Mark Kriger attended a science symposium at M.I.T. On Class Day 1963, Charlotte Sibley was awarded the Wheaton Club Prize Book, and Andrew McGinnis received the Harvard Prize Book.

The junior members of the student council—Ellen Fishman, Natalie Fuller, Barbara McEvoy, Barbara Levine, Nicola McKeen, Diane O'Connell, Richard Hayes, Robert Lucas, and Arnold Bellefontaine—represented the class well. Serving as junior class officers were President Arnold Bellefontaine, Vice President Barbara Levine, Secretary Ellen Sigalove, and Treasurer Nicola McKeen. Under their fine leadership the class of 1964 climaxed their junior year with the prom which met with unprecedented success.

As seniors, the members of the class of 1964 lived up to their school's highest expectations. This, the greatest year, was a full one indeed. Mr. Garnett's able direction, the cast—starring Elaine Roberts, Natalie Fuller, Mary Gail Ippolito, Peter Kaufman, James Saart, Arnold Bellefontaine, and John Harper—the hard-working committees, and last but not least that mobile parade from Natick center all contributed to making Thieve's Carnival the most profitable senior play in Natick High's history.

In sports the teams met with the success which has characterized Natick High athletics. The football team, under Coach Bennett and Captain Timothy Gilbert, went on to a successful season, defeating Framingham South in a thrilling Thanksgiving Day game 12-6. The basketball team, under Coach Christie and Co-Captains William Pettingill and David McGregor, reached the Tech Tourney. Bill later received the Smokey Kelleher Sportsmanship Award. The school was proudly represented also by the hockey team, the track team with its remarkable string of consecutive wins, the (much improved) wrestling team, the baseball team, and the tennis and golf teams. All of these athletes were cheered on by Captain Barbara McEvoy and Natick's Bay State Championship cheerleaders, including senior Enid Stephner, Linda Martin, Nicola McKeen, and Ellen Sigalove.

As seniors, the students gained greater skill and recognition as individuals, and thus brought honor to their class. Barbara Levine was elected by the class to receive the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award, the Jewish War Veterans Award went to Philip Svenson. When Student Government Day was held at the statehouse in Boson, Arnold Bellefontaine served as Natick's representative. Donald White was the recipient of a major industrial arts award in printing at an exhibition in Canada. Terry Bixby became Natick's correspondent to Co-Ed, a national homemaking magazine. Joan Kent and Beverly Swenson were honored as Natick's most outstanding business students.

In group activities as well, seniors demonstrated their amazing ability and spirit. The "new, improved" Sassamon was ably edited by Elaine Roberts. The National Honor Society, under the responsible leadership of President Philip Stevenson, Advisor Miss Perez, and Chairman Linda Martin planned and conducted a regional Honor Society conference. The Dramatics Club produced two assemblies. Another of their efforts was the performance of the famous musical South Pacific, under the direction of Mr. Garnett and Mr. Bikini. Senior members in leading roles included Arnold Bellefontaine, Susan Barker, Clifton Freligh, Ronald Monaco, Natalie Fuller, James Saart, and John Harper among other hard-working and talented performers. South Pacific was a sell-out—the most successful musical in the school's history. The student council under President Richard Hayes, Vice President Arnold Bellefontaine, Secretary Natalie Fuller, and Treasurer Diane O'Connell with senior members John Fitzgerald, Barbara Levine, Barbara McEvoy, Nicola McKeen, Leslie Nold, Ellen Sigalove, Robert Lucas, Elaine Roberts, Robert Budnick, and Alicia Siderman has been active in school functions. This year the student council has planned the organization of a bookstore which will be a valuable addition to Natick High School.

The international awareness of the class was increased by the American Field Service and our Argentine classmate, Alicia Siderman. Alicia is a wonderful friend and a fine representative of an organization whose goal is peace through greater understanding among the peoples of the world. Her year in Natick has been a valuable one for us and we are proud to have her as a member of the class of 1964. Another member of the senior class, Peter Kaufman, has been chosen as an American Field Service representative and will soon visit a foreign country.

The twelfth annual Natick High School Science Fair brought out the scientific abilities of several members of the senior class. Thomas Dininio received his second first prize and Carolyn Marshall was selected the grand prize winner.

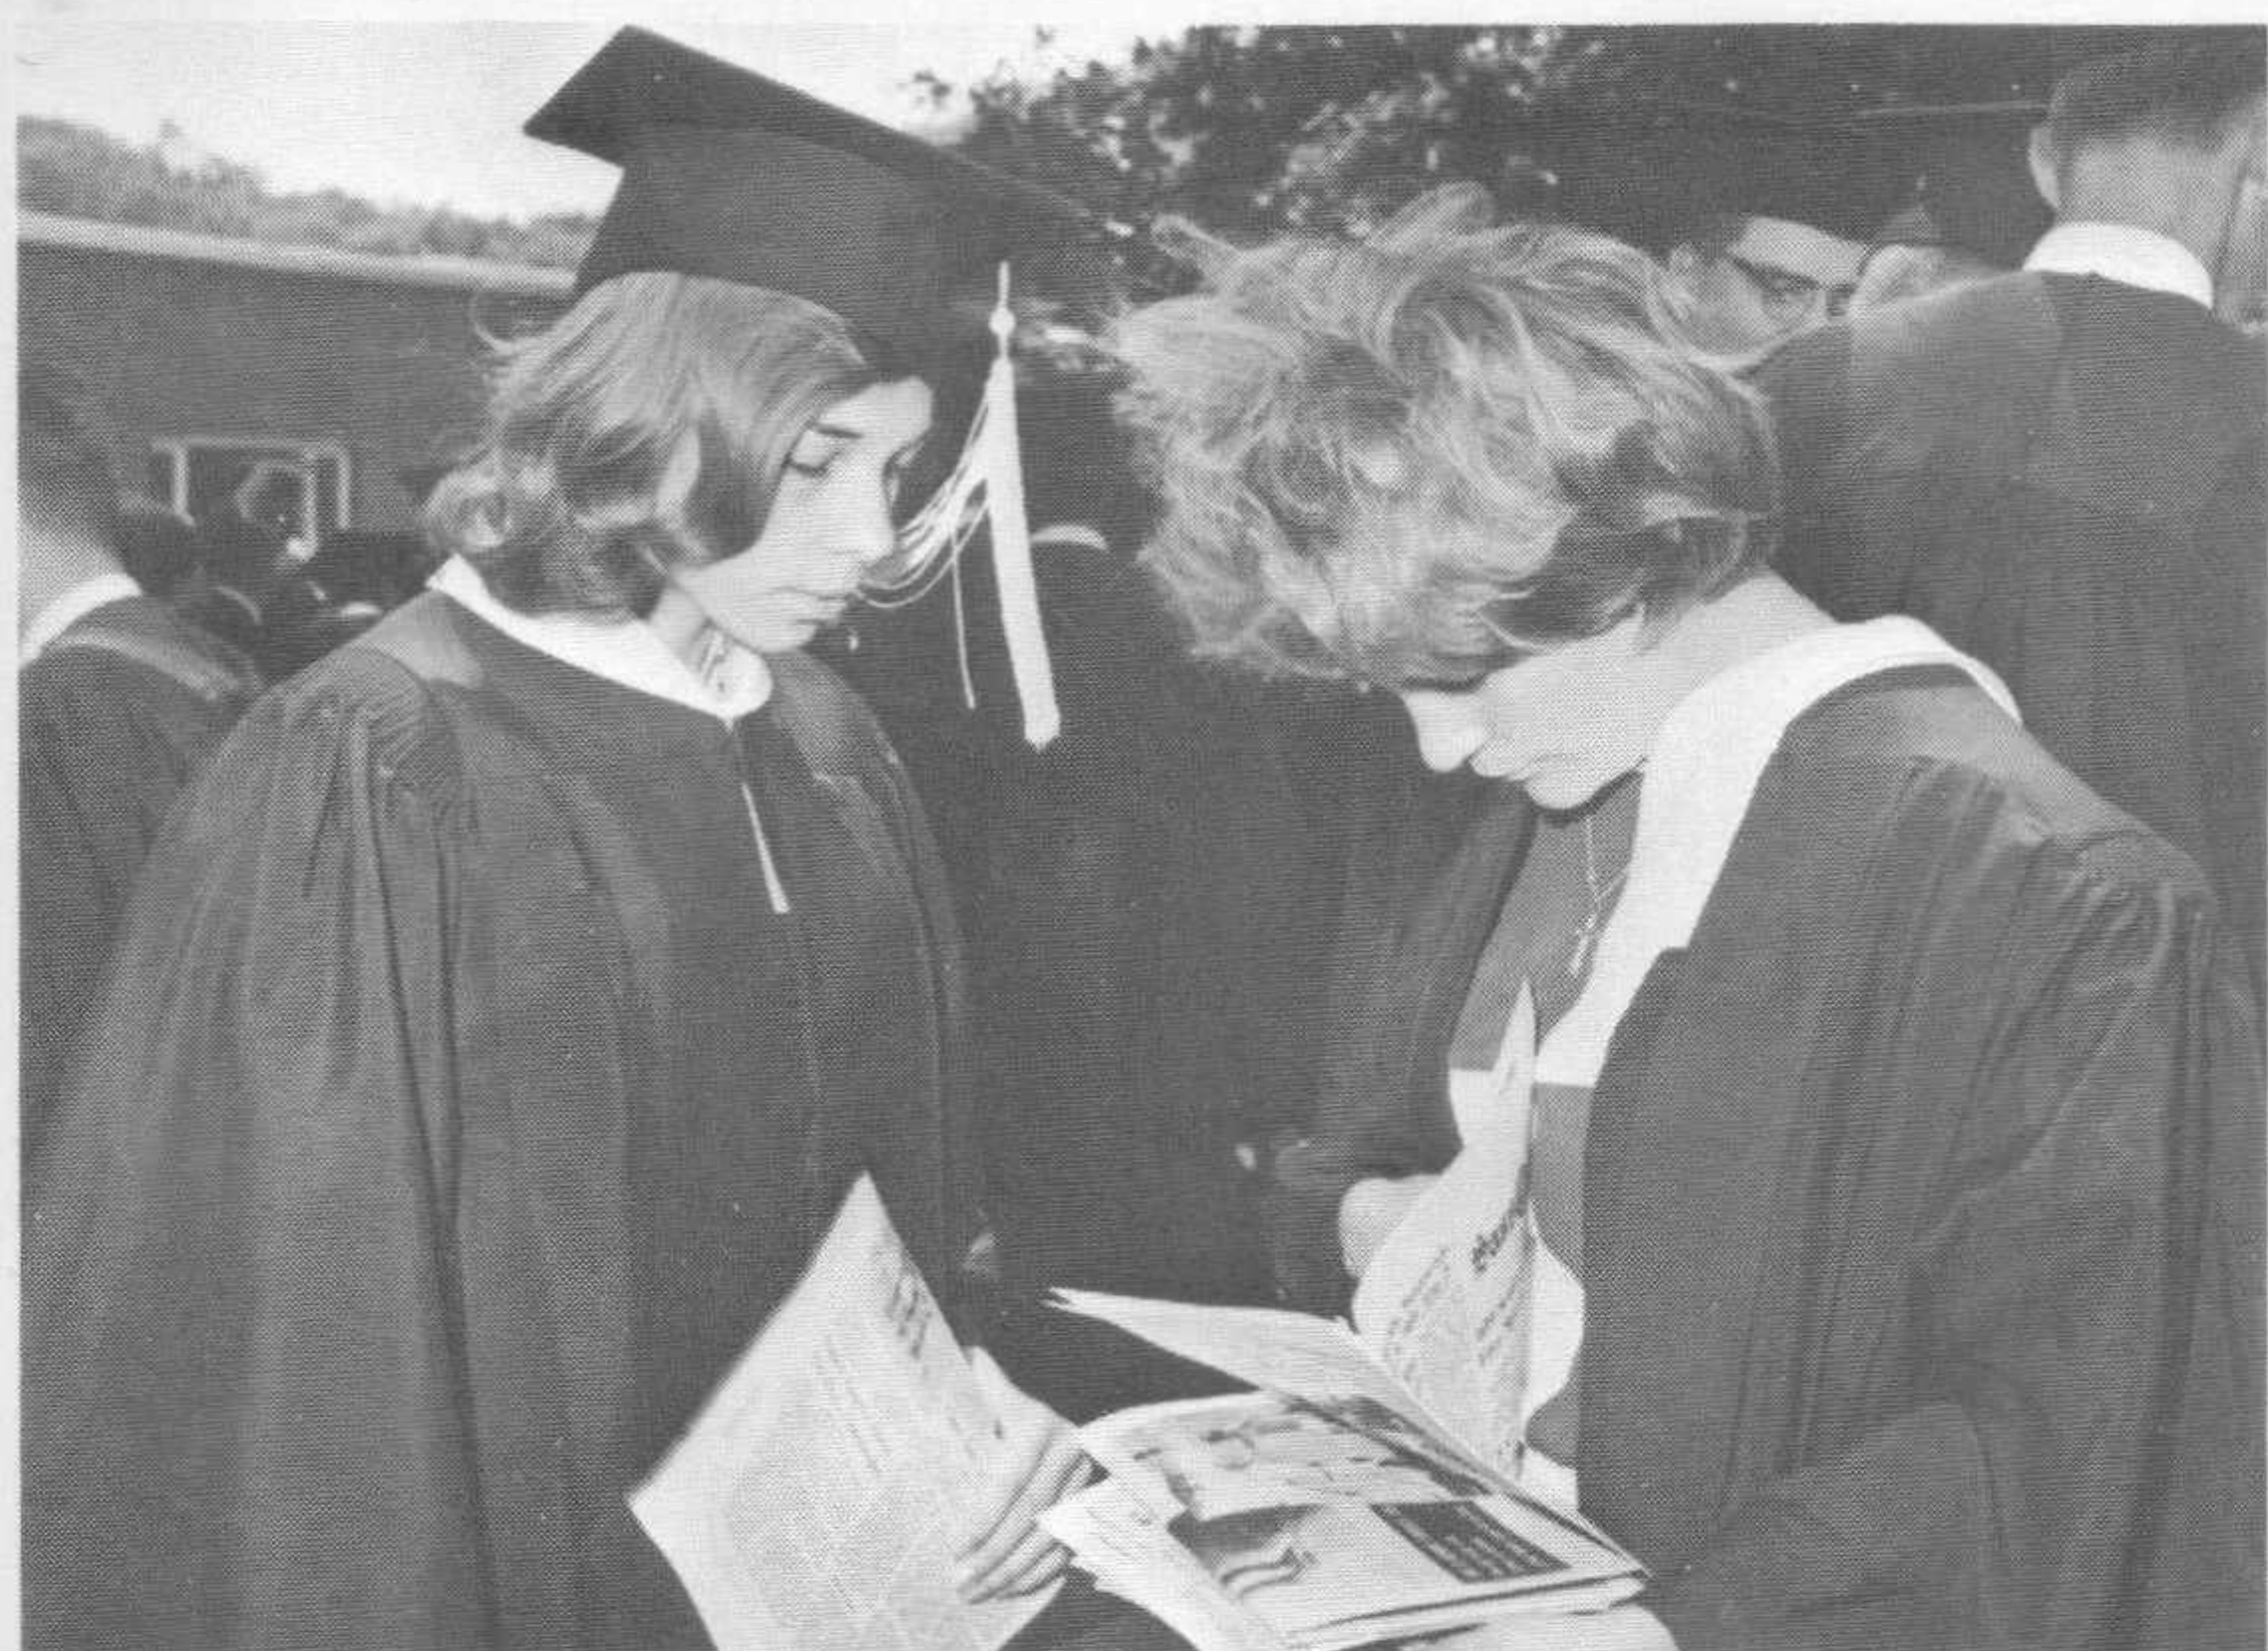

We feel that perhaps the history of the class of 1964 would not be complete without the addition of a few miscellaneous details. Mention should be made of the following seniors: the industrious members of the stage crew, Peter Thompson and Bob Mostecky, the author of the new school song, Elaine Roberts, the senior members of the Windjammers, Clifton Freligh and David Channel, and finally the originators of those unparalleled P.A. announcements, Robert Lucas and Richard Hayes.

Before the history of the class of 1964 comes to a close, we want to thank our class officers—President Robert Lucas, Vice President Barbara Levine, Secretary Ellen Sigalove, and Treasurer Nicola McKeen—for their hard work and fine leadership. At this time, also, special thanks should be extended to our class advisors, Miss Buckley and Mr. Mannix. They have been ready with any help needed and have always demonstrated the greatest faith in the class. There is no way to express adequately our appreciation, for we realize that much of our success throughout our high school years would have been impossible without them.

CLASS WILL

In the true spirit of Natick High School tradition and good sense of humor, we, the creative Class of 1964, being of reasonably sound minds and bodies, do hereby present at this time, our first, and only group will and testament, and furthermore do hope that all bequests will be received by those bequeathed to, both noble underclassmen and respected teachers, with faith, in the spirit of fun.

In accordance with the above stated conditions, we the Class of 1964, do bequeath the following:

To Mr. Hennigar, we leave three years of new innovations.

To Mr. Mc Manus, we leave a metal finger so that he may make improved usage of his bell-ringing talent.

To Mrs. Baram, we leave our "thanks" for the favors she has done us.

To Mrs. Brown, we leave a great deal of affection.

To Miss Shannon, we leave appreciation for all of the nice things she has done for our class.

To Miss Poulin, we leave six juniors and a second wind to start the art work in next year's yearbook.

To Mr. Garnett, thanks are not nearly enough for all of the work he has done for us; so in addition, we leave the thought that perhaps he has taught the art of pickpocketing to three certain senior boys.

Along with the above-stated articles, special bequests have been made by certain departing seniors to particular faculty members. They appear as follows:

We, the girls of the Advanced Stenography class, bequeath to Miss Potheir the bankrupt Supreme Furniture Company, which we left—hopelessly in debt.

We, Intergrated Physics 401, leave our beloved an autographed copy of the poem "If", contained in the book Fun in Physics by Luke Szpakowski, and Russell Allens for next year.

We, the senior twenty-eight members of the Cross-Country Team, leave Mr. Bransfield the undefeated season that we never quite gave him.

We, Mr. Harrington's E period class, leave to Mr. Harrington a book comparing every literary work to "Our Town".

I, George Churchill, leave to Mr. Mannix his unrepaired radio.

I, Doug Horka leave Miss Perez a stack of my incomplete and unattempted homework assignments of the past three years.

I, Ronnie Monaco, leave Mr. Garnett one 160-pound ham.

I, Clara Louise Jones, leave to Mr. Lowell, My Sister, Carol, with her "A's" in Algebra.

I, Dennis Gerber, leave to Mr. Leighton two cases of 1½ inch tape, a thirteen-year service pin, and a package of Rol-aids.

I, Jenny Richardson, leave to Mr. Alitalo instructions in how to unfurl a flag.

I, Bob Hewitt, leave Miss Perez a portable "pues" in hope that it will facilitate her work next year.

We, A period physics, leave Mr. Bzeidryski a shock-proof Van de Graaf generator.

We, G period Spanish II, leave to Miss Perez a year's supply of Spic and Span—ish.

We, the lunch period Modern Problems class leave to Mr. Marcoux five extra minutes.

We, Sue MacCorkle and Sue Bannon leave Mr. Harrington with the problem of finding another set of Dolly sisters.

We, the G period Comprehensive Math class leave Mr. Bransfield—om reverse.

We, Roberta Ford and William Boardman, leave to Mr. Rosen two equally ambitious juniors to keep him company next year.

We, the Student Council, leave to Mr. Sticklor and assistant adviser, Miss Levesque.

We, the members of Miss Ward's B, D, and G English classes leave a quote by the German philosopher Hutzsche to the juniors:

"It is no small art to sleep; to achieve it, one must keep awake all day" . . . those theses!!"

We, the International Relations classes leave Mr. McNally with a forceful purge of cluttered notebooks.

I, Arthur Boyington, leave to Mrs. Rankin one blue-stained blackboard.

We, the F period Physics class, leave on 1-55cc motorcycle so that he may keep up with his class on his way to lunch.

We, homeroom 170, leave to Miss Lebert one life-size portrait of the Izor.

We, Karen Coleman and Barbara Cook, leave our book of crossword puzzles to a certain member of the Social Studies Department.

A certain senior leaves Mr. Rosen with the hope that he will be a little more careful driving.

The D-period Breakfast Club leaves Mr. McGrath a list of excuses such as an acute appendix or other oldies and goodies.

Having left such articles to such-named the following do now bequeath these articles to appointed under-classmen:

I, Sue Kaufman, leave one wilted daisy to Natalie Edwards.

The senior cheerleaders leave POG to the junior cheerleaders with relief.

I, Sare Madden, leave my black eye from superlatives to any junior girl who would rather fight than switch.

I, Franz LaMaitre, leave my elevator sneakers to any sophomore or junior who can get into them.

I, Andrea Fine, leave to Andrea Hewson and Claudia Fine my name, good luck!

We, Richard Hayes, Arnie Ballefontaine, Natalie Fuller, and Dede O'Donnell, leave to next year's Student Council officers, the responsibility of carrying on our many new projects which we also leave—just in time.

We, Terry Bixby, Linda Walker, and Linda Fahey, leave to Debbie Bixby, Helen Grady, and Ann Bransfield, our title of Brats #1, 2, and 3 with hopes that they will carry on our work in mischief.

I, James A. Young, leave my nickname, "Squeaky", to any boy with a high enough voice to keep it.

I, Ken Loudon bequeath my position of president of the D. H. A. to Charles Leighton.

I, John Cotter, leave my marks to Jack Blease, in the hope that he can use them.

We, Tom Franciose, and Mike Tomasetti, leave Mr. Whalen's period-C gym club to Dave Bailey and Peter Prioce.

I, Ed Stone, leave to any deserving Spanish Student, my Flamenco shoes.

A certain cheerleader leaves moose tracks across the cafeteria.

I, Norman Lecointre, leave my motorcycle boots to any junior who will use them.

I, Donnie White, leave the book entitled, How to Graduate Without Studying, to Peter Prior.

We, Spanish 411, leave Sherry and Pete.

I, George Pease, leave my most prized possession "Silver Cloud" the javelin, to the only boy in the junior class with animalistic instincts and the ability to converse fluently in Swahili, "Chopper".

I, Robert Mosteck, leave my title "Mouse" to Cheryl Micelotta.

We, Robert Lucas, Barbara Levine, Nicola McKeen, and Ellen Sigalove, almost left $9,302.

I, Sandy Bryan, leave my band parties in M-73.

I, Joanne Steeves, leave to Linda Reed one reserved parking space.

I, Jerry Gunner, leave my set of curlers to my brother, Eliot.

We, the officers of the Gestapo, Roberta Ford, Carol Fava, Sue Finkelstein, Joanne Connell, and Judy O'Hare, leave a milking stool on Nicky Mabardy's farm for next year's reunion.

We, the senior girls, leave an empty shoe box to the junior girls—to be filled next year.

We, Mary Russell, Lynne DeLong, Rita Coppelotti, and Mary Loftus, leave a chair for the Marion St. bus stop to Karen Linton and Bonnie Wilson.

We, Priscilla Klein, Karen Sestini, Elaine Pipe, and Ramona Heinrich, leave the school savings account to Linda Trinkley and Peggy Doucette.

I, Brenda Smith, leave my open house parties with Pa as chaperon to any underclassman whose parents go away as much as mine.

I, John Ryder, leave my I.D. card to John Ford.

I, Rita Marso, leave three jammed lockers to Linda Marso.

We, Regina Campisi, Debbie Foss, Karen Hayden, and Carol McGrath, leave our lunch trays, including the food, to Paul Morgan.

We, Julie Korenberg and Jimmy Kiley, leave with something behind that no underclassman seems big enough to accept.

I, Pam Hatchins, leave my red slip to any junior girl who needs that little extra something.

I, Jack Olenick, leave Mr. Sticklor's office and his typing to any girl who thinks she will be able to be a part-time secretary, part-time student.

I, Charles "Dill" Duprey, leave my obviously pickled pickle barrel to anyone even Sadie Hawkins if she can stand it.

I, Peter Gavin, leave my saddle shoes to anyone who will accept the responsibility of keeping them dirty.

I, Mary-Anne Sheehan, leave my mouse trap—in memoriam.

We, Mickey Sherman, Marilyn Sheehan, and Mary Gail Ippolito, leave our misadventures with Mr. Sticklor, Mr. Filledes, and Mr. Collins to whoever is quick enough to outwit them.

I, Ellen Fishman, leave at least two double faults per game to Nancy Gregg, hoping that she doesn't need them.

Debbie Foss and Kathy Benjamin leave a pumpkin and a handful of muf to any willing junior.

I, Winfield Peterson, leave the challenge to any boy to come up on stage and receive an award in his T-shirt.

I, Mark Kriger, leave Natick High School as quietly as the sound of one hand clapping.

I, Marty Whalen, leave one half of a parking space to Bobby Yoeman and his Renault.

We, the vicarious four, leave the unexplored to the inexperienced with much luck.

I, Barbara Camp, leave my Red and Blue Handbook to a senior transfer student.

We, the senior members of the stage crew, leave our light bulbs, spare tubes, fuses, wires, sound effects tapes, Arnold Bellefontaine and other priceless sounds to the sophomores and the juniors so that they may try to live up to the great productions put on this year.

I, Alan Waters, leave to Laurence Barker, the Yuga-waddle, with the understanding that he will teach it well.

I, Roberta Frye, leave her typing efficiency to anyone who wants to be a dedicated slave.

I, Ronald Fraser, leave my left hand to the typing students of the class of 1965 so that they will not be hindered by an excess of fingers.

We, Sue Blum and Sue Burgess, leave our Sunday afternoon rides to Donna Paul and any other junior who thinks she can maintain our standards.

We, Joan Leslie, Judy Foster and Madeline Frye leave our crowded lunch table to any cafeteria marshall who can count to four.

I, Marcia Adam, leave Billy Niles and our space in front of locker 631, to any junior girl who dares step near them!

We, the boys of first period lunch, leave our top secret dessert testing area to any junior boys who can master the problems of trajectory involved in shooting a carrot across the cafeteria.

I, Doris Wright, think I'd better leave before I do something drastic.

I, Robert Hayes, leave all my love to C.M.

Don White leaves . . . at last.

I, Don Trifa, leave one day old donut to John Ignacio.

I, Bob Lucas, leave my 8-ounce gloves and my 5-day vacation to Dave Baily . . . good luck, Dave.

We, Ellen Bransfield and Deena Baram, leave two cheerleaders, Ann and Ava, the thought that we taught them all that they know and any greatness in them is not coincidental, but the product of a fabulous example set for them by their two sisters . . . whoever they may be.

I, Clif Freligh, leave my finger picks and broken strings to Andy Jones.

I, Doug Horka, leave to Skip Traber sole possession of the 600 and 440 yard runs.

I, Barry Newman, leave my nicknames of "Frog" and "Alfred E." to any underclassman with a lot of courage.

I, Thomas Steven, leave one slightly used, but good, lead trumpet to Bob MacDonald.

I, Carl Hedin, leave all of my teachers to my sister, Diana, in hopes that she will clear my name.

I, Mary Leone, leave my unused kleenex to Rose Onorato and Linda Zachilli.

I, Eddie Morris, leave my sweaters to anyone who can wear them.

We, Ann Morris and Paulette Napoli, leave our outside lunches to anyone who thinks they can get away with them.

I, Sandy Paul, leave my dimples to Mary Breen, and my nickname "Knees" to David Miscia.

The senior girls aren't leaving the Gestapo . . . they're taking it with them.

We, Joanne Connell and Roberta Ford, leave our nicknames "Mr. Ed" and "Apostrophe" to the next class that does "Thieves Carnival" as their play.

I, Arnie Bellefontaine, leave one tattered and torn script from "South Pacific" . . . Maybe you'll want a re-run.

We, Judy O'Hare and Pam Steele leave our out-to-breakfast forks to Debbie and Dottie Fitch.

We, Marilyn Maffei, Carol O'Brien, Linda Firth and Brenda Smith leave our official "Nurndy" Rulle Book" to Ollie Dickson, our chief woppler.

I, Alicia Siderman, leave my sincerest "thanks" to all of Natick High School.

The above stated articles having been bequeathed, we, the Class of 1964, also leave to all underclassmen these remembrances of our stay at Natick High School.

We leave our unsold "Sassamons", our uncovered safety patrol posts, our unsigned tardy slips, our jammed lockers, our mumbled morning notices, our parking spaces, our withered gym suits, our lunch tables, our corridor leaning areas, our seats in the auditorium, all of our new precedents we have set, all of the records we have broken, our finals . . . and the best of luck.

To the entire faculty we leave in hopes that we will retain some part of the knowledge which they have strived so patiently to have us acquire.

And . . .

To Miss Buckley and Mr. Mannix we leave feelings of gratitude, respect, and affection that are sincerely felt and very difficult to express. Therefore, we very humbly leave them our "thanks", to return again in the years to come once more the united Class of 1964.

SENIOR RECEPTION

Two beckoning clowns were the gateway to a gay Mardi Gras Festival and an enchanting evening of dancing and collecting memories. On June 5th, 1964 at Natick High School as each masquerading couple stepped through the portals they were greeted by a junior couple ushering them through the distinguished and traditional receiving line.

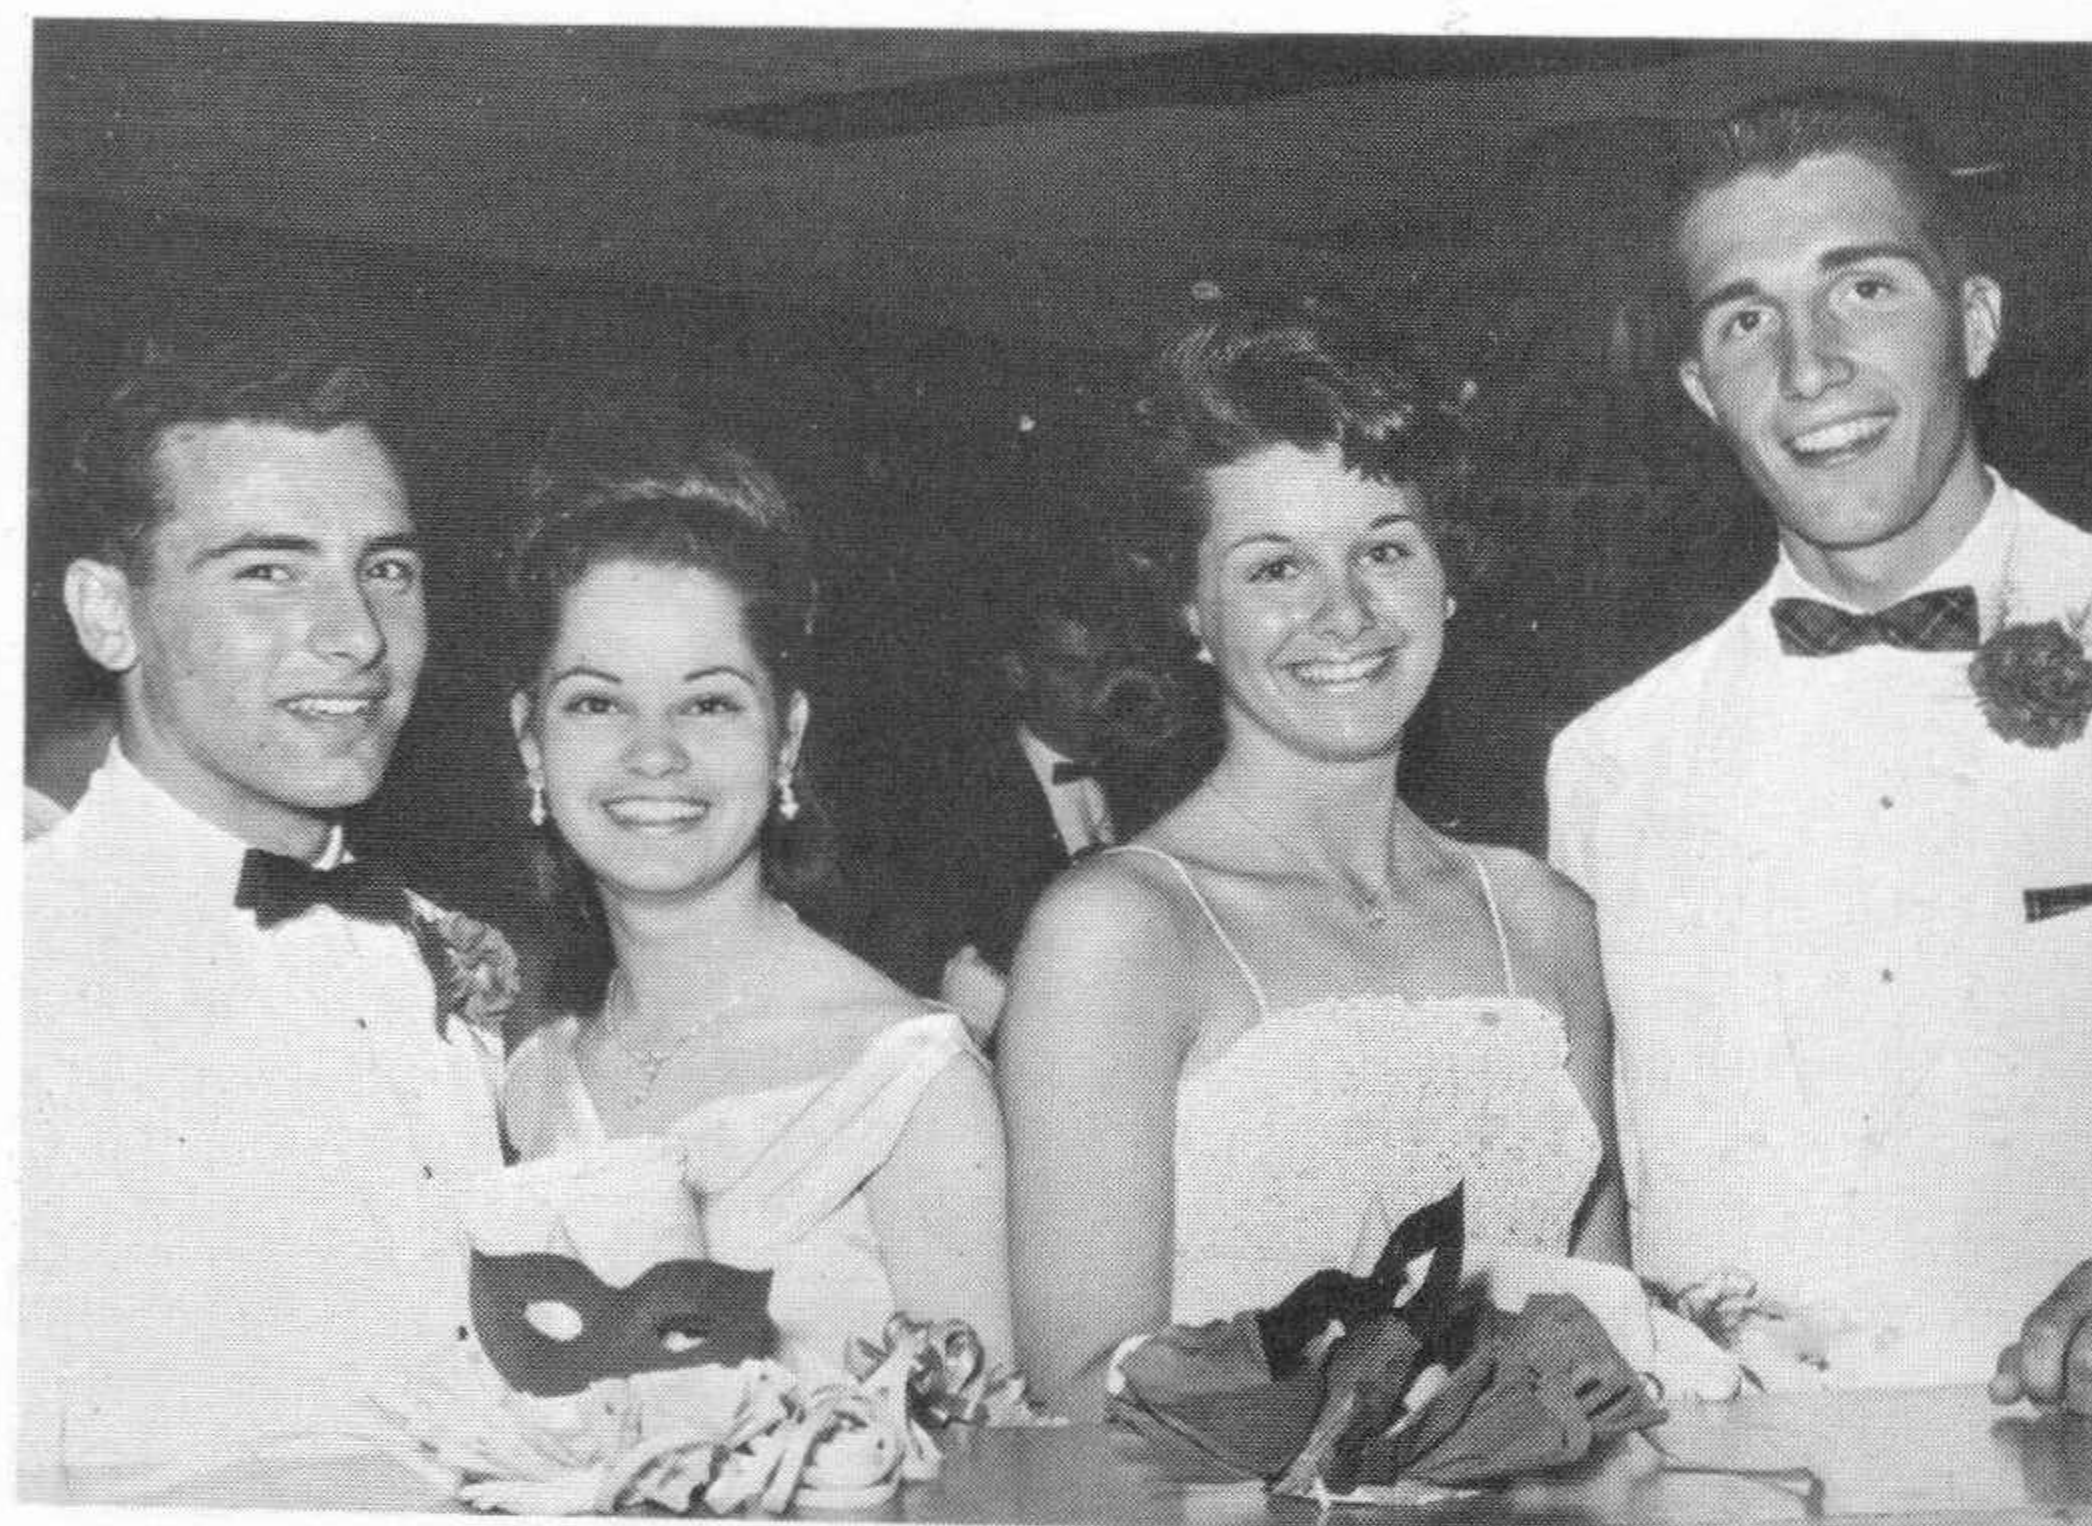

Barbara McEvoy was unmasked as prom queen, Helen Grady and Mary Breen as her court princesses. The three were selected as the loveliest of the surrounding beautifully gowned and charming Misses which added elegance and sophistication to the Festivity decorations. The queen waltzed alone with Mr. Hennigar and then with her escort.

One final glance,

a few souvenirs

and beautiful, wonderful, exciting memories.

The Masqueraders departed for their separate destinations and for their Midnight Dinner.

GRADUATION

The climax of Commencement Week came on Sunday, June 7, when 411 members of the Class of 1964 received their diplomas from Mr. Paul Ambler, Chairman of the Natick School Committee.

With the threat of rain imminent, parents, teachers, and friends heard an address of welcome by Robert Lucas, class president, followed by musical selections from the A Cappella Choir. Five seniors presented essays coordinating the theme for the occasion "Peace Through Understanding."

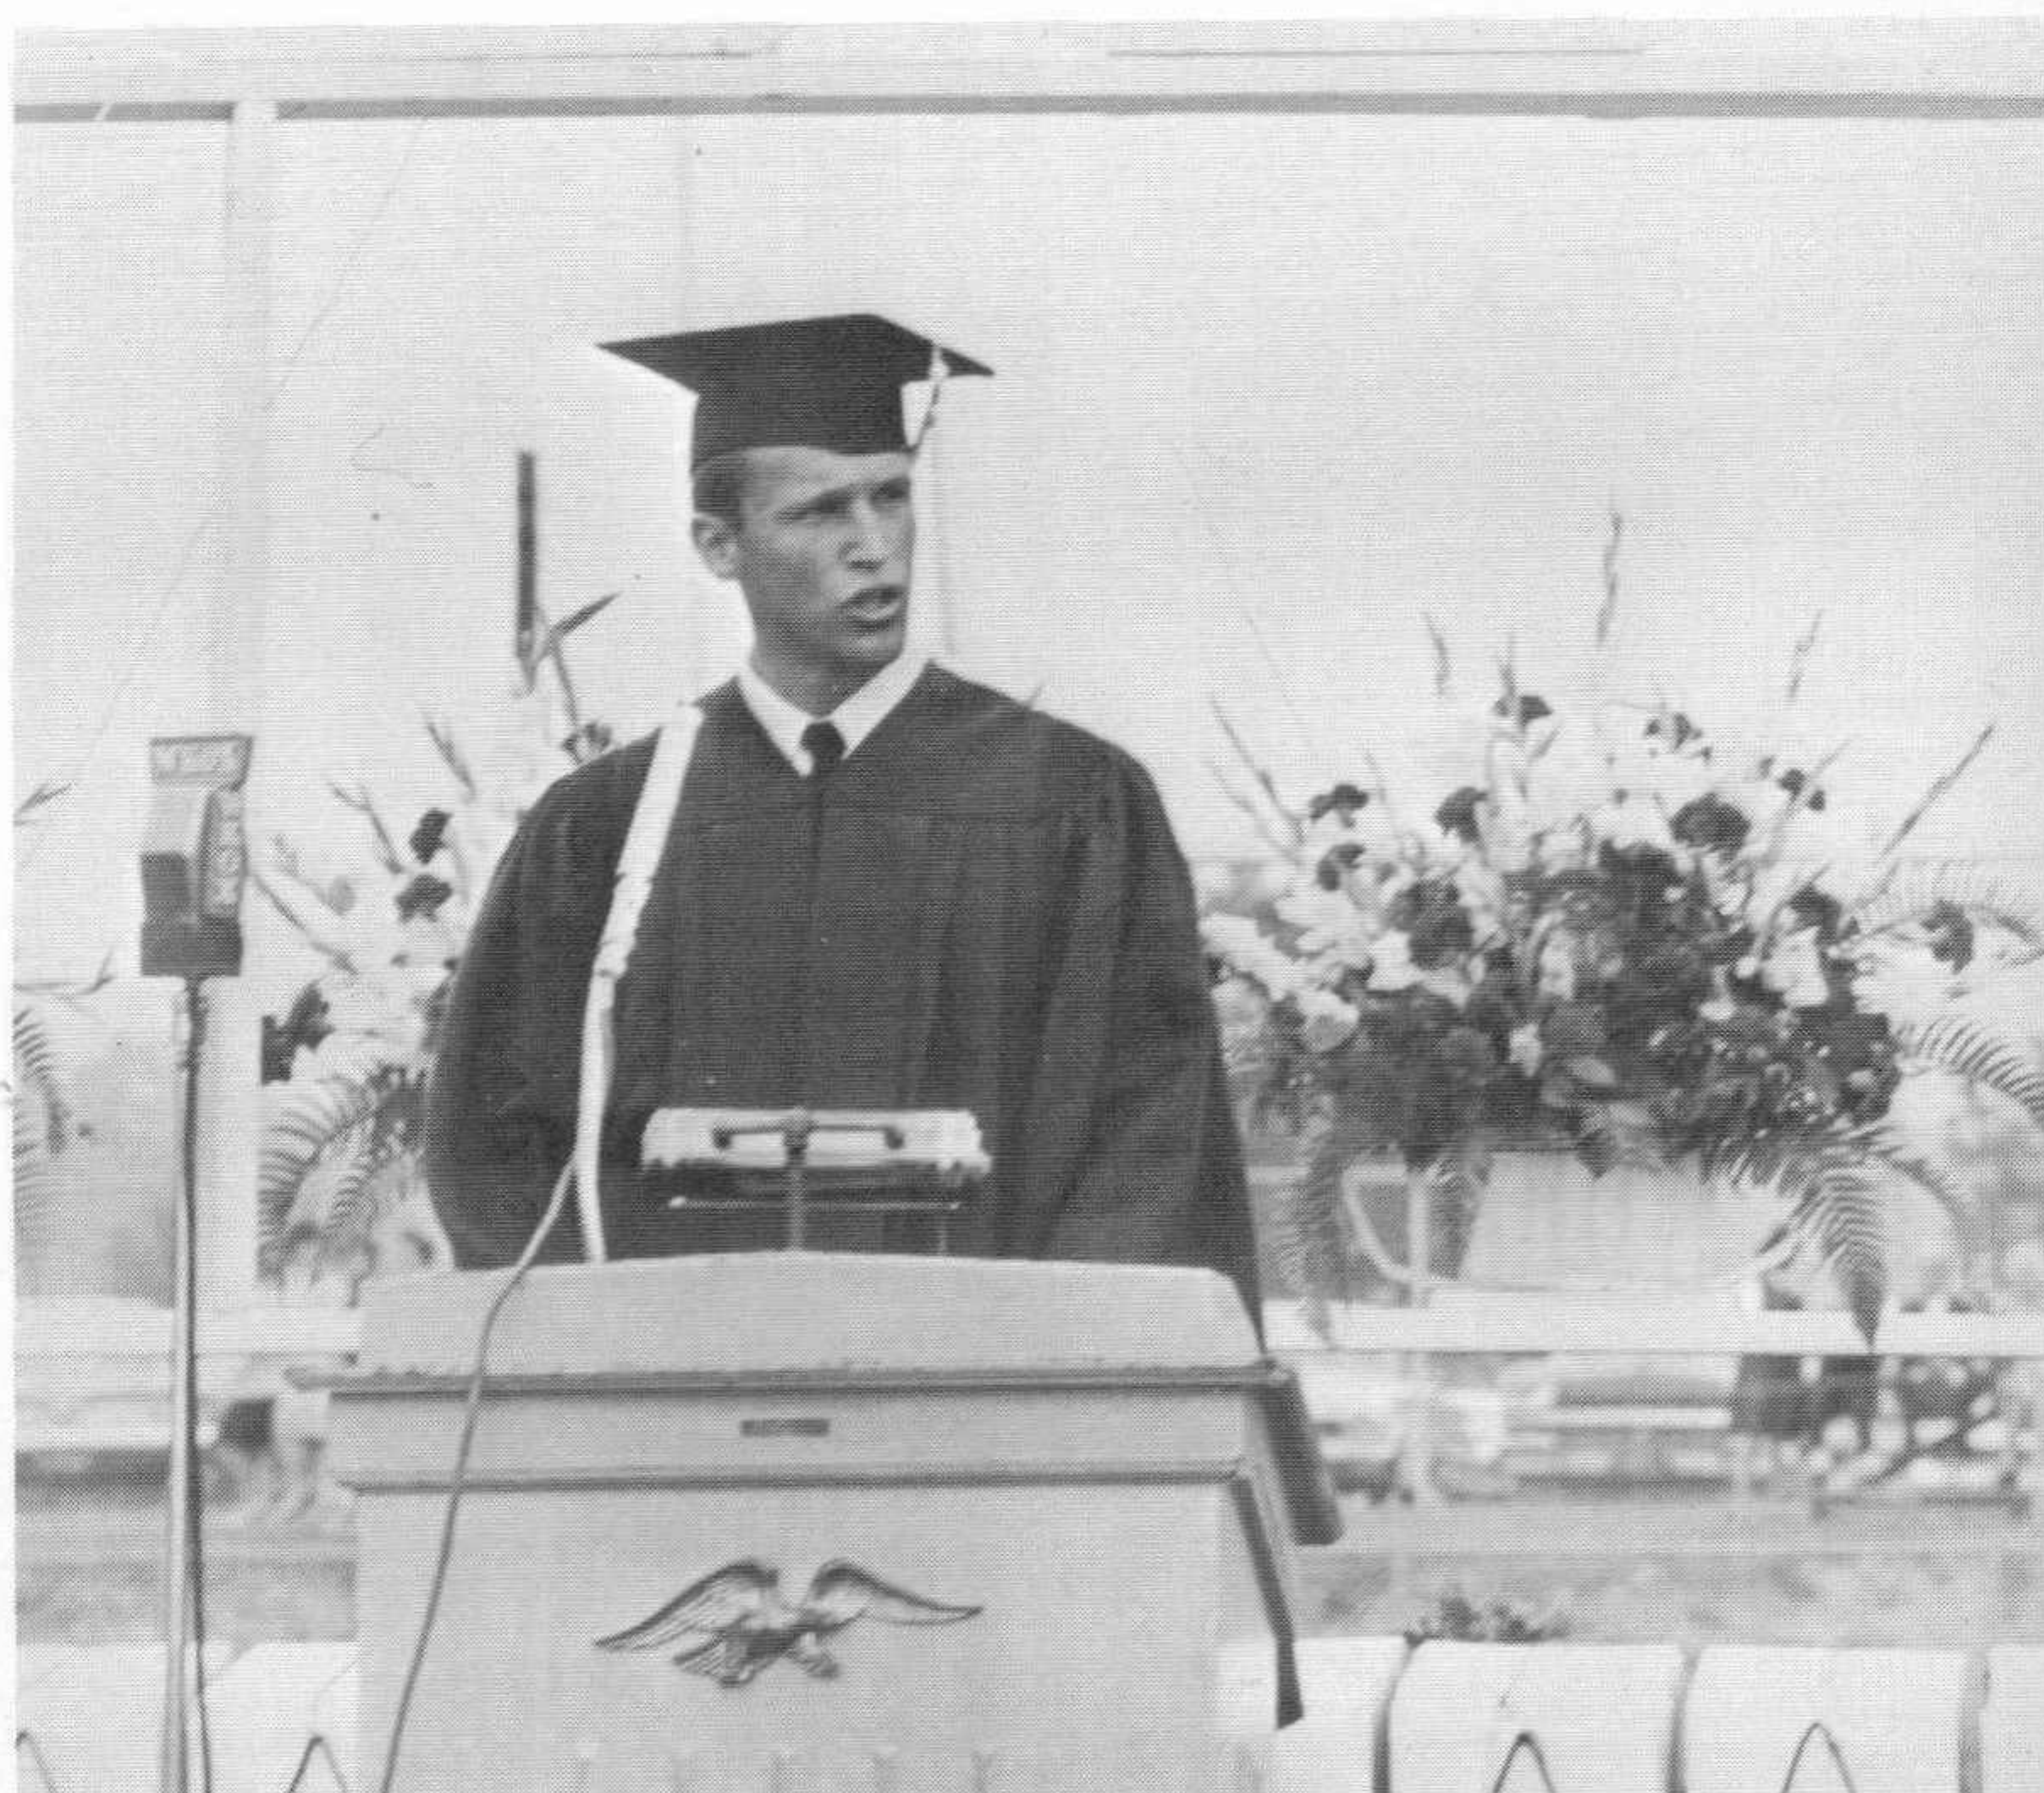

WELCOME

Parents, Teachers, and Friends:

Today, we, the seniors at Natick High School, stand in a sense between two worlds. We are about to try our wings as young men and women in a world filled with many opportunities, but also many hazards. Through the efforts of the most important people in our lives, you, our teachers and our parents, we have the ability and the confidence to overcome these obstacles with courage and to meet every opportunity with enthusiasm. You have shown us the way, you have given us the tools, and we are determined to use these tools to help shape a better world.

With the sincere gratitude that is surely in our hearts today, we welcome you to our graduation and thank you for making it possible.

PEACE THROUGH UNDERSTANDING

The twentieth century may go down in history as the century of war and peace—the first in which world wars were fought, the first in which man established world peace, and, perhaps, the last in which peace among nations was merely an armed truce, a breathing spell between wars. Even if the ideal of world peace is not actually begun in our time, we will be the first generation of men on earth who, under the impact of the threat of mass human destruction, will make a definite attempt to act on all man's accumulated wisdom concerning war and peace.

The fundamental notions evolved in the time of the Greeks. Socrates spoke of world citizenship. Alexander tried to conquer the world to make it one. The Roman peace was a conquerer's peace. It lasted through sheer power, although for four hundred years the interior provinces knew nothing of fear. Later, Dante advised a revival of that government to give all Christians political, as well as spiritual unity.

To omit these attempts would be to overlook man's age old aspirations, but the importance of the attempts is limited because during all these times, man was convinced of a future war. The only ways in which the past could conceive the world's coming to the unity of peace was by conquest or empire.

Only in recent times has the inevitability of war been questioned, and the possibilities of lasting peace proposed. Men have attributed fighting to a deep combative instinct. Darwin considers it the basis of the relentless struggle for existence. If this urge is instinct, it must have developed only in our species, for our anthropoid stock is inoffensive. For the most part, monkeys and apes are mild and friendly, their quarrels little more than goodnatured banter. Man differs from the apes in that he is carnivorous. However, this does not produce the instinct, for the Eskimo is a flesh eater and killer from early childhood, yet they are the least aggressive men. Until the white man came there was not even a word for war in their language. The Eskimo, though, is still in the pre-tribal state of development. Once a society has been formed, war becomes a main business. The Romans fought to establish their peace, but only against warriors. In the Middle Ages, those not directly concerned in fighting carried on business as usual. The more highly developed the civilization, the more widespread the destruction. In World War II, Hitler attempted genocide. Today, there is danger that the population of the whole earth could be killed. Man is the only animal who is not content to remain in the original state of nature. The change can be either good or bad. We are trying for good.

Peace movements have marked a large part of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Both the American and British Peace Societies were formed to arbitrate international disputes. Although some conventions were directed towards lessening some aspects of war, such as poison gas, many anti-war ideas came into being, among them Czar Nicholas II's world court at the Hague Conference of 1899.

A good sample of attempts towards peace could be obtained from a list of Nobel Prize winners. This award, stipulated by the will of the inventor of dynamite, is given annually to the person who has done most towards preventing war. Among the recipients are Juan Henri Dunant, founder of International Red Cross, the Quakers, and President Theodore Roosevelt, who successfully ended a war between Russia and Japan. In later years it has been awarded to Dag Hammarskjöld, Ralph Bunche, and the United Nations as a whole, a tribute to the long dreamed of world court.

All religions, each with principles of harmony and concord, have been drawn closer by the Ecumenical Council.

The partial Nuclear Test Ban Treaty agreed upon by 83 nations in the summer of 1963 was a great step in lessening the threat of war.

Through displays and entertainment, the World Fair is bringing knowledge. In Proverbs 7: the wise man says, "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore, get wisdom; and with all thy getting, get understanding." Let it be peace through understanding.

UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE RACES

When the first cave man stepped out of the first cave many eons ago, he found himself in a world where he had to fight for survival. His life was a life of fear, fear of pain, fear of death, but primarily fear of anything "different". Man found he could cope with that with which he was familiar, but he was a loss to contend with an unknown. Fear breeds hatred, and before too long man found himself hating anything different just because it was different.

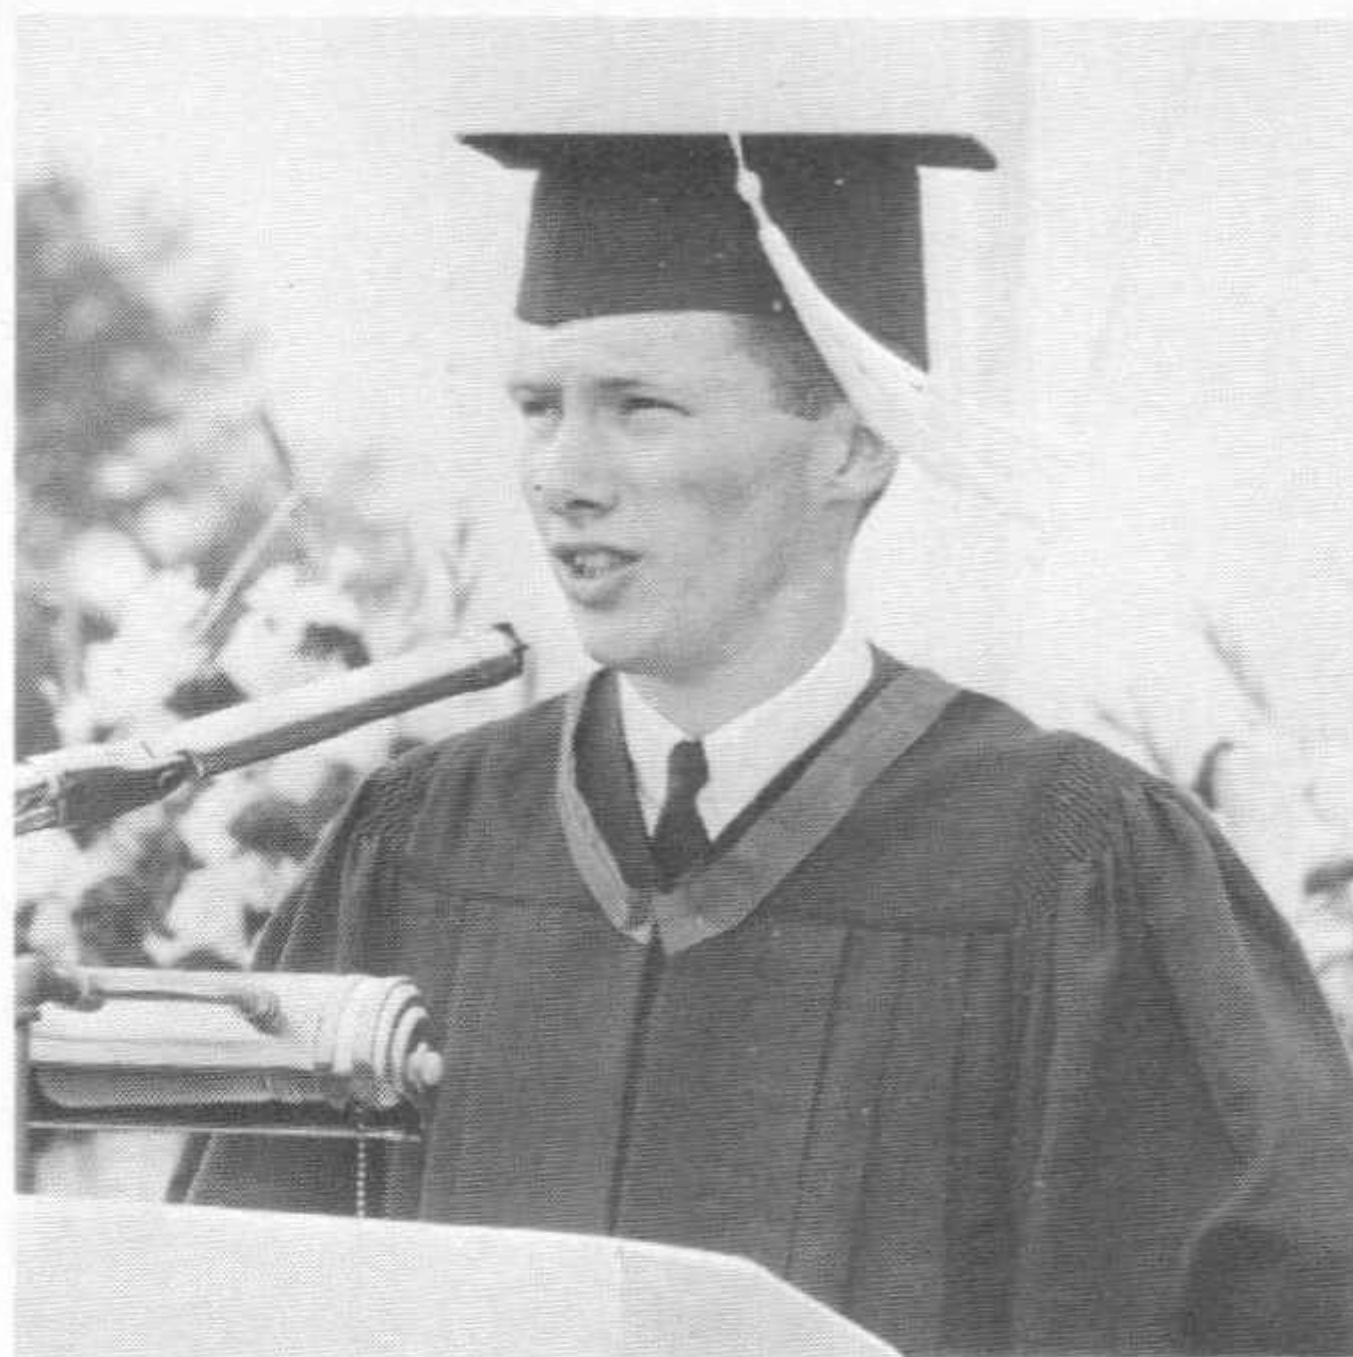

Unfortunately, man hasn't changed greatly in this respect over the years. He still has fears; he still fears anything out of the ordinary. Psychologists tell us that modern man hates because he needs a scapegoat, someone on whom he may blame his troubles. This hatred of someone because he is different, or "wrong", implies that the self is normal, or "right". The truth is that there is not "right" and "wrong" in this respect; a man acts according to his own character, not according to his particular ethnic group.

But man must have a scapegoat, a scapegoat who must necessarily be part of a minority. In our Caucasian society, the obvious choice is the Negro, who fulfills all the characteristics of a good scapegoat. His skin coloring immediately sets him off as one "different" from the norm; therefore one to be distrusted. The Negro is generally economically deprived, which further distinguishes him as part of a so-called "low-life" race. The Negro's economic status is one vicious circle; society will not give him an equal opportunity while he lives in poverty, and he cannot arise from poverty until society gives him an equal opportunity. A break must occur somewhere, and I believe that it is society's responsibility to make this break.

The treatment of the Negro as an inferior may be traced to his first role in the country, that of a slave. But he is not a slave now, nor has he been one for one hundred years. He is a human being, no different from anyone else. What, then, is the precise solution to the race problem as it exists in our society today? I believe that a complete change in attitude on the part of the American white is necessary before the Negro can be accepted as an equal in all senses of the word. This change began with William Lloyd Garrison and the abolitionists and is continuing now. It would be difficult today, however, if not impossible, to accept the Negro race as one culturally identical or anywhere close to it. This is through no fault of the Negroes; we have simply not given him the opportunity to improve himself. We must therefore set as our first goal not equal results, but equal opportunity.

The basic problem in granting the Negro this "equal opportunity" and this bringing about the so-needed change in attitude is one of education. It is a very difficult task to hire a Negro technician if there are no competent Negro technicians available. More and more corporations are realizing that a skilled worker is a skilled worker, and their hiring practices have changed accordingly. The trouble is that the education granted to the average negro in some areas of our country qualifies him for nothing more than a porter's position.

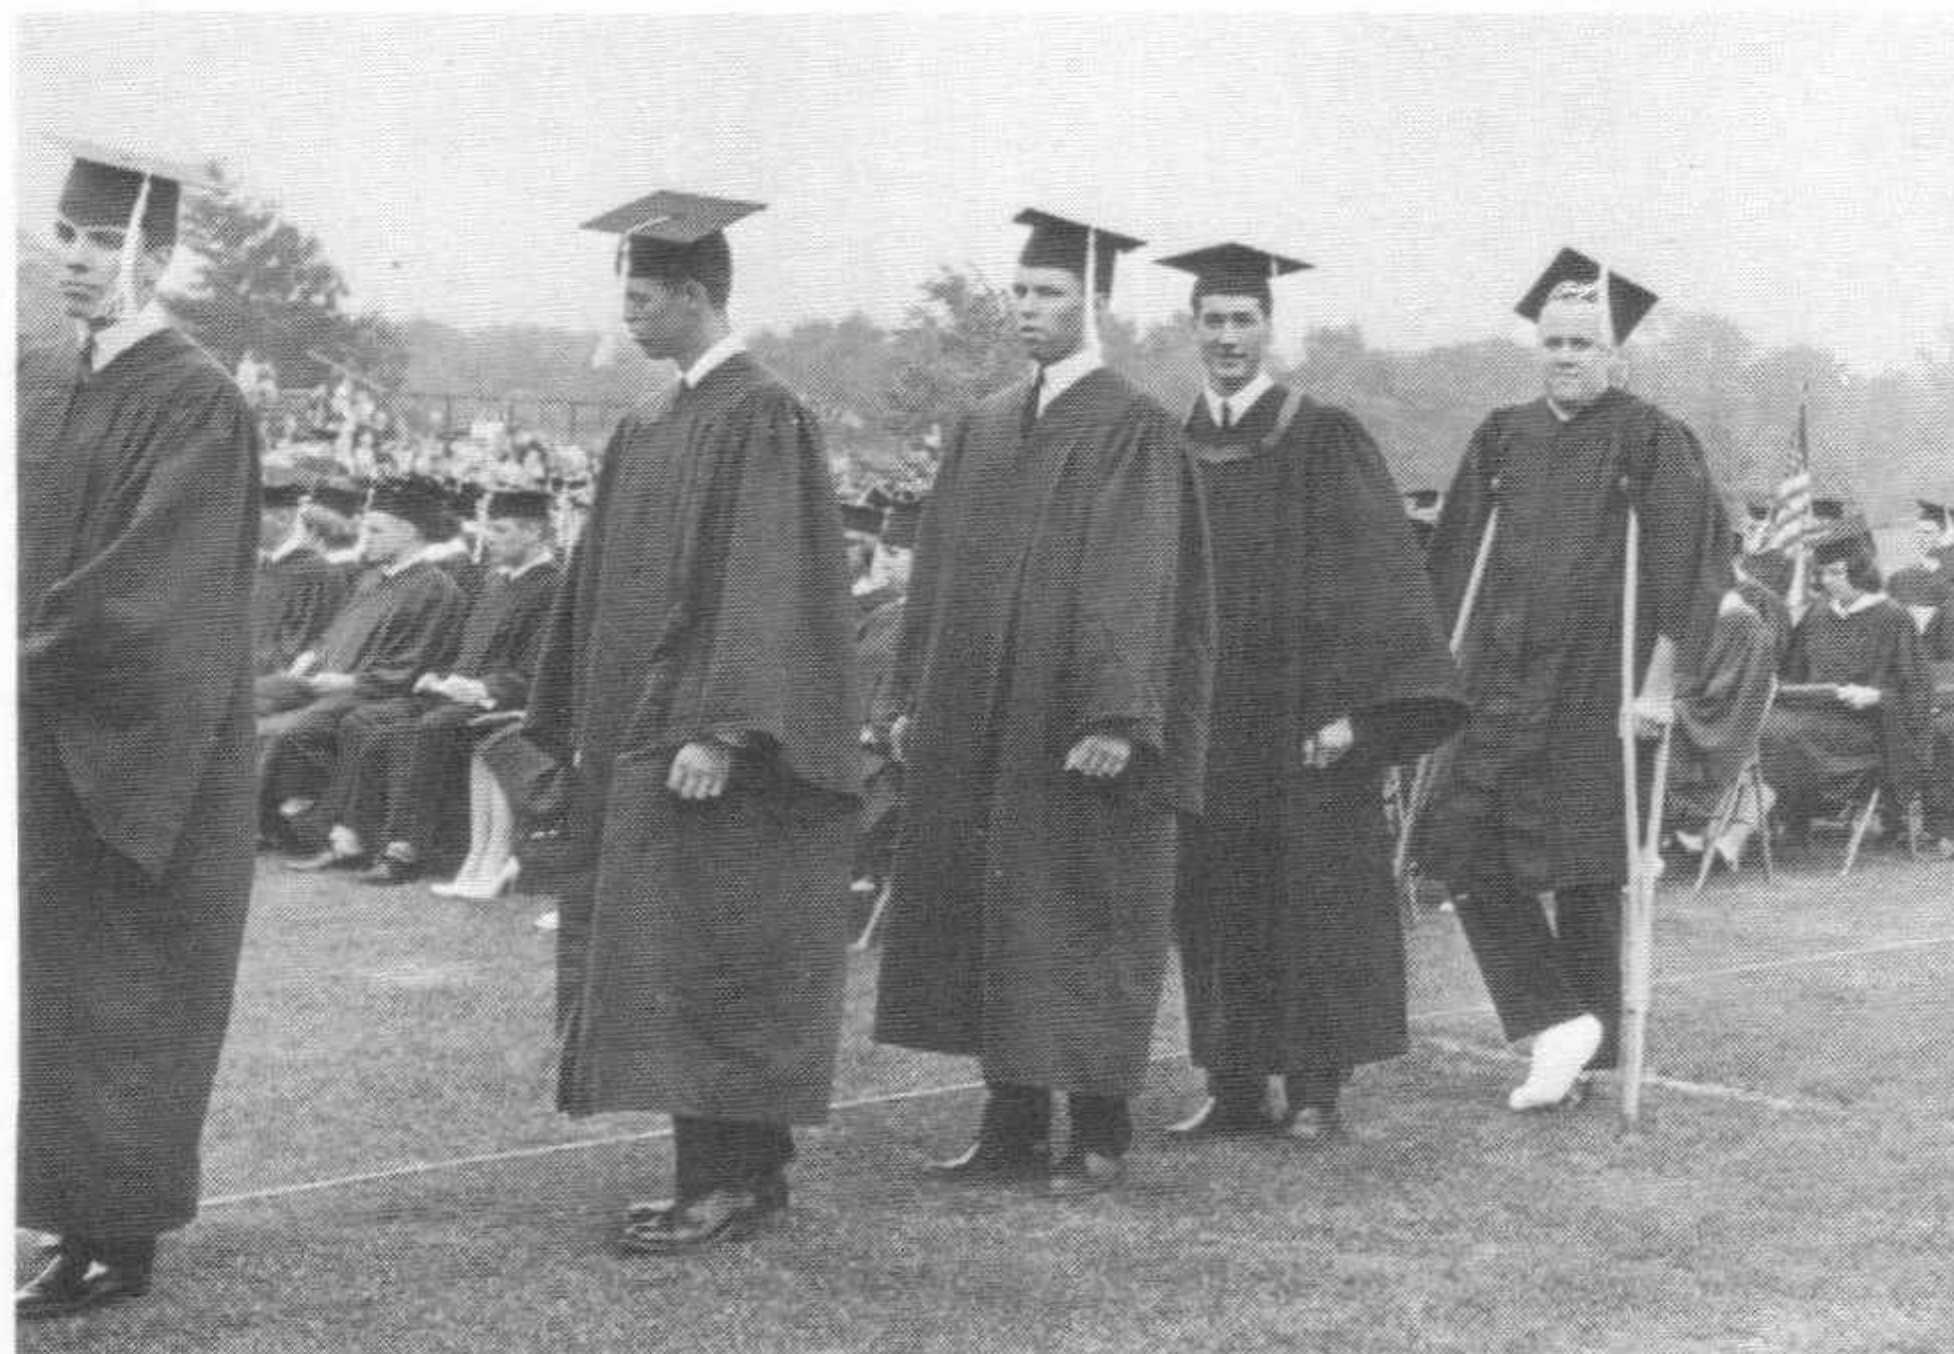

This situation, though sometimes present in the North, is predominant in the South, where the Negro population of the United States is concentrated. Here we must contend with such extremists and bigots as Governor Wallace of Alabama, Governor Barnett of Mississippi, and Governor Faubus of Arkansas, men who are anti-integration and anti-Negro. Any efforts to improve the Negro's lot in these states will come slowly and somewhat painfully. Southern administrators have cried that sufficient funds do not exist to adequately educate both Negroes and whites. If this is the case, and if taxpayers are unwilling to pay for the schooling of all children, then why not favor the Negro. For years we have discriminated against the Negro; perhaps now we should discriminate for him. Former President Conant of Harvard University has suggested just such a plan, wherein Negro and underprivileged school children would receive the best teachers and the best facilities.

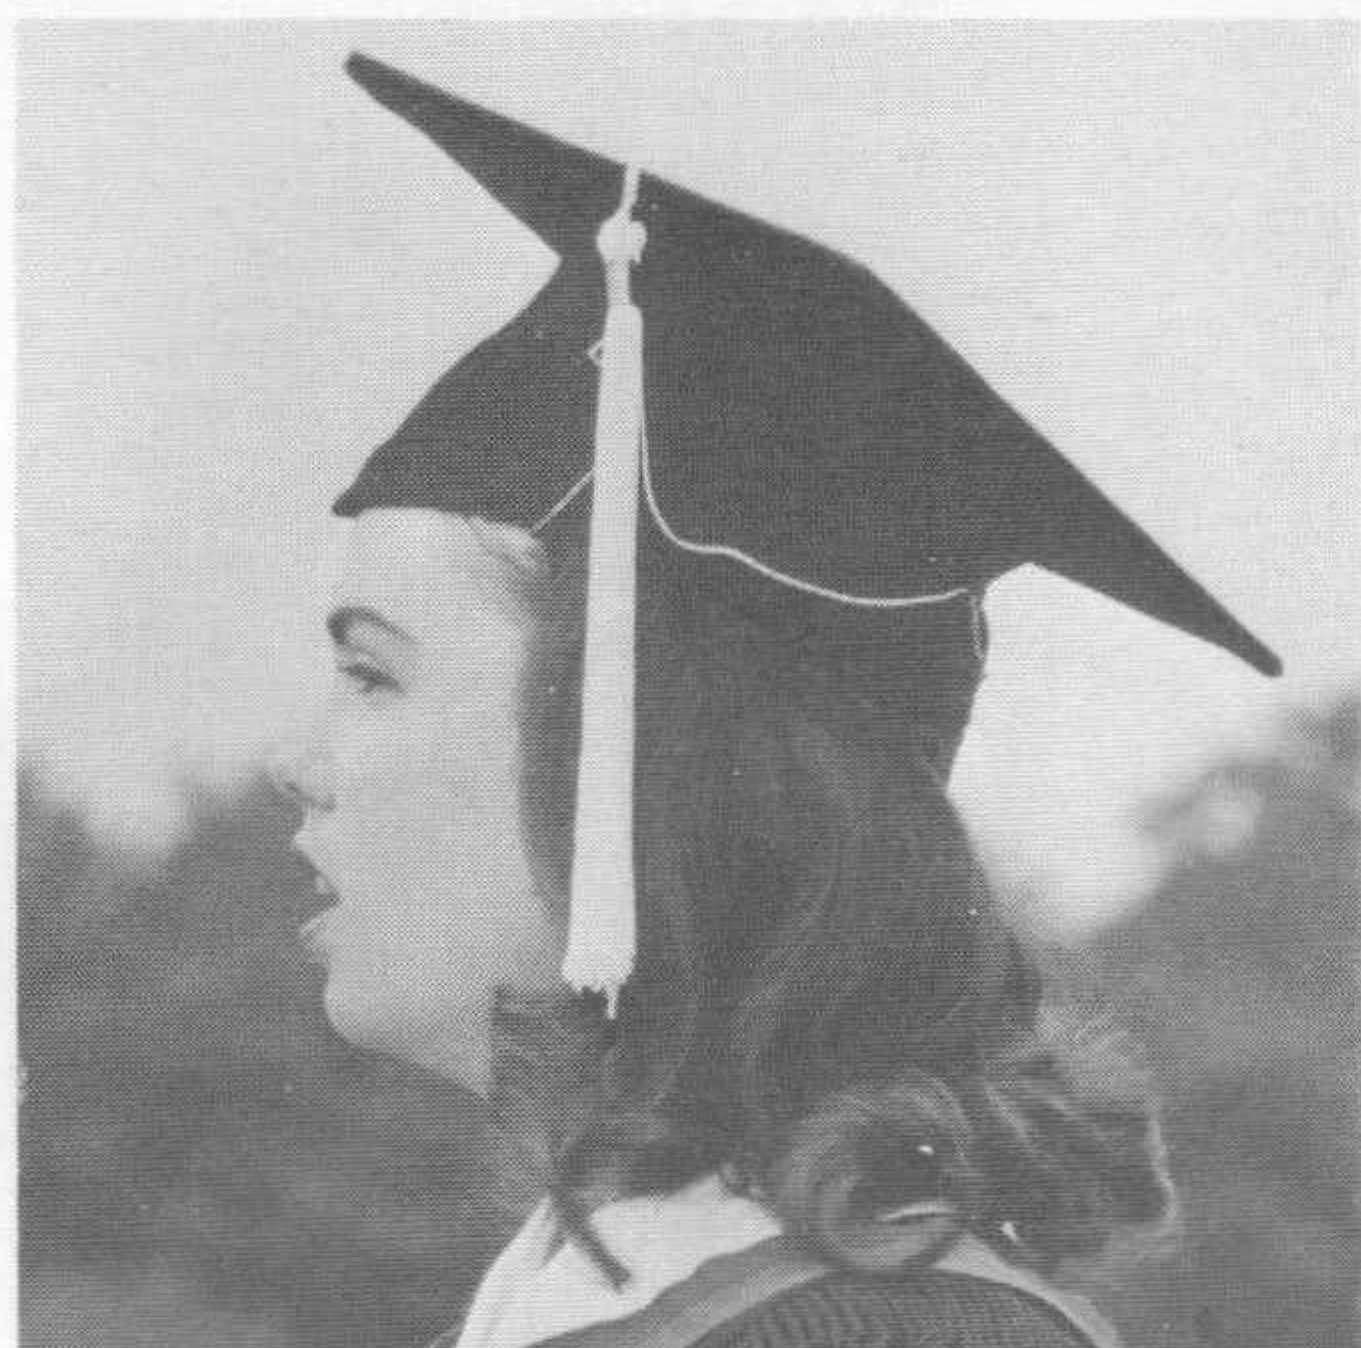

To highlight the need for education and the general position of the American Negro, many inter-racial groups have been formed. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Congress on Racial Equality, the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee—these and many more work for the betterment of the Negro's cause. Led by such men as the Reverend Martin Luther King, Roy Wilkins, and here in Boston, Canon James Breeden, these organizations act as pressure groups to help instigate legislation. That the great portion of this work is entirely legal is commendable, for only within the limits of the law can we expect the law to be changed. It is interesting to note that when the Brooklyn branch of the Congress on Racial Equality proposed a gigantic stall-in on the opening day of the World's Fair, that chapter was immediately suspended from the national organization.

Some laws will undoubtedly be changed, but laws can go only so far. The basic answer lies in the education of the Negro and in an appeal to the inherent goodness and decency of mankind. Prejudice is rationally absurd; here in America we have bigots who are anti-Negro because the Negro supposedly lacks the All-American virtues of thrift, ambition, and shrewdness, and anti-Semitic because the Jew supposedly possesses these same virtues to an excessive degree. It is time we realized that world peace cannot become an actuality while hatred exists between races. Peace will finally be achieved only when man realizes that there is only one race—the human race.

Philip S. Stevenson

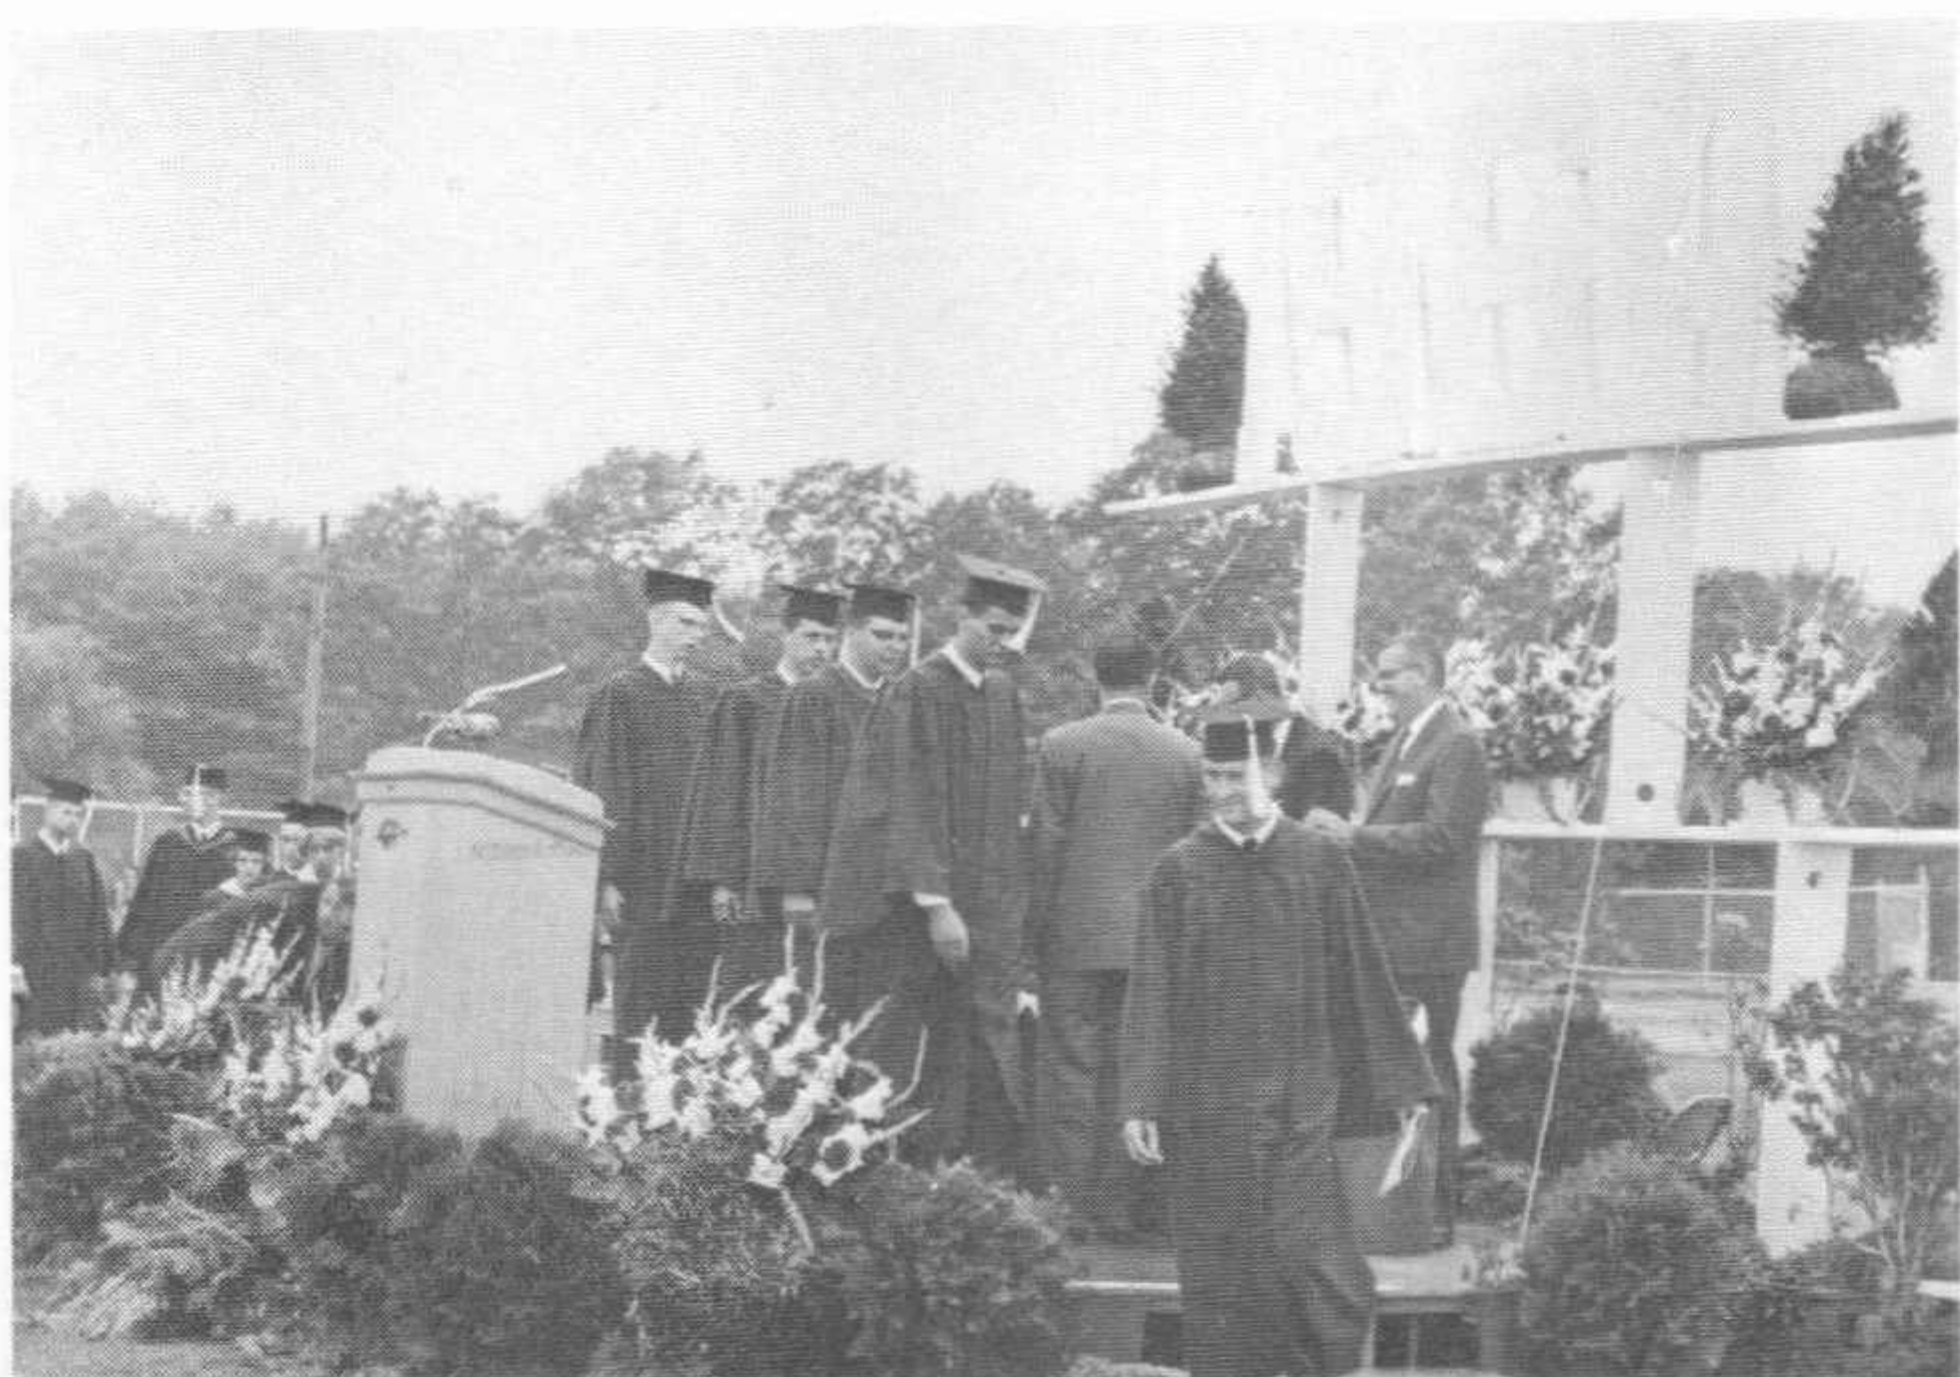

PROVISIONS FOR PEACE

About twenty years ago, a cruel, ruthless dictator foolishly attempted to dominate the world for selfish purposes. This endeavor resulted in the greatest holocaust and slaughter that man has ever known. Yet even now, in 1964, men are losing their lives around the world to strengthen democracy and abolish tyranny and oppression. Daily, in Vietnam, American soldiers give their lives for a country whose people are, on the whole, apathetic and disinterested, since they feel that foreign affairs have little effect on their own existence.

We are already a strong nation, because of the strength of our political, economic, and social institutions. These solid institutions have given us the opportunity to grow and prosper in a country which guarantees freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, and freedom from fear. But we are also guaranteed a freedom for something—the freedom for the opportunity to develop our own capacities in an environment that favors youthful energy, initiative, and a wide choice of alternatives. This has been the deep source of our nation's peaceful strength. But all these opportunities will become meaningless if universal peace can never be achieved.

How can we attain total peace? The United Nations has been seeking a successful solution to this problem since 1945. Here exists the machinery for peace through the Security Council and Assembly, by the use of the Uniting for Peace procedure. This procedure was used successfully in the Suez crisis and is now attempting to settle the dispute on the island of Cyprus.

In an imperfect world rent by the divisions between Democracy and Communism, the United Nations is and will continue to be the chief agency for reconciliation and pacification. Only within the General Assembly do almost all the nations of the world sit in conferences and debate, watched and urged by millions of lonely voices to save them from catastrophe.

The desire for raw materials and land with rich natural resources has resulted in too many armed conflicts. Therefore, an international program should be created for the fair allocation of scarce materials. In connection with this plan, each country should revise its systems of tariffs and custom regulation. The General Agreement of Trade and Tariffs has made much progress in this area by lowering import and export duties and by revising the antiquated procedure for determining tariffs.

But neither governmental agencies nor trade agreements have the sole responsibility of promoting unity among free people. Every individual can and must take a personal part in the war against the propaganda and subterfuge which threaten our democratic society. Free peoples must begin to believe the best and not the worst of what they hear of each other if they are to work as partners. As Benjamin Franklin once said, "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

To achieve peace, racial prejudice and mistrust must be eliminated; each nation must cooperate in the struggle for peace by being tolerant and considerate of others whose beliefs and customs differ from their own.

It has been said that the struggle for peace is no longer a struggle of ideologies, but one occurring between the "have" and the "have-not" nations. Clearly, then, to eliminate international quarrels, the underdeveloped nations must receive financial aid to develop their potential and increase their productivity. The education level and the standard of living must be raised, until each country is capable of taking its place as a well-fed, well-developed nation. Not until each nation enjoys adequate wealth and living conditions will peace be able to exist. As Bernard Baruch has said, "To win the peace, we must wage the peace."

Controlled disarmament is a feeble approach to the war problem, for arms will begin to disappear only when they are seen to be useless, as well as highly dangerous. Arms control is weapon deterrence in a more sophisticated form, but if it can keep the peace until the world is ready to abolish the war system, it will have served its purpose. Today, arms control seems to be the most logical approach to the war problem, although it offers no foundation on which to build a successful world order.

The Russians suggest the abolition of war in order to make disarmament possible; the West, on the other hand, wants to begin the process of the gradual reduction of armaments in order to make the abolition of war possible, meanwhile continually clinging to all the supposed safeties and securities of the war system, until finally assured that war is no longer necessary. Several plans have been developed to attain this goal; the Baruch plan proposes the world-wide destruction of all bombs, and the sharing of peaceful atomic know-how under a system of inspection. With the advent of the test ban, the future of disarmament seems more hopeful. Few countries will invest the large amount of money and manpower necessary to build a nuclear weapon if they cannot legally test that weapon.

The world as it exists today is better by most standards than any that has previously existed, and it is only the fears of what the great weapons systems can do in the future that prevent our cheerful acceptance of our society.

If the great powers of the world can refrain from tearing each other to radioactive rubble, they can become, in themselves, an adequate basis for a world system that while not perfect, not completely non-violent, can work much harder than the war system ever has toward the betterment of mankind.

UNDERSTANDING THROUGH THE PEACE CORPS

In his Inaugural Address, President Kennedy said: "To those people in the huts and villages of half the globe struggling to break the bounds of mass misery, we whatever period is required—not because the Communists may be doing it, not because we seek their votes, but because it is right."

This pledge is being fulfilled through the Peace Corps.

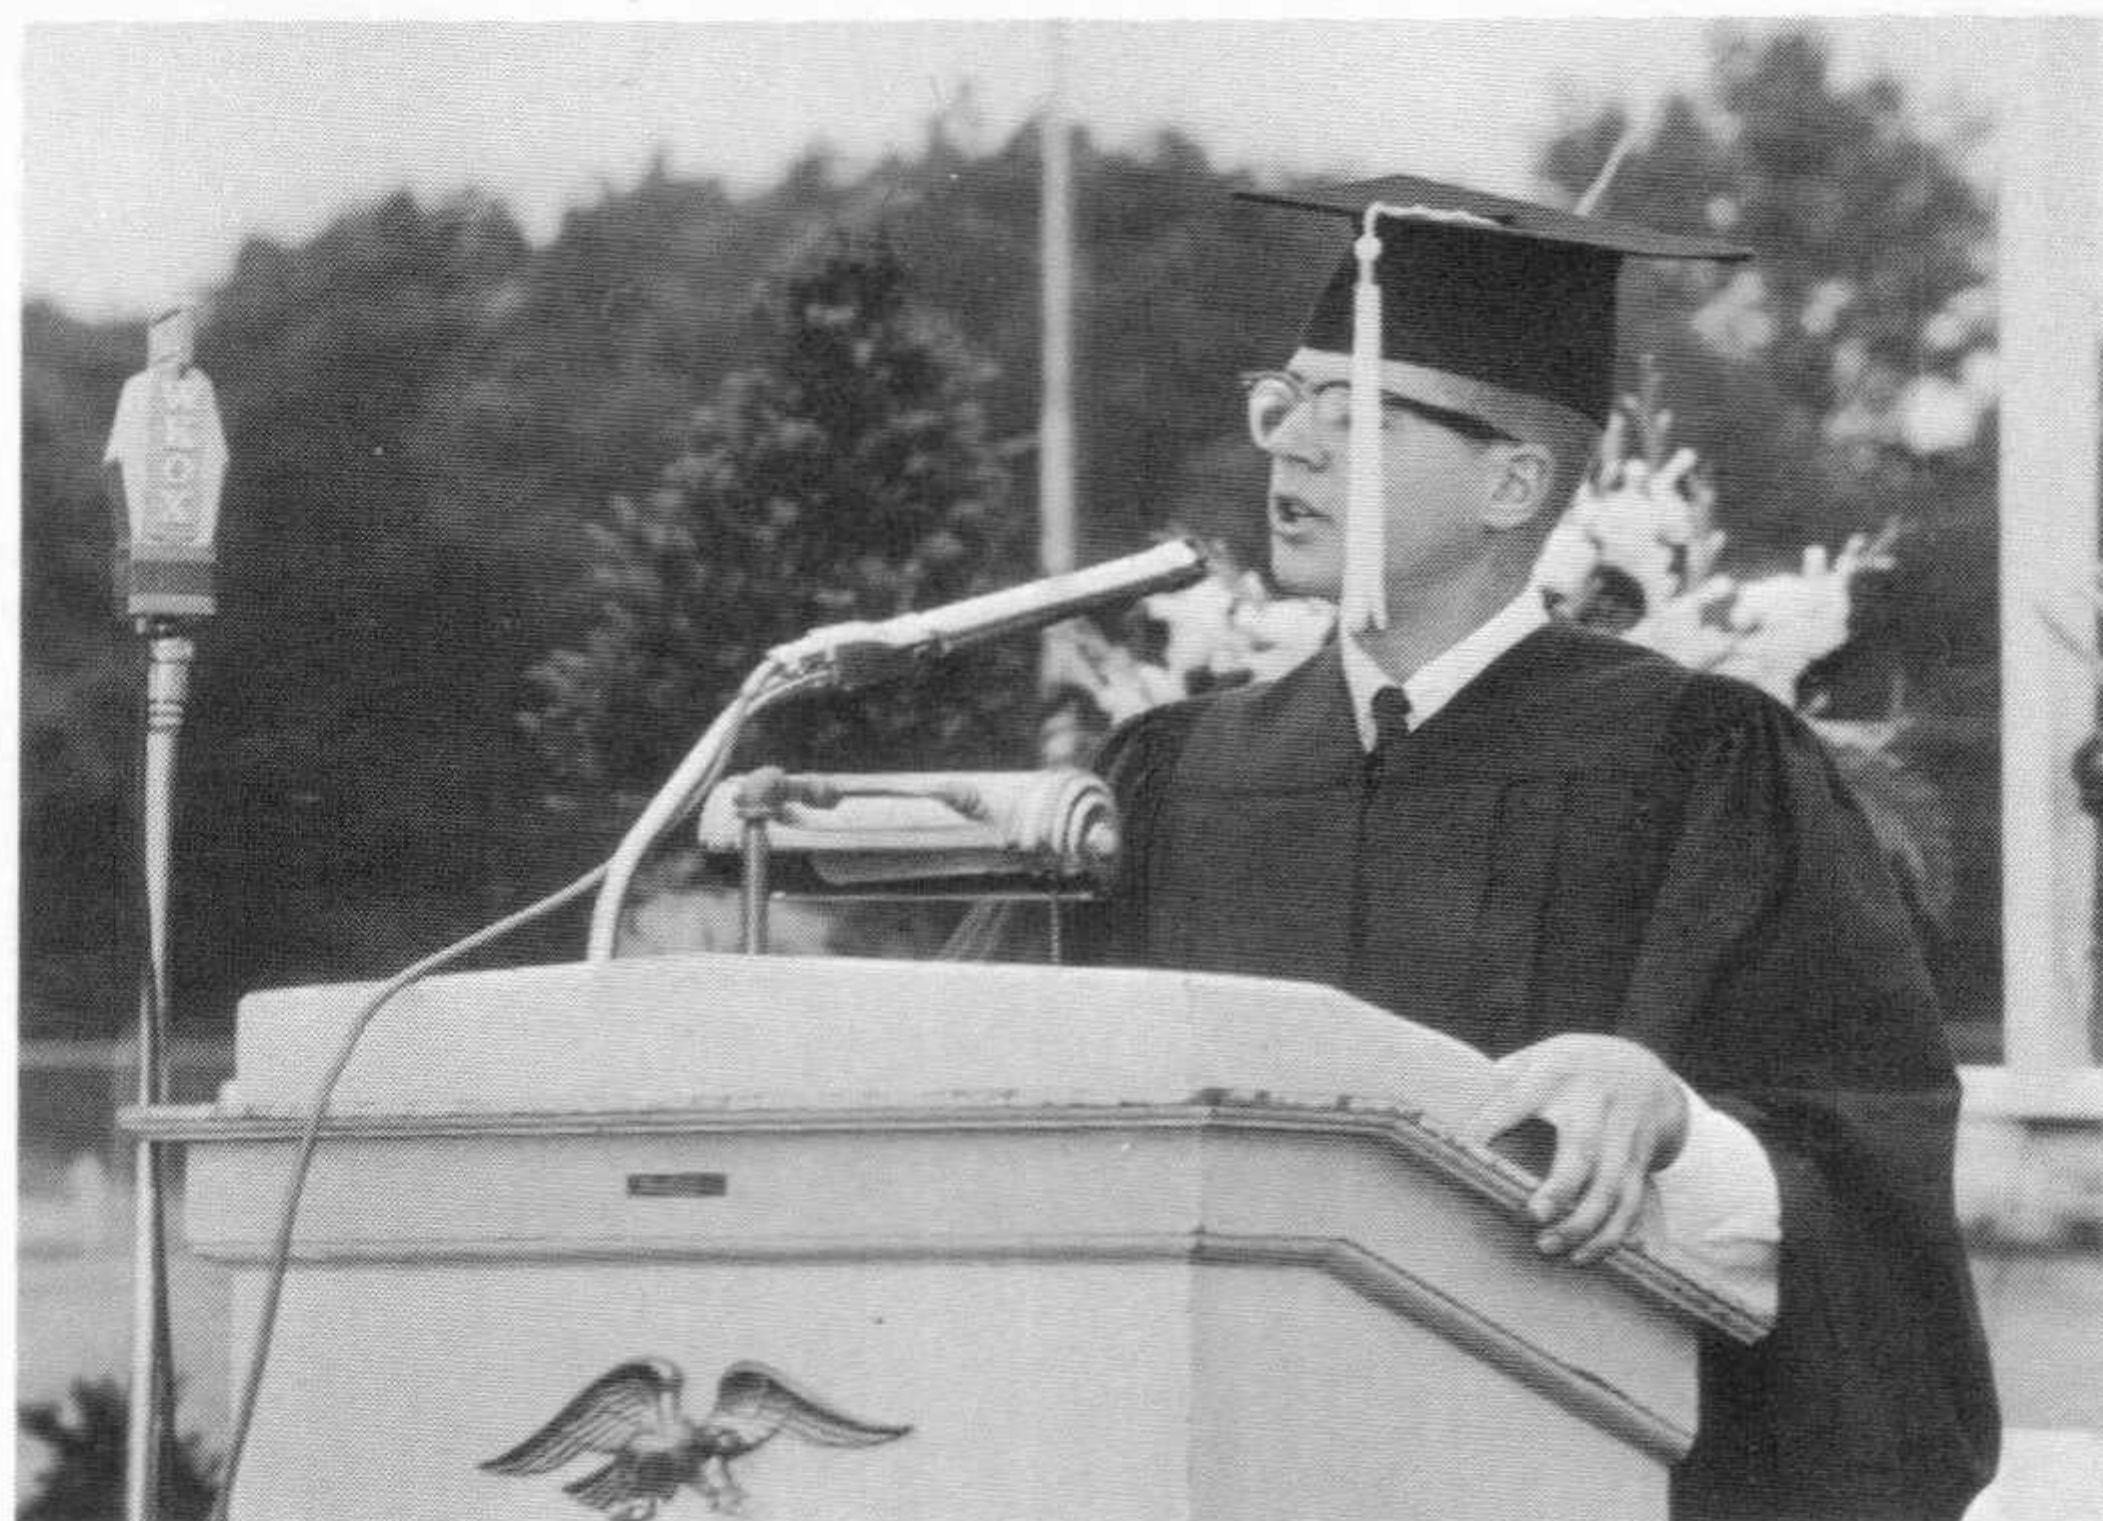

The Peace Corps is a unique type of foreign aid. It helps other countries, not by massive infusions of money or by monumental public works projects, not by training workers to develop their country sometime in the future, but by doing the things that need to be done right now, in the present.

The Peace Corps operates not at the national level, where its efforts would be comparatively useless to the bulk of the populace, but on the local level, where its efforts can be appreciated the most.

The people are helped not by a vast, far-off, and impersonal organization called the United States, but by Volunteers who work with them, sleep with them, eat with them.

The Peace Corps asks nothing in return for its help. It exists solely for the recipient's advantage. In recognition of its special status, it is excluded by law from many of the restrictions governing other foreign aid.

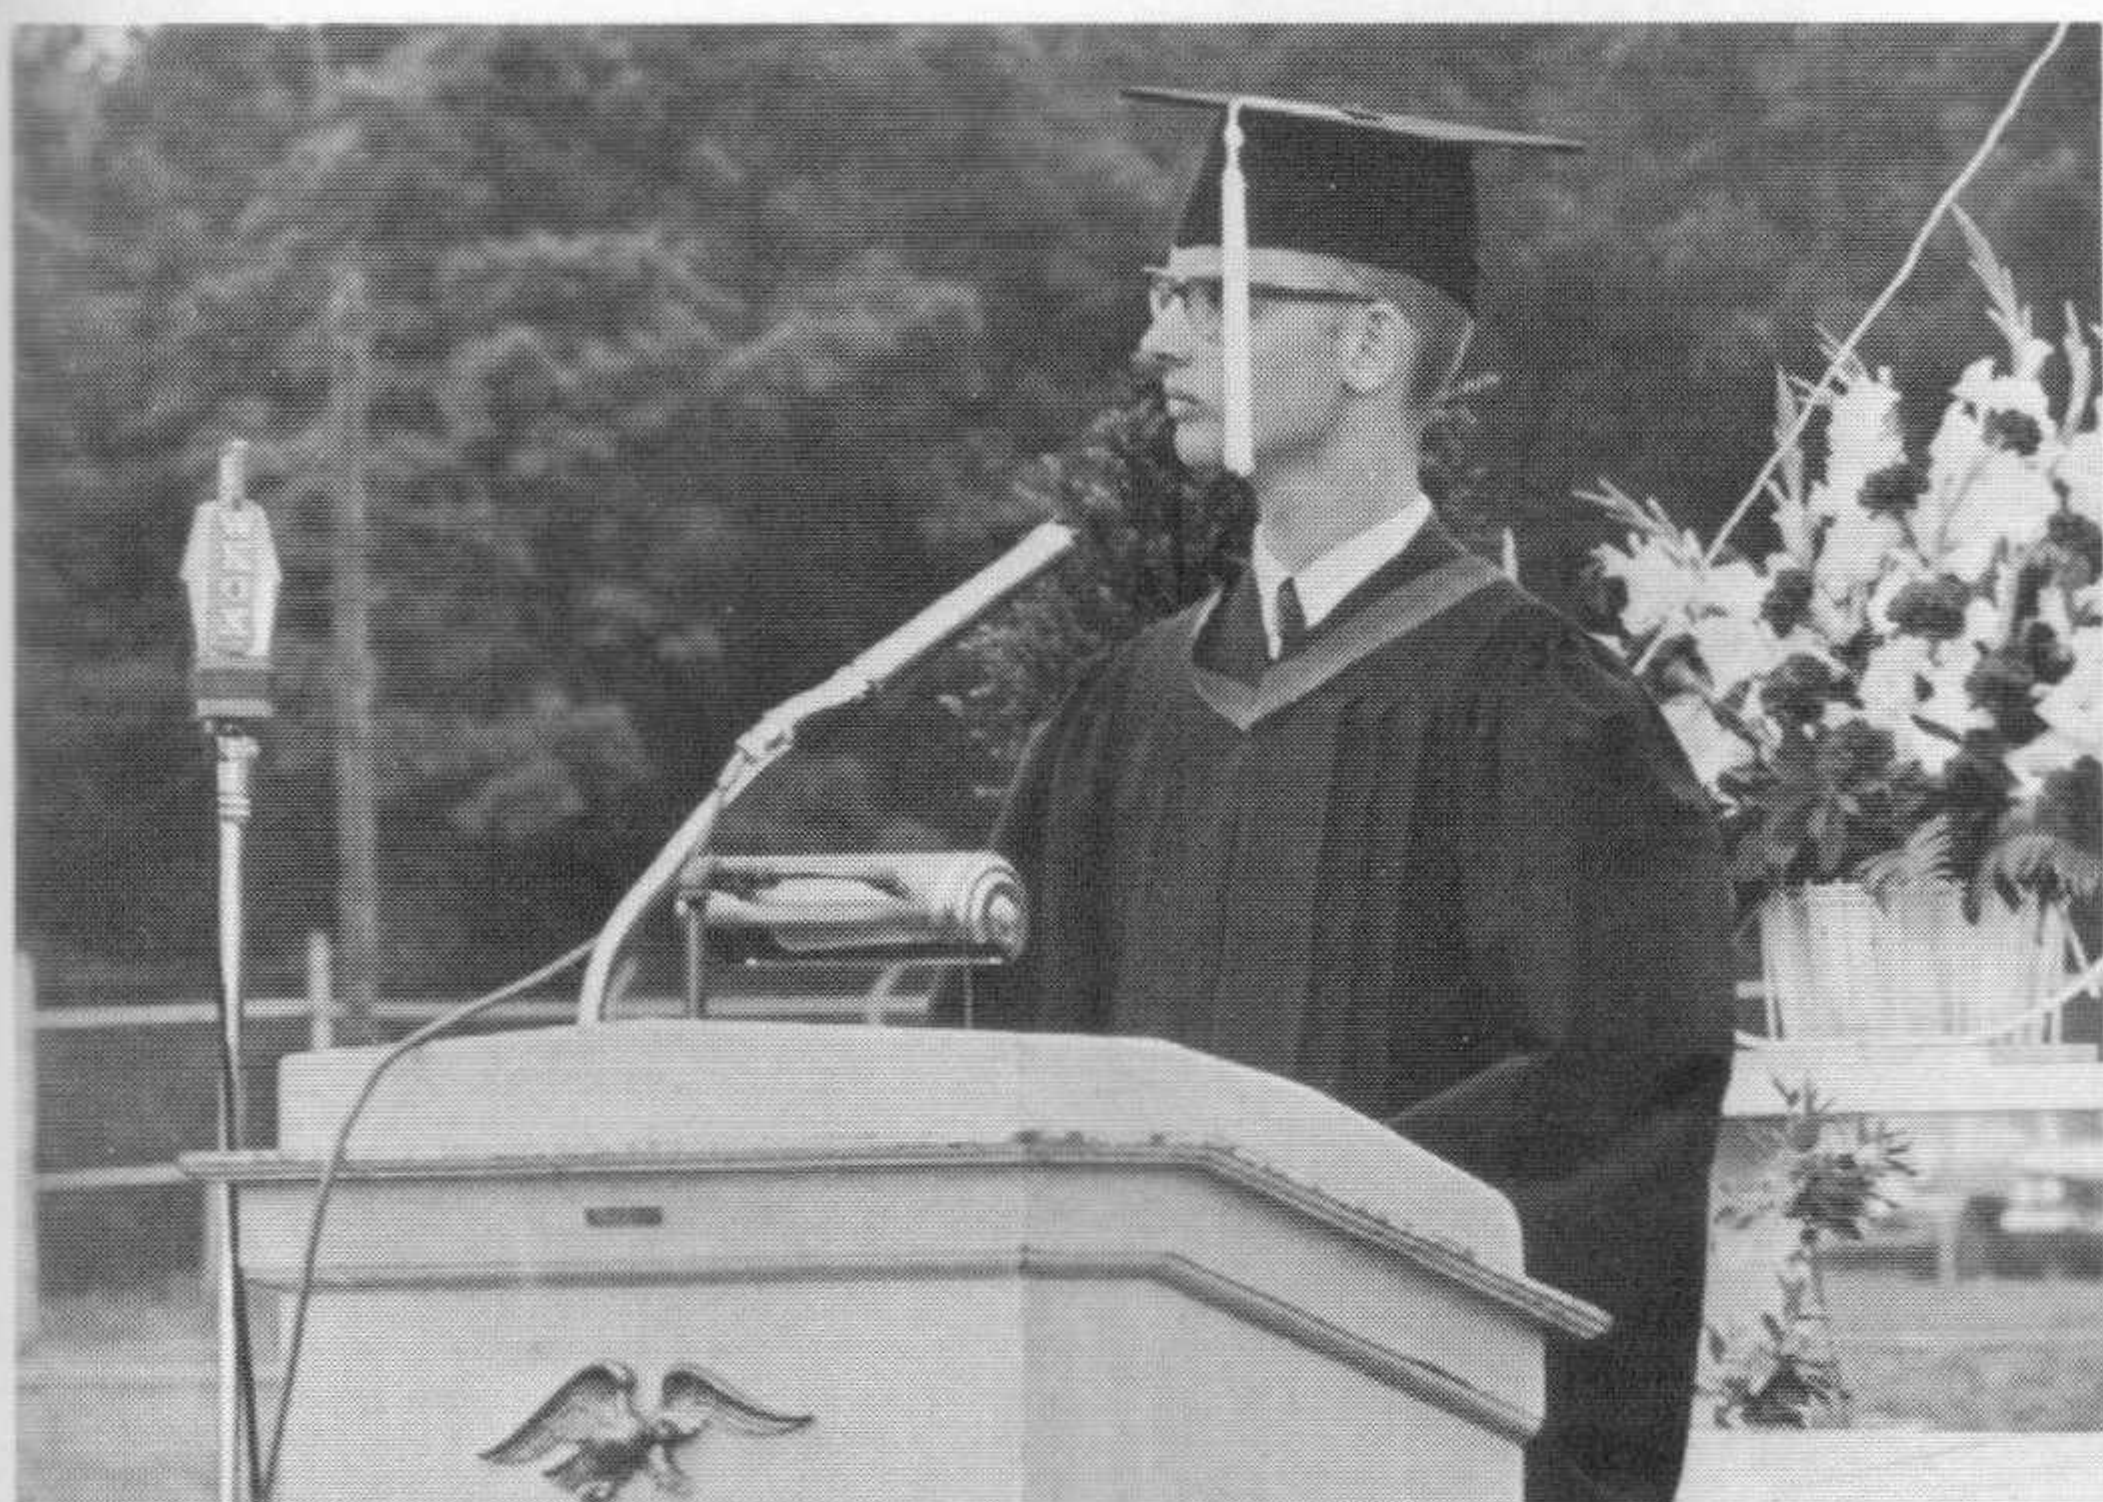

Although a program of the United States Government, the Peace Corps is basically a people helping people program. As such, its success is dependent on the extent to which the American people feel a personal involvement in the lives of other peoples around the globe. Through the Peace Corps, Americans learn other people's ways of thinking and the reasons behind their thinking. They face the problems of developing a country where often the importance of education is not seen, since the thoughts of the people are only on what they will eat tomorrow; where too often the people cling to traditional methods and refuse to try out new ones. In meeting these problems, Americans can sympathize with these countries as they struggle to achieve a higher standard of living and improve the welfare of their populace.

Understanding is a two-way street, however. For many of the people, the Peace Corps Volunteer is the first American they have ever seen. They are able to see Americans as they really are, and not as tainted by news media or propaganda. And they may feel confident that these are not unusual individuals specially chosen for their benefits, but average middle-class Americans, with skills in agriculture, construction, and teaching, who felt compelled to share in the task of improving the welfare of the world's people—not because they wished to fight Communism, not because they wished personal gain, but because they felt themselves to be involved in mankind.

Luke J. Szpakowski

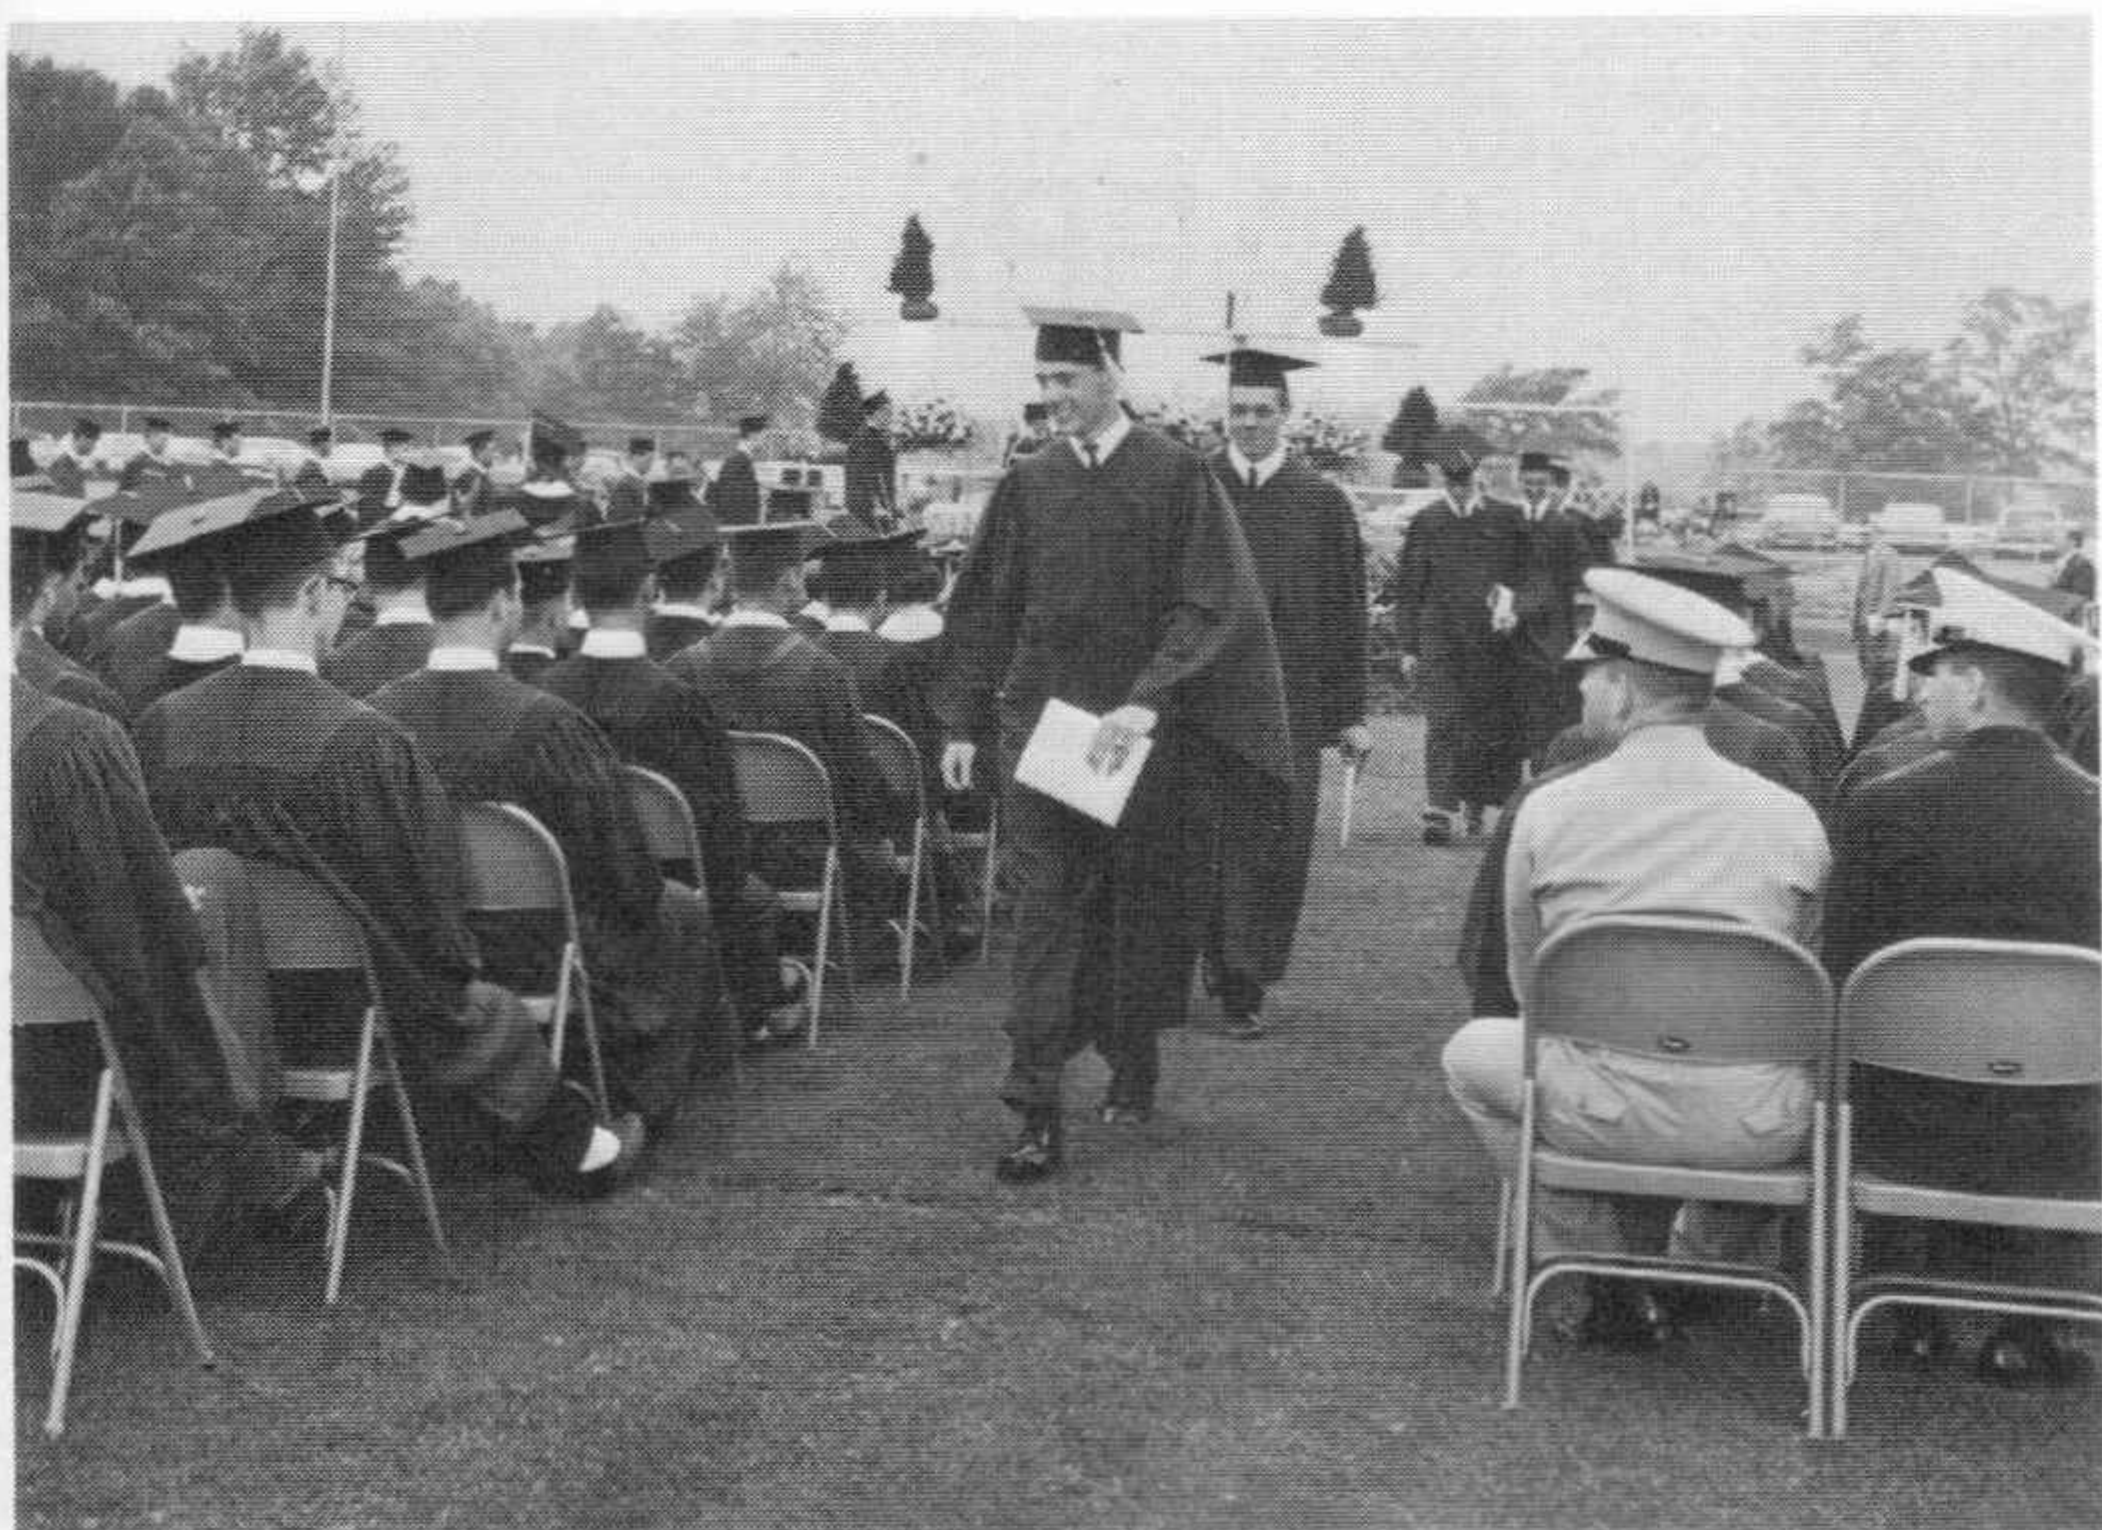

"WALK TOGETHER, TALK TOGETHER"

In order to achieve peace through understanding, the peoples of the earth must obviously learn to understand each other, and this cannot be done unless they know each other, for who can understand a person without knowing him well, and who can know a person well without understanding him? One of the best ways for the peoples of the earth to get to know each other is through foreign exchange programs.

One such program with which we at Natick are personally acquainted is the American Field Service Student Exchange Program, which has brought us Alician Sideman and which will send two Natickites abroad within the next year. Other large scale programs are the Junior Year Abroad, in which many American colleges and universities participate, the Fulbright program, and the Experiment in International Living. There are also many smaller groups both here and abroad which sponsor exchange students.

The goal of the A.F.S. is to increase international good will by spreading knowledge and understanding. There are innumerable examples of its success. Shortly after World War II, the first large group of German exchange students was scheduled to come here and it was expected that there would be a fair amount of difficulty in their relations with American teen-agers. The French and the Germans were also very distrustful of one another; in fact, one German boy, at the beginning of his trip, swore that he would never set foot on French soil. By the end of the year, however, he had made many warm friends here and among the French exchange students, and he was even planning a visit to France to see them when he returned. As another German student said, after the final get-together and bus trip of the foreign students here, "There were twenty-five nationalities on my bus. We argued, but we were like a big family. How can any of us ever fight each other?"

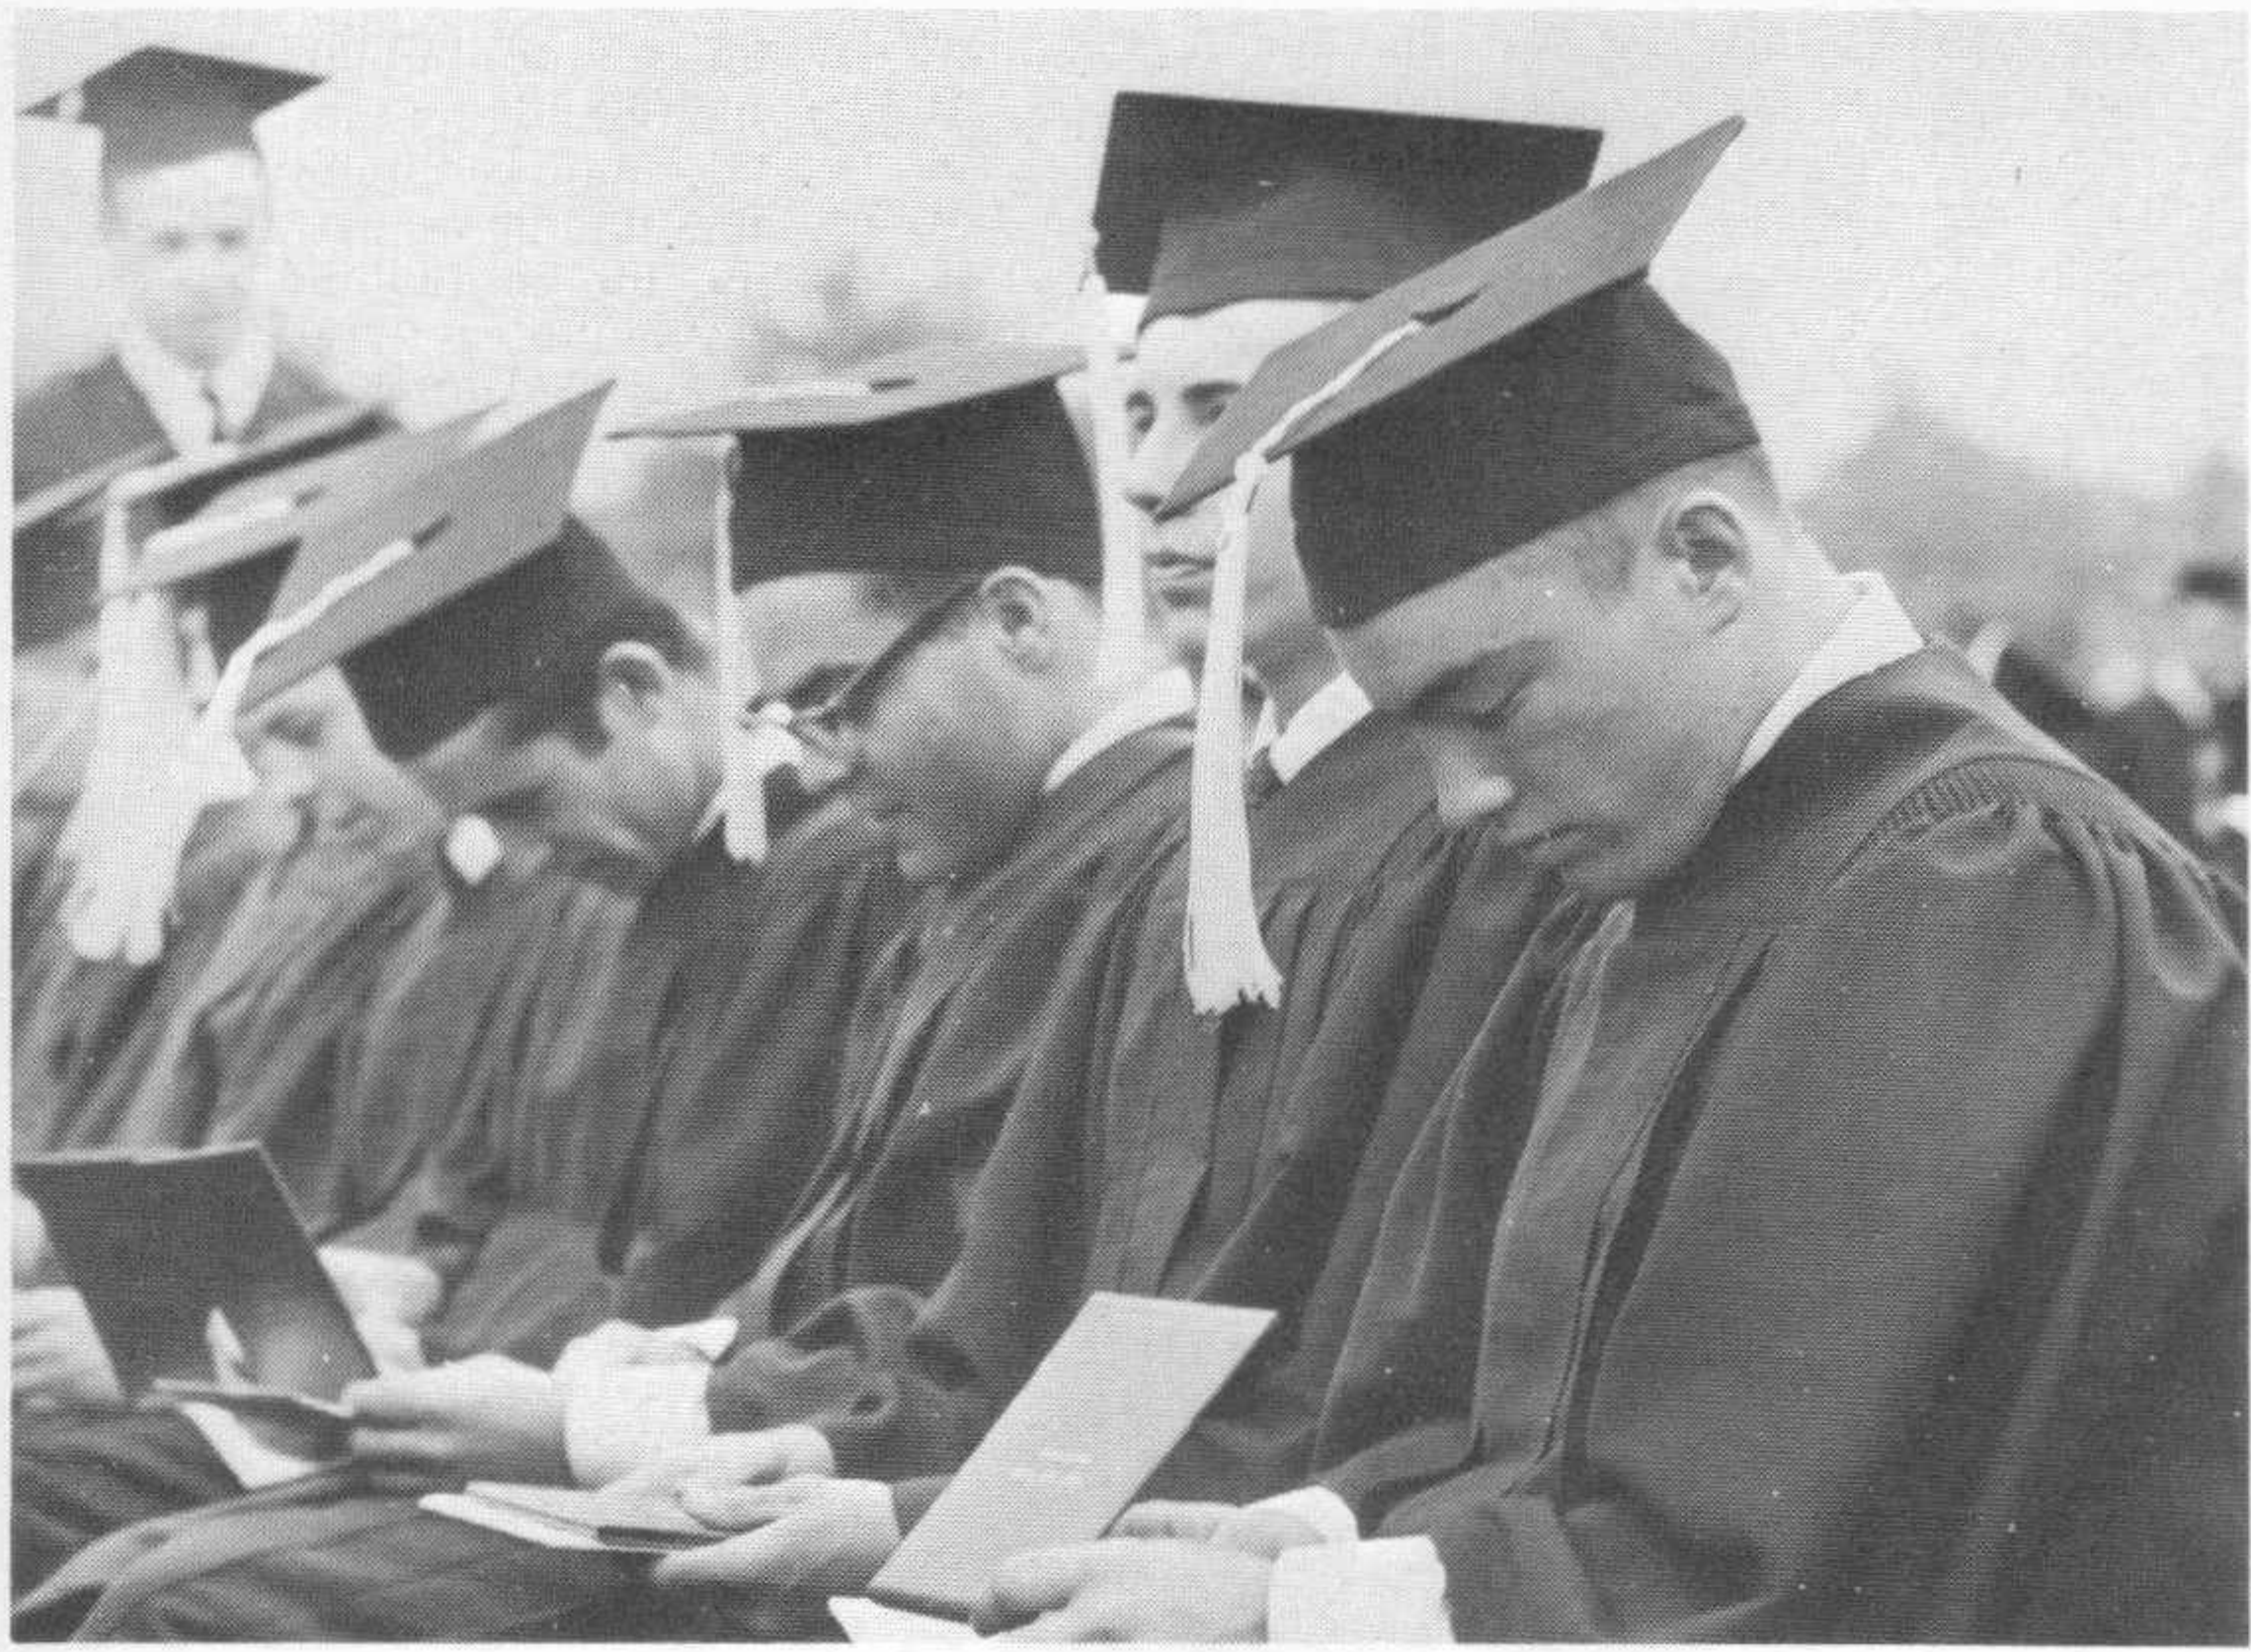

Exchange programs do a great deal to dispel prejudices, general misconceptions, and fears. Most foreigners have a generalized idea of Americans which is gained either consciously or unconsciously from the movies, and most Americans have stereotyped ideas of foreigners, too. Alicia, for instance, was not sure of what she expected Americans to be like, but she had the partial idea that we were nothing more than rich capitalists, leading an easy life, with a car for every person in the family. Naturally enough, she has found that this is untrue. She has also found a great deal more religion here than she anticipated and she has been impressed by the warmth of our family life, which she did not expect at all. As she so simply put it when she spoke to me, "All people are the same", but it takes a great deal of experience to really feel this fact rather than just to know it academically.

Everyone who comes into contact with people in an exchange program benefits. In the case of the A.F.S. this includes parents, foster parents, close friends, and relatives as well as acquaintances. The students themselves gain the most, however, Americans returning grow to feel French, Japanese, or Uruguayan, but they also find themselves much "more American". They feel a new pride in their country, but they also learn to appreciate its weaknesses and what can be done about them. More important still, they learn why people of other countries are neutral, why social customs differ, and why international disputes arise.

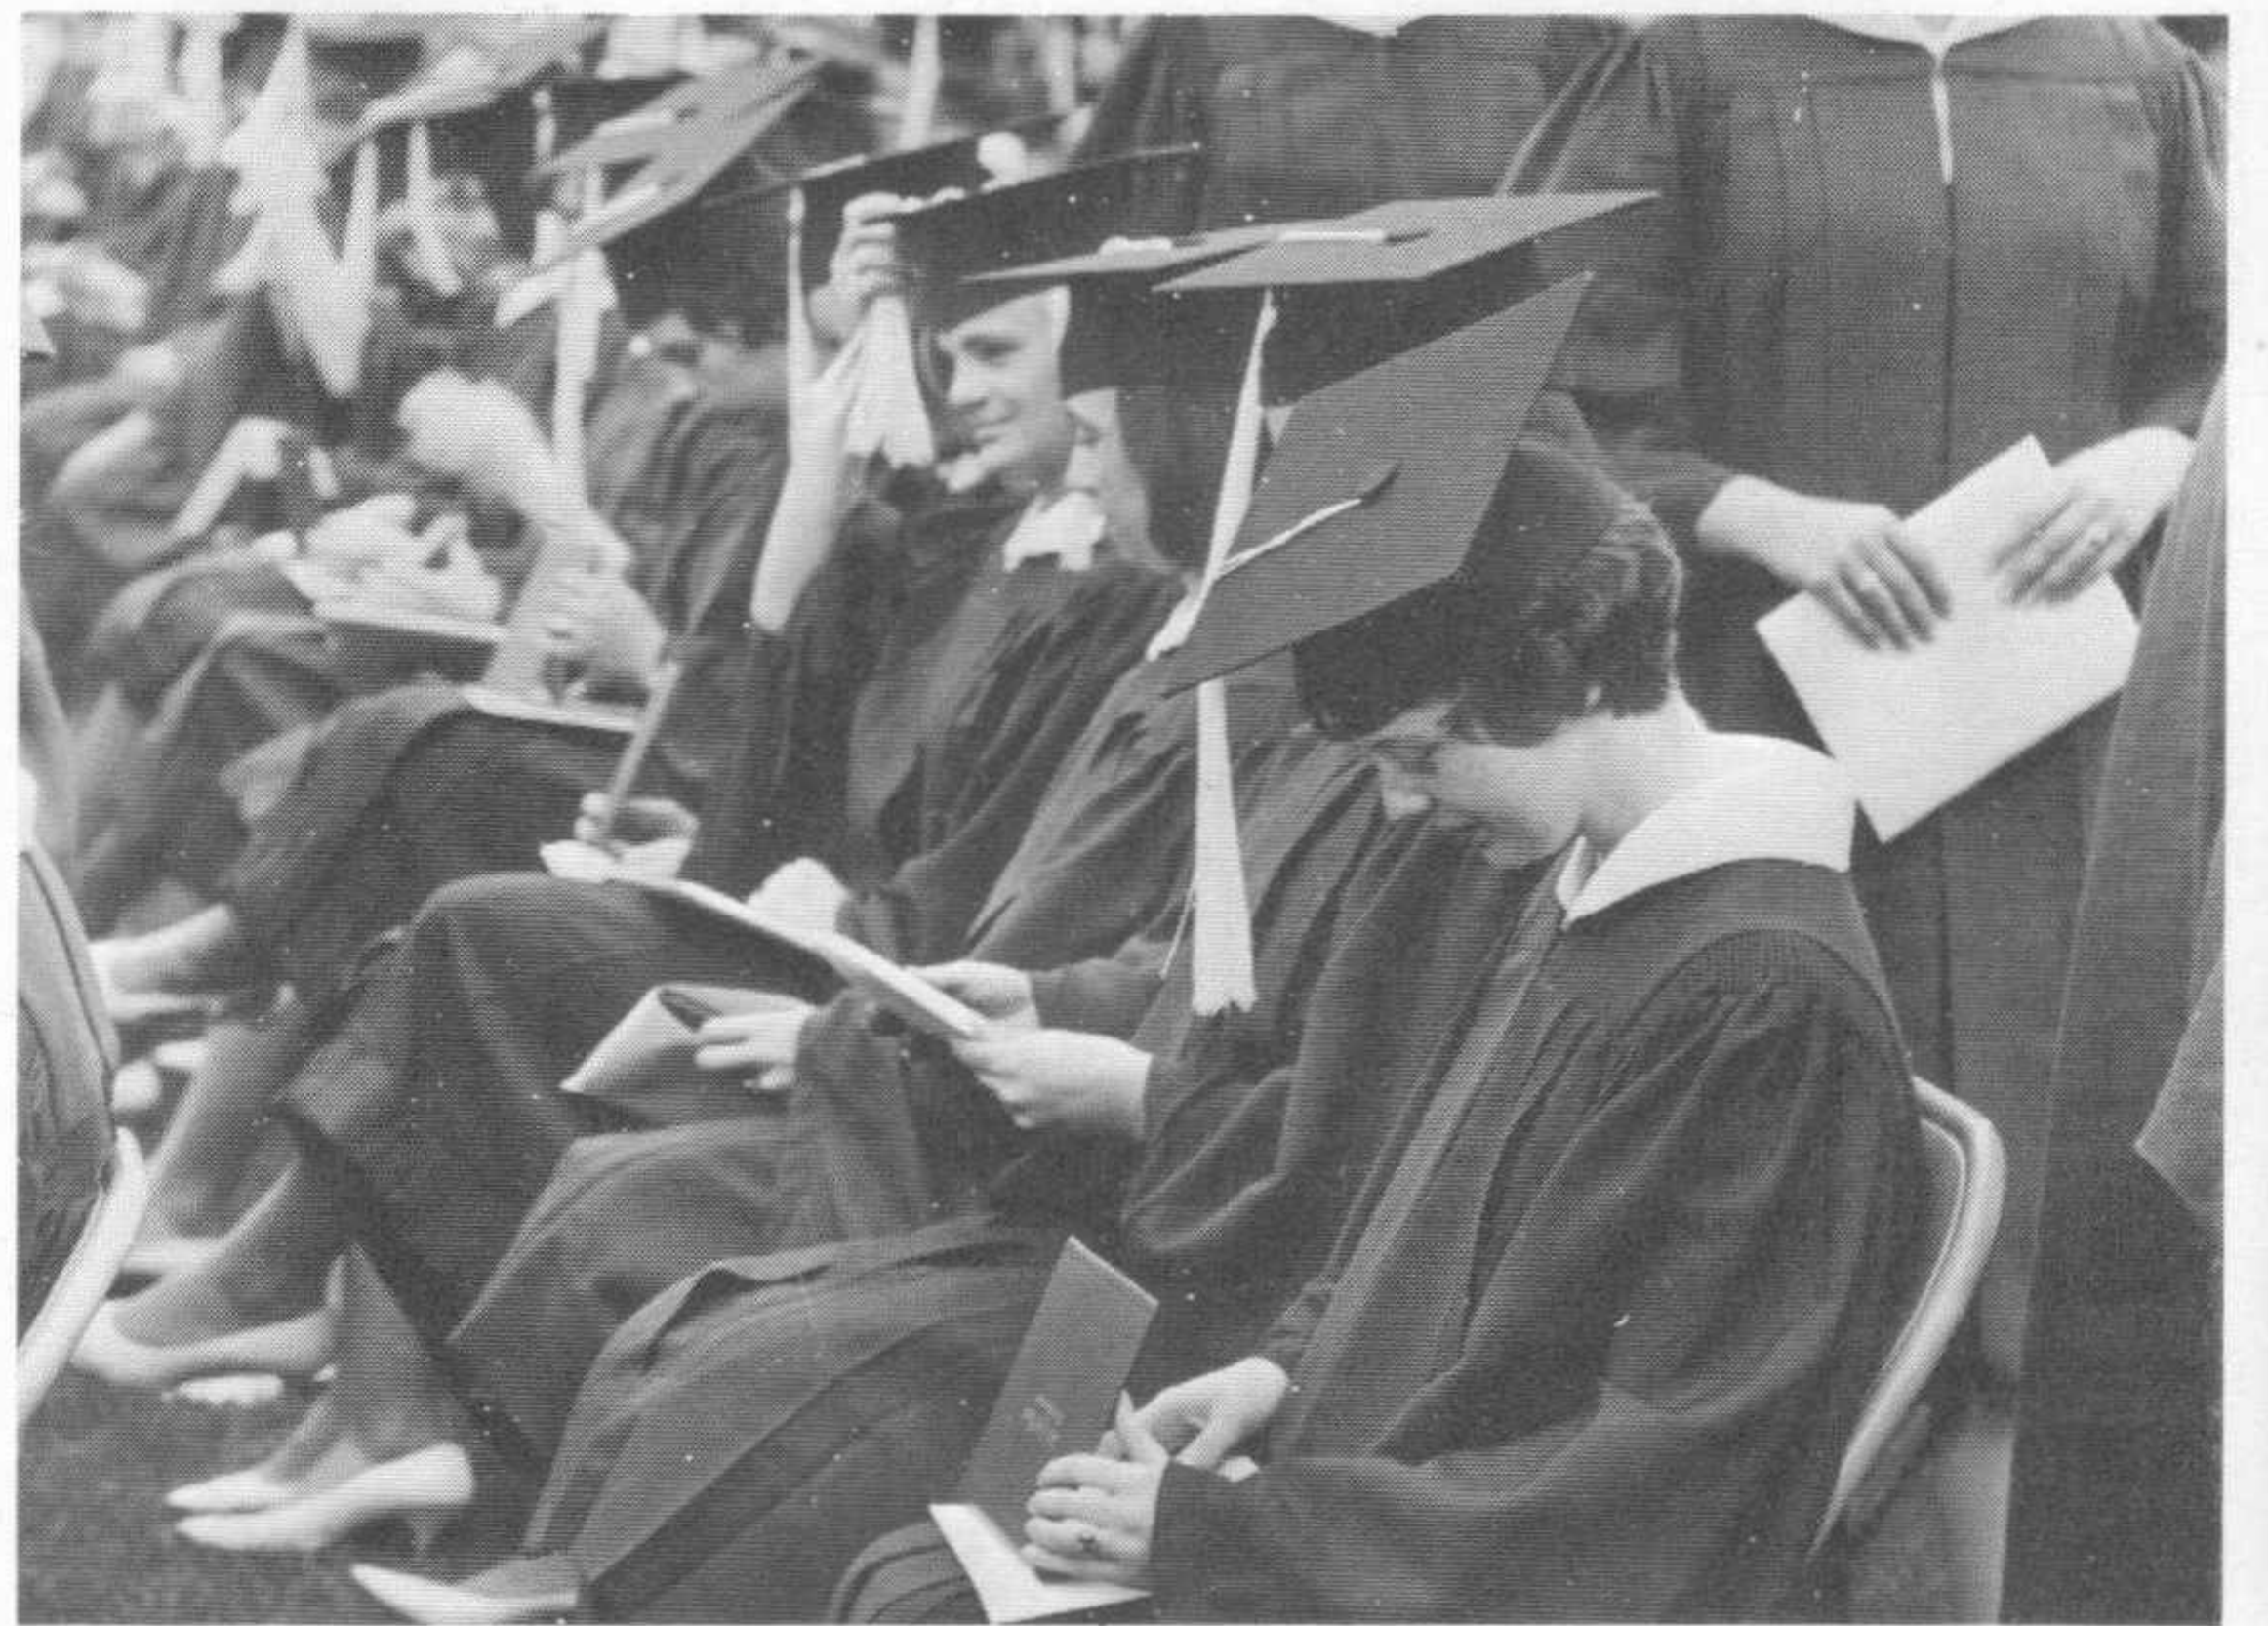

A.F.S.'ers, both U.S. and foreign, find themselves members of a "great net" of people the world over who know each other and with whom they never lose contact. The students form lasting bonds with their foster families. One boy upon parting from his "parents" received a simple gift, a large key, with the note attached "to our home and our hearts, forever". The students learn the feeling of humanity. As one returnee put it, "I know that I am a member of the whole huge family of mankind". Many continue to work actively in the A.F.S. and most resolve to dedicate a good part of the remainder of their lives to striving for peace, as Alicia has told me she hopes to do. In line with this the returning foreign students are forming a good percentage of the young leadership in their various countries and this seems a good omen for international good will.

To all the problems we have discussed in this short time — whether it is defeating discrimination and prejudice, achieving disarmament and lasting peace, or educating, feeding and clothing the needy peoples of the world, the solution is known. It merely remains to put it into effect. The ancient Sanskrit gives the formula: "Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth; then and only then, shall ye have peace."

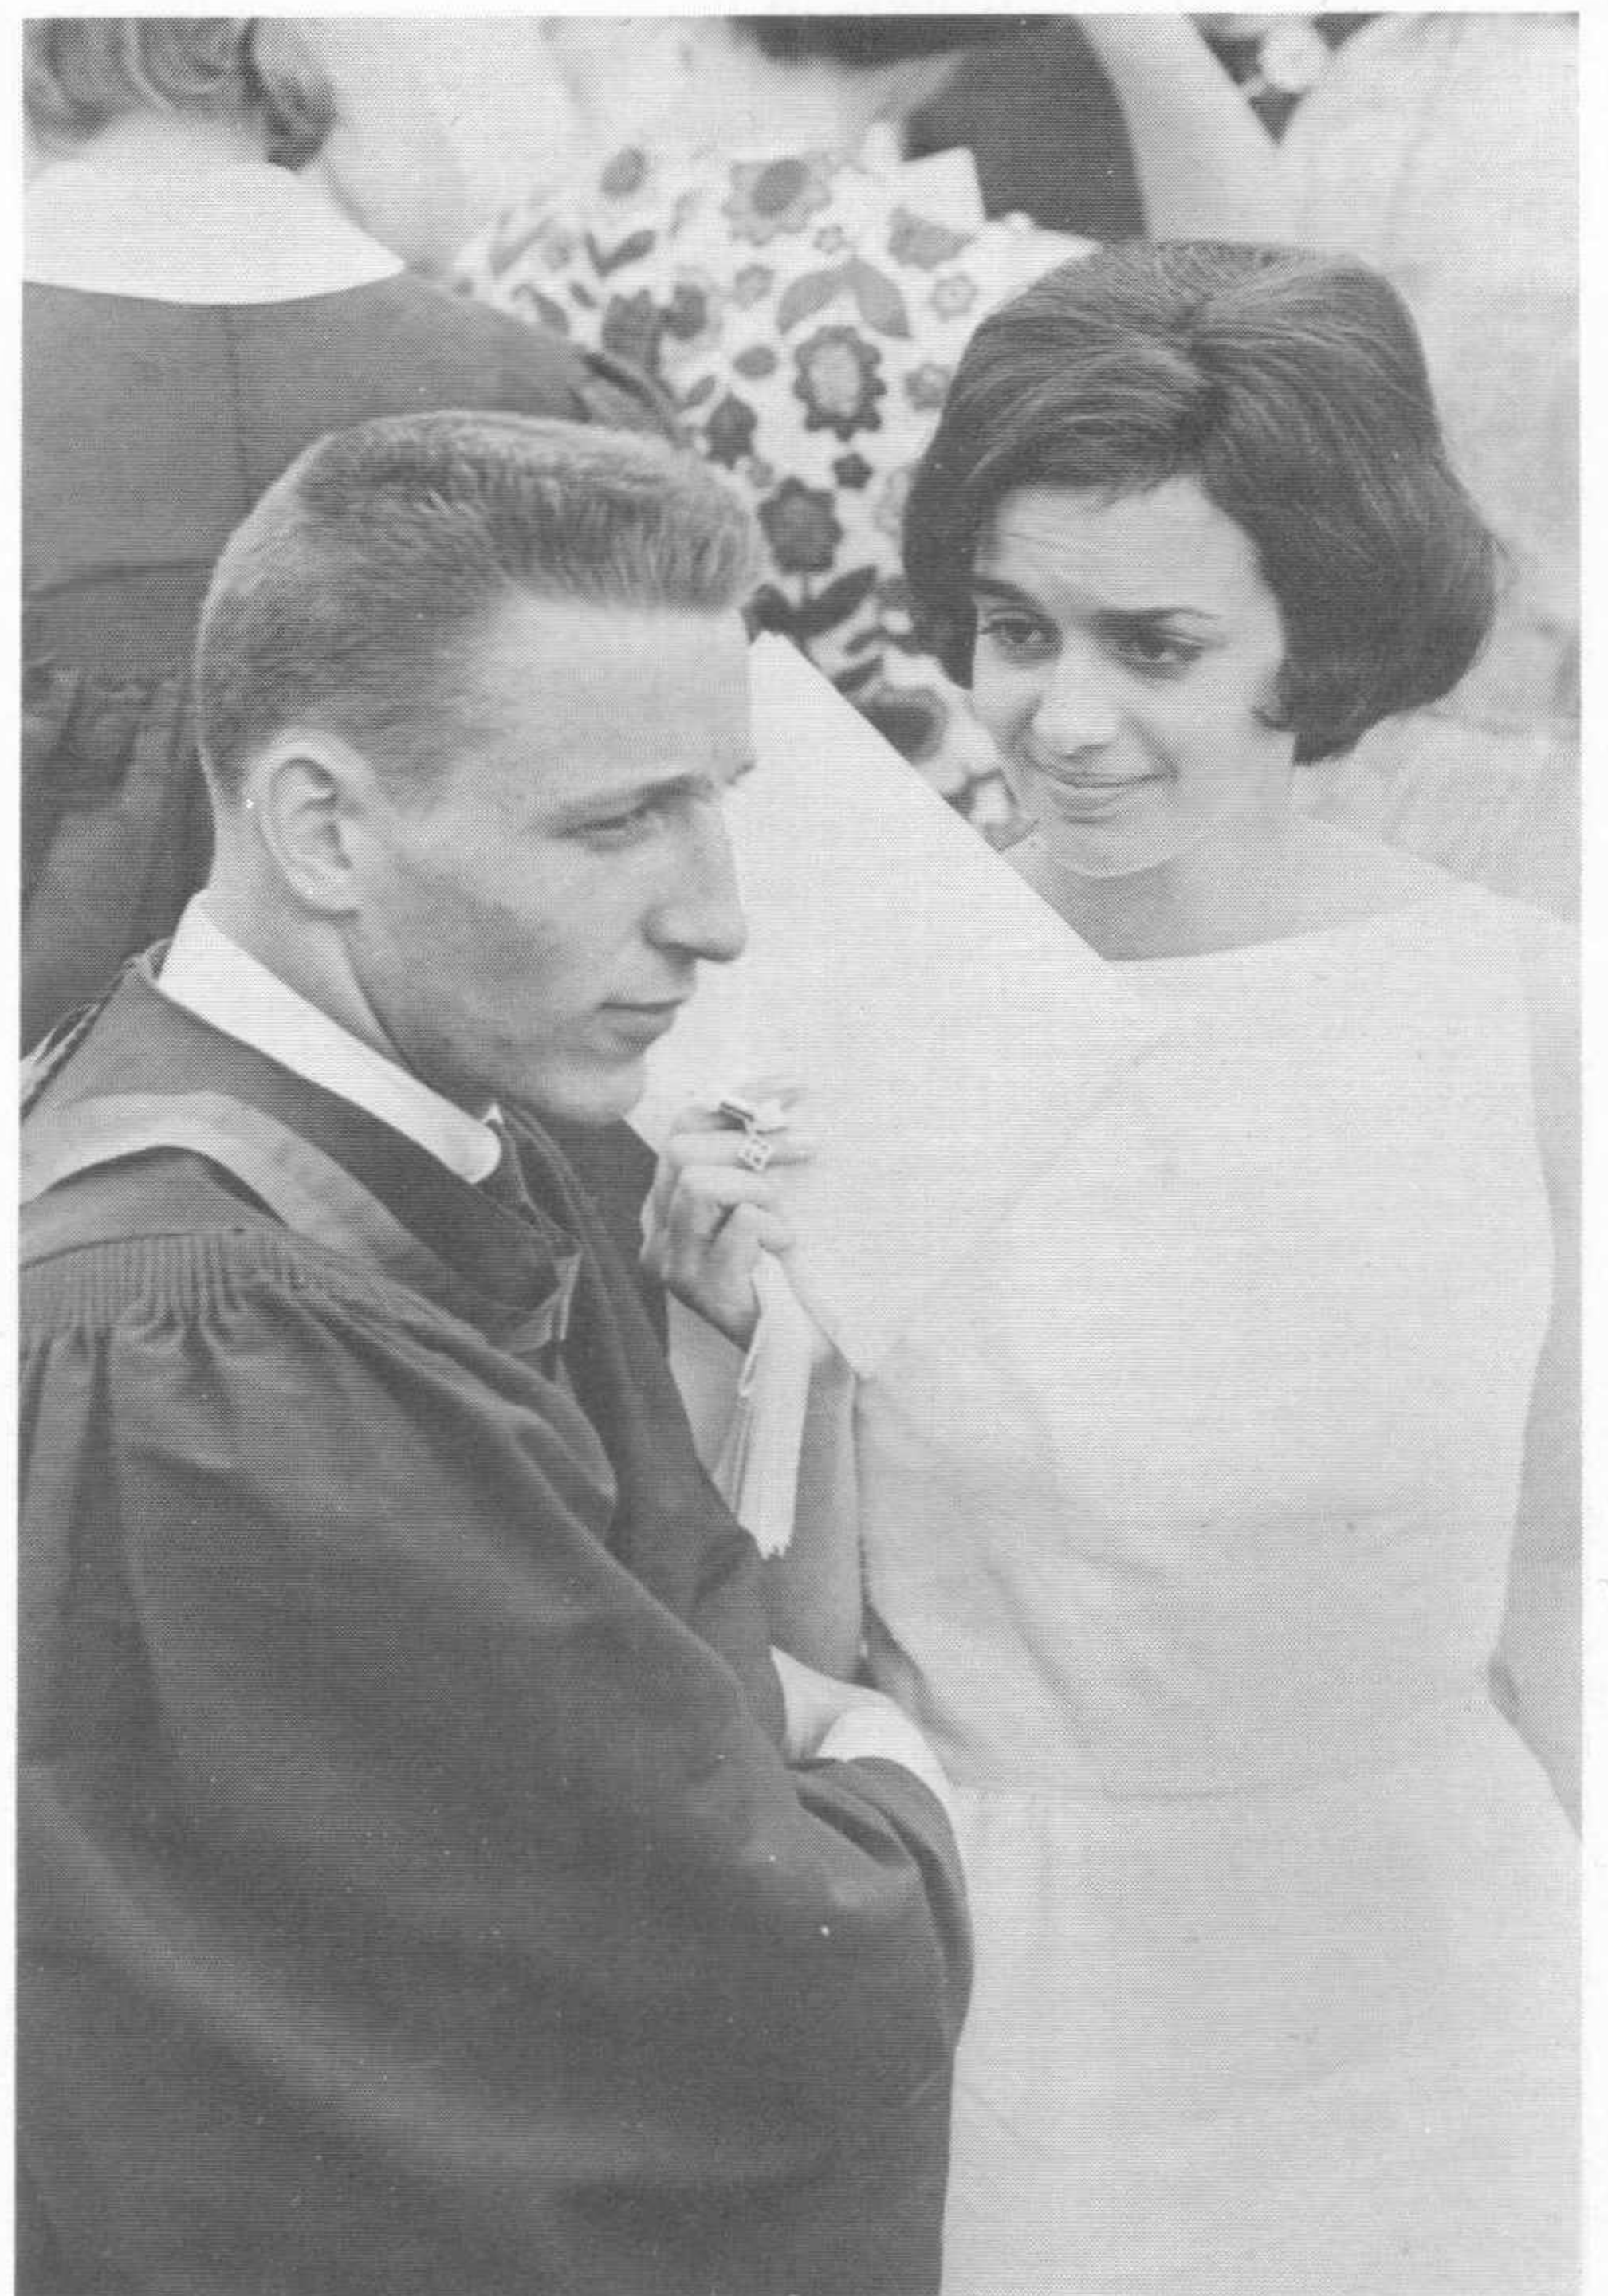

Andrew McGinnis 1964

This book,
a part of our high school years, must also
end. As Natick High served to unite us in body and spirit may this Sassamon unite us in memory.
Farewell
